AND ON THE TRADE OF CHITTAGONG AND THE ORISSA PORTS,

FOR THE YEAR 1889-90.

CHAPTER I.

EXPLANATION OF THE SYSTEM OF REGISTRATION.

THIS report, the fourteenth of its kind published by the Government of Bengal since the year 1876-77, deals with the trade registered during the official year 1889-90 on the rivers and canals of the Lower Provinces of Bengal, with the inland trade of Calcutta, and with the trade, inland and sea-borne, of Chittagong and the Orissa ports. It is based on the returns and reports noted on the margin. Statistics relative to the rail-borne traffic of these provinces since 1884-85 are reviewed in a separate report, entitled the "Report on the Rail-borne Traffic of Bengal."

1. Fortnightly returns of traffic carried by country-boats along the Bhagiruthee, the Jellinghee, and the Matabhanga, commonly called the Nuddea rivers.
2. Fortnightly returns of traffic carried by country-boats on the Midnapore, Hidgellee, and Orissa canals, and the Orissa Coast Canal.
3. Fortnightly returns of traffic carried to, and from, Calcutta by country-boats and carts registered at a cordon of 25 stations around Calcutta and Howrah.
4. Monthly statements of traffic carried along the Brahmaputra and Megna rivers by the steamers of the India General Steam Navigation Company and the Rivers Steam Navigation Company.
5. Quarterly statements of traffic carried on the Megna river by the steamers of the Eastern Bengal State Railway.
6. Monthly statements of traffic carried along the Ganges, the Bhagiruthee, the Jellinghee, and the Hooghly rivers to, and from, Calcutta by the steamers of the India General Steam Navigation Company and the Calcutta Steam Navigation Company.
7. Quarterly statements of traffic carried by country-boats between Bengal and Assam registered at Bhoyrub Bazar on the Megna river and at Dhubri on the Brahmaputra.
8. Monthly and quarterly returns of traffic carried to, and from, Calcutta by the East Indian Railway, the Eastern Bengal State Railway, and connected lines.
9. Annual statements of the sea-borne trade of Calcutta.
10. Annual statements of the inland and sea-borne trade of Chittagong.
11. Annual statements of the sea-borne trade of Balasore, Pooree, and Cuttack.
12. Quarterly, half-yearly, and annual statements showing the wholesale prices per maund of all articles of trade received from 12 selected district officers, and also from the Collector of Customs, Calcutta, and the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces.
13. General Administration Reports submitted to Government by Commissioners of Divisions.
14. Special reports on trade submitted to Government by district officers.
15. Annual statement of the sea-borne trade and navigation of the Bengal Presidency published by the Collector of Customs, Calcutta.
16. Annual Report by the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces, on the administration of the Salt Department.
17. Special reports submitted to Government by the local officers on the condition of the trade on the Nuddea rivers, the Calcutta, Midnapore, Hidgellee, and Orissa canals, and the Orissa Coast Canal.

During the year under report no change was made in the system under which the internal trade of the province is registered on some of the rivers and canals, and the mode of registration of the trade of Calcutta, Chittagong, and the Orissa ports also remained unaltered.

Trade along the chief routes.

2. The statistics which are furnished in Chapters II to IX of this report include—

The boat traffic registered on the Nuddea rivers.

The boat and steamer traffic registered on the Brahmaputra and Megna rivers.

The steamer traffic on the Ganges, the Bhagiruthee, the Jellinghee, and the Hooghly rivers.

The boat traffic registered on the Midnapore and Hidgellee canals.

The boat traffic registered on the Orissa canals and the Orissa Coast Canal.

The boat traffic registered on the Calcutta canals.

3. The boat traffic on the Brahmaputra and Megna rivers which crosses from Bengal into Assam and vice versâ is registered at Bhoyrub Bazar and Dhubri under arrangements made by the Assam Administration, and the figures thus obtained have, as usual, been incorporated with the statistics now submitted. The boat traffic on these rivers which does not cross from one province to another is unregistered. The steamers plying on the Brahmaputra and Megna rivers between Bengal and Assam belong to the India General Steam Navigation Company, the Rivers Steam Navigation Company, and the Eastern Bengal State Railway.

The steamers of the India General Steam Navigation Company continued to ply on the Ganges between Calcutta and the North-Western Provinces during the year under report. No steps have yet been taken to register the intermediate trade; but in order to render the statistics of the trade of Calcutta as complete as possible, particulars of the traffic carried by these steamers to and from Calcutta since 1886-87 have been regularly obtained from the steamer offices, and statistics for those years are embodied in this report.

The steamers of the Calcutta Steam Navigation Company run between Calcutta and marts in the Burdwan, Midnapore, Hooghly, Nuddea, and Moorshedabad districts, and statistics of this trade also for the past three years have been obtained by Government from the records of the Company, and are published in this report.

The acknowledgments of the Lieutenant-Governor are again due to the Agents of all the Companies above named for the courtesy with which they have invariably permitted their trade statistics to be used by Government.

Trade of large towns and commercial centres.

4. The inland trade of Calcutta, and the inland and sea-borne trade of Chittagong and of the Orissa ports, is described separately in Chapters X to XII. The entire inland traffic of Calcutta, imports as well as exports, carried by rail, by river steamer, by boat, and by road, is shown in this report. Comparative figures relating to the sea-borne trade of Calcutta in all the articles enumerated in the returns of internal trade are also given, but the sea-borne trade of Calcutta, coasting and foreign, is more fully dealt with in the annual report of the sea-borne trade and navigation of the Bengal Presidency published by the Collector of Customs, Calcutta. As regards the chief staples, the details furnished show how the imports into Calcutta by sea are distributed over the country, and from what parts of India the goods exported by sea came. The boat and road traffic of Calcutta is registered by means of a cordon of registering stations, 25 in number, placed on the Hooghly and on the canals and roads around Calcutta and the Suburbs and Howrah. For Chittagong, the returns exhibit the sea-borne trade, foreign and coasting, as well as that carried by country-boats, while for the Orissa ports the sea-borne trade only is registered.

Classification of commodities.

5. The classification of articles followed in this report is that which was prescribed in the revised list referred to in paragraph 6 of the report for 1887-88, and is in accord with the classification list which is adopted for the registration of the rail-borne trade of India.

6. For the year 1889-90 the values of all the articles of trade specified in the valuation statement appended have been assigned according to the revised system explained in the report for 1887-88, i.e., Valuation of commodities.

(1) For the following articles of European merchandise exported inland the value rates have been obtained from the Calcutta Custom House invoices: —

Cotton twist and yarn, European.			Oil ...	Kerosine.
Dyes ...	Aniline.		Paper and pasteboard.
Leather ...	Manufactured.		Salt.
Liquors ...	Beer. Wines. Spirits.		Silk, raw ...	Foreign.
			Do. piece-goods ...	Do.
Metals ...	Copper, unwrought. Brass, ditto. Copper, wrought. Brass, ditto. Iron.		Spices ...	Betelnuts. Pepper. Cardamoms.
			Sugar ...	Refined.
			Tea ...	Foreign.
			Wool, manufactured	European.

(2) In the case of opium and other intoxicating drugs and chemicals the actual cost of the articles as manufactured for Government or the trade, as the case may be, has been obtained from the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces, and adopted.

(3) For articles included under the sub-head "Others," value rates have been ascertained once for all and standard rates adopted.

(4) For the other articles enumerated in the classification list, the value rates have been fixed on the basis of local prices from selected districts, and of prices prevailing in the chief markets.

7. In the trade returns for all articles of import into Calcutta from British provinces, the value rates of the exporting provinces have been taken, while in the case of exports from Calcutta the value rates have been assigned according to the valuation statement mentioned above, which has also been adopted in the valuation of the internal trade, import and export, of the Lower Provinces of Bengal.

CHAPTER II.

GENERAL SUMMARY OF THE SEASONS AND RESULTS OF THE HARVESTS AND NOTICE OF PRICES.

General summary of the seasons.

THE rainfall during the year was in excess of that of the previous year in the Rajshahye, Dacca, and Patna Divisions, ample in the Bhagulpore and Orissa Divisions, and less than that of last year in the other Divisions. Its distribution, however, was not generally favourable to agriculture, being insufficient at ploughing and sowing time, abundant in July, August, and September, and heavy and unseasonable in November.

The unusually heavy rain in November caused floods and inundations in parts of the Burdwan, Presidency, Rajshahye, Dacca, Patna, Bhagulpore, and Chota Nagpore Divisions, which damaged the winter crops. At the end of July a breach occurred in the Bhagiruthee embankment in the Moorshedabad district, and the floods injured the rice and other crops to some extent in the Nuddea and Moorshedabad districts. In the Cuttack district a cyclonic storm in November seriously damaged the cold-weather crops.

Food-grains and oilseeds.

2. Notwithstanding the injury done by drought and inundations, the yield of the principal crops was on the whole larger than in the preceding year. The rice harvest for the whole province averaged 13 annas, against 10 annas in 1888-89; in the Chittagong district the outturn was 19 annas, in the Beerbhoom district 18 annas, in the Bogra and Durbhunga districts 17 annas each, and in the Howrah, 24-Pergunnahs, Dinagepore, Noakhally, Tipperah, Chumparun, Maldah, Hazaribagh, and Manbhoom districts it was an average crop. The wheat harvest in the Patna Division was better than in 1888-89, while the average for the Bhagulpore Division was the same as in the previous year, viz. 10 annas; in the districts of Sarun and Chumparun an average crop was reaped, in each of the other districts of the Patna Division and in the districts of Maldah and Monghyr the outturn ranged from 12 annas to 14 annas. Pulses yielded a fair average outturn in Behar, but not in Bengal, excepting the Chittagong Division, where the average was 15 annas. The yield of oilseeds was below the average in consequence of floods and east winds and fogs. Mustard "was a very fine crop" in Bogra, and in the Chota Nagpore Division it was exceptionally good, especially in the districts of Hazaribagh and Manbhoom. In Purneah mustard as well as other oilseeds gave an abundant outturn, but in the Maldah district the crop was damaged by insects.

Other crops.

The average outturn of jute in the two largest producing tracts, viz. the Rajshahye and Dacca Divisions, was the same as in 1888-89, viz. 12 annas in each; but in the Tipperah district a bumper (17-anna) crop was obtained; in the 24-Pergunnahs it was "good," and in the Kissengunge subdivision of the Purneah district the crop gave a 14-anna outturn. The outturn of indigo in the Patna Division was generally below the average, and in the Bhagulpore Division the season was unfavourable, a little more than half an average crop being obtained in the Purneah district; in the Presidency and Burdwan Divisions there was an increase in produce, while in the Rajshahye Division the cultivation was in a languid condition. The poppy crop in the Patna Division promised well, but the yield of juice fell off owing to early west winds, which dried it up, and the outturn was consequently very poor. The outturn of sugarcane in the Patna Division was in excess of, and in the Rajshahye Division below that of, last year. The tobacco crop in the Rajshahye Division and in the Durbhunga district was larger than in the previous year: in the Rungpore district it yielded an average crop.

3. The following statement shows the estimated outturn of some of the principal crops, Division by Division, during the past three years :—

5. The cotton crop was slightly better than in the previous year, and there was also a good demand for the article in the Calcutta market, which accounts for the rise in its price. The quality of the indigo crop generally was not good, and prices, except for certain special kinds, were below those of 1888-89. About the close of the year prices were also affected unfavourably by the tightness of money and the sudden rise in exchange. The outturn of jute was about the same as in the previous year. At the commencement of the season prices were high, but the attempts of speculators to force them higher failed : there was a drop in prices, and a large quantity of the raw material was thrown on the market. At the close of the season a rise in freights and exchange checked business. With a small margin for export, prices of rice and paddy were for a portion of the year extremely high, and this state of things continued until the new crop came in, when there was a heavy fall in prices. High prices also ruled for jowar and bajra and gram and pulse throughout the year. As in the previous year, so in the one under report, there was a short crop of stick lac, which restricted exports very largely and raised the prices of the manufactured stuffs much in advance of those of 1888-89. There was again a small crop of linseed, but prices being higher in sympathy with the home market, supplies were forthcoming which otherwise might have been kept back. In the case of poppy seed also there was a small crop, and prices ruled high. The high price for castor seed was caused by a strong demand for local crushing and short despatches from Madras to Calcutta. The increase in the price of ghee was due to a revival of the traffic, which during the preceding years was partially affected in consequence of alleged adulteration. There was, during the opening months of the year, a great advance in the price of sugar in Europe, which stimulated large exports by sea of both refined and unrefined sugar from Bengal, and this fact tended to keep up prices. The advance in the price of Indian tea is ascribed to the quality of the year's crop being decidedly better than in 1888-89. The tobacco crop was a fine one, and prices consequently ruled low.

7. The foregoing statement shows that very high prices prevailed for all sorts of food-grains in the Lower Provinces during the past calendar year. In comparison with the average price ruling in the three years ending with 1888, the rise in the price of wheat was 17·32 per cent., of barley 23·10 per cent., of best rice 16 82 per cent., of common rice 20·31 per cent., of marwa 12·76 per cent., of Indian corn 25·27 per cent., of gram 16·94 per cent., and of arhar 11·80 per cent. The following explanations have been given by the Commissioners of Divisions regarding the causes of fluctuations in the prices of food-grains during the past official year:—

Burdwan Division.—"It will be seen that though the year under report was one of high prices, due to the recurrence of bad harvests, the wages of labour remained almost stationary.

One district officer attributes this fact to the general improvement of communications and opening up of the country as tending to equalise prices by the conveyance of food and labour from places where it is plentiful to places where it is scarce. This theory applies, I think, to the prices of food, but does not materially affect the prices of labour. Trade is much more pushing and less conservative than labour. The latter has its guilds and traditions, and is much less affected by competition. The number of persons employed in mills, mines, and other European industries, and on public works, is a mere drop in the labour ocean, and does not appreciably affect the wages of village labourers. Custom, caste, and sentiment all affect them more or less. A cooly who would work for his landlord or for a Brahmin in his village for three annas a day would probably not work for the Public Works Department for less than four annas."

Presidency Division.—"It will be seen that the rise in the price of rice, which is the staple food of the people in this part of the country, has been marked in all the districts as compared with the two preceding years. The Collector of the 24-Pergunnahs explains that the food-crops of 1887-88 kept down prices in that year and the earlier part of 1888-89. Then followed a bad harvest, the full effect of which on prices was felt during the first month of 1889-90. A full crop was obtained in the succeeding cold season, and tended to improve the market for consumers, but large exportation to other parts of the country which had not been equally fortunate and suffered in common with this district in 1888-89, and the necessity for the renewal of stock previously depleted, prevented any great fall in the prices, which thus remained high till the close of the year as compared with those of the previous year. The rise in the other districts is attributed to the partial failure of crops and to the damage done by the floods. The fluctuations in the price of wheat and gram did not affect the people much, as these articles are not commonly consumed by them."

Rajshahye Division.—"Owing to deficient rainfall in 1888-89, resulting in a comparatively bad harvest, the prices of food-grains ruled higher than usual during the year under report."

Dacca Division.—"The price of common rice, the staple food of the people, was abnormally high all over the Division. In Dacca the average price was 13 seers 8 chittacks per rupee, against 18 seers 14 chittacks in 1888-89; in Furreedpore 12 seers 14 chittacks, against 19 seers 10 chittacks; in Backergunge 13 seers 5 chittacks, against 17 seers; and in Mymensingh 13 seers 4 chittacks, against 18 seers 12 chittacks in the previous year.

"The rise in the price of rice in Dacca and Furreedpore is partly due to short harvests of the district, but chiefly to the general rise of price in the neighbouring districts from which rice is imported. The short outturn of aus crop, combined with the large exportation from the district, raised the price in Backergunge. The same conditions prevailed in Mymensingh.

"The lowest prices recorded were in April in Dacca, in April and May in Mymensingh, and in December to February in Furreedpore and Backergunge. They rose gradually with the heavy rains of June and July, and were unusually high in September and October, when rice sold at 9 to 10 seers in Mymensingh, at a little over 11 seers in Dacca, and at about 12 seers in Backergunge."

Chittagong Division.—"Rice was everywhere dearer owing to the demand from the west and for export, which kept up prices."

Patna Division.—"The only extraordinary rise in prices was in Mozufferpore and Durbhunga, with regard to rice, where that crop failed. How far the high prices in other places were due to the failure of the crop and how far to combinations among the dealers, I am unable to say. Mr. Bourdillon, writing of Sarun, says:—'It is to be noted here that the local stocks have all along been as full as ever, though the prices have for some time ruled high. The dearness was chiefly due to a combination of the local bunniahs, who were watching the state of affairs in the distressed parts of Behar;' and he goes on to estimate from figures that Sarun consumed during the year 7,37,507 maunds of imported grain of all sorts in addition to what was produced locally. He proves from trade figures that it is an importing district, depending for its food more upon trade than agriculture.

"From Gya Mr. Grierson reports that during the scarcity the bunniahs combined to keep the price of rice exorbitantly high, that the rise in price was not a natural one: 'it was raised artificially for the sake of profit.' Mr. Grierson says that the order of Government prohibiting threats of Government importation of rice was a mistake, and he states that such threats made by him before the issue of the order had a great effect in keeping prices low.

"Both officers imply that if Government had imported rice, prices would have fallen. Possibly this may be true, but it is certain, I think, that owing to improved facilities for carriage, &c., the partial failure of the crops gave an impetus to trade, and that even where there was the greatest failure of the crop, the stock never fell so low as to bring prices down to famine point.

"The Collector of Durbhunga reports that, notwithstanding good harvests, the cheap rates for rice which prevailed in the north of his district before 1873-74 have never recurred; such prices of 26½ in the Sudder station and 27 seers in Madhubani are things of the past, and with all the facilities for export are not likely to occur again."

Bhagulpore Division.—"It will be noticed that prices generally were higher than in the preceding year and much higher than in 1887. The rise is marked in rice, which yielded a good outturn in the past year.

"The increase in the selling price must be attributed in this case to the depletion of stocks caused by the short harvests of previous years. As regards North Bhagulpore and the Sonthal Pergunnahs, the rise in prices is attributed to increased exportation."

Chota Nagpore Division.—"It will be observed that notwithstanding the generally favourable outturn of the past year's crops, the average prices of the chief staples were still much higher than those of 1887-88. The opening of the Bengal-Nagpur Railway, by facilitating exports from Manbhoom, Singbhoom, and parts of Lohardugga, has served to keep up prices in those districts. In Singbhoom the very great demand created by the railway employés, which until late in January had largely to be met from the resources of the district, also acted in the same direction. In Hazaribagh the prices of gram and wheat were very much the same as those which prevailed in the previous year. The fall in the price of rice was the result of good crops during the year. The difference between the averages of the two years is, however, very slight in consequence of the high prices which prevailed during the first few months of the year."

Orissa Division.—"There was everywhere a rise in the price of rice, but the rates in Cuttack were very high. The Collector of Cuttack remarks that the reserved food-stocks of former harvests were not plentiful, as large quantities of grains are exported from Cuttack every year, and the outturn of the last three years had been below the average; the prices were higher than in the year before. The Collector of Pooree states that although the year was one of high prices on the whole, this is due to the fact that the prices of the first seven or eight months were regulated by the crop of the previous year, while only the last four or five months show the effects of the fine harvest of the year under report. The average rate at Balasore was considerably affected by the low price of rice at Bhuddruck, where the average rate was 21·6 seers, while at Balasore it was 17·9 seers per rupee. The Collector observes that the fluctuations of prices in the mofussil were very marked."

8. Last year the average price of common rice for the whole province was 15 seers and 15 chittacks per rupee, against 19 seers in 1888, showing a considerable rise of 16·12 per cent. The following statement shows the different districts in which the price was below the average, as compared with the prices ruling in the year preceding:—

PRICES OF OTHER STAPLES.

9. In the year 1885-86 the net value of a maund of European cotton piece-goods of all sorts in the Lower Provinces was fixed at Rs. 63, and the manner in which this rate was arrived at was explained in paragraph 13 of Chapter II of that year's report. According to the Calcutta Custom House returns the fluctuations in the prices of this class of goods since that year are shown below :—

	Grey piece-goods. Per yard.		White piece-goods. Per yard.		Coloured, printed, and dyed piece-goods. Per yard.		Average price of all sorts of piece-goods. Per yard.
	As.	P.	As.	P.	As.	P.	As.	P.
1885-86 ...	1	8⅓	2	1½	2	1⅔	1	11⅓
1886-87 ...	1	8	1	11½	2	1	1	11
1887-88 ...	1	9⅓	2	3½	2	3	2	1⅓
1888-89 ...	1	10⅓	2	4	2	3½	2	2

As compared with 1885-86, the increase in the value of piece-goods at the close of 1888-89 was 2⅔ pies per yard, or 11·43 per cent. If the above rate of Rs. 63 be increased to this extent, the net value of a maund of these goods would amount to Rs. 70-3-2; but for the purposes of this report Rs. 70 have been adopted as representing the value per maund of such goods.

10. In the case of other articles of European merchandise exported inland, the prices of which have, since 1888-89, been based upon the Calcutta Custom House invoices, the fluctuations are as follows :—

		Fluctuations in price compared with 1888-89. Per cent.
Articles showing a rise in price ...	Leather, manufactured	48·35
	Paper and pasteboard	7·41
	Oil, kerosine	6·25

	Liquors, beer	6·48
	Do., wines	5·80
	Wool, manufactured, European	2·86
	Silk, raw, foreign	1·22

Leather, manufactured.

11. Under the heading Leather, manufactured, are included articles of European manufacture, such as shoes, saddlery, and other sorts imported into Calcutta by sea. The large increase in the rate for 1889-90 is due to the higher value of the articles imported during the year.

Paper and pasteboard.

The rise in the price of paper and pasteboard is chiefly due to the value of writing-paper and envelopes being more than 21 per cent. higher than in the previous year. The average value of pasteboard, millboard, &c., also showed an advance of 14·9 per cent., and that of printing-paper of 2·8 per cent.

Kerosine oil

The increase under kerosine oil is attributed partly to the great development of the traffic, and partly to the fact that in March last native merchants, who held large stocks of kerosine oil at Budge-Budge, formed a ring to keep up the price and restricted despatches.

Cardamoms.

The increase under cardamoms is due chiefly to the higher value of this article in Ceylon, the imports from which were valued at anna 1-4 per lb., or 4·8 per cent. higher than in 1888-89. The advance in the case of the other articles is below 5 per cent., and needs no explanation.

Copper, wrought and unwrought.

12. The fall in the price of unwrought and wrought copper is the result of the collapse of the Copper Syndicate in France, referred to in paragraph 5 of Chapter X of the last report. Regarding unwrought copper, the Collector of Customs, Calcutta, remarks that "the normal supplies for one year and the back supplies which had been kept over by the heavy price have, after the fall in price, come in together."

Foreign tea.

Foreign tea is now at a discount in the Calcutta market, and hence the falling off in the price of this article. The Customs Report for 1889-90 shows that "China tea cannot compete here with the cheap Indian tea in the general market, and the small quantity imported is chiefly for the use of Jews and Parsees." The decline in the price of foreign silk piece-goods is in sympathy with the heavy fall of 44½ per cent. in the importation of these goods. Regarding pepper, it is stated that the increase in imports has caused a considerable fall in price during the year. The decline in the price of beer and wines is merely a trade fluctuation. In the case of opium and other intoxicating drugs, i.e., ganja, bhang, and charus, the value rates show a rise of 14·09 and 4·55 per cent., respectively, as compared with the previous year. The rates have been fixed in communication with the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces, and are based on the actual cost price of these articles, exclusive of excise duty.

13. There remains now to explain the fluctuations in the prices of the following articles, mentioned in the valuation list appended to this report:—

14. Regarding the rise in the price of Indian silk piece-goods, the Collector of Customs, Calcutta, explains that "there was an advance in the average price from ans. 15-2 to Re. 1-0-5 per yard, probably due to the higher price of silk generally." In page 2 of the memorandum enclosed in their circular No. $\frac{12}{38-1}$ Stats., dated the 19th February 1890, the Government of India remarked that the rates given for cotton and woollen piece-goods of Indian manufacture, and for certain other articles in the valuation statement appended to last year's Trade Report of Bengal, were higher than the value rates returned by any of the other provinces. A special enquiry was therefore made concerning them. The result in respect of cotton goods shows that the rate given for 1888-89 was correct, and the figures furnished for 1889-90 are even higher than those of the previous year by 16·36 per cent., as shown below:—

Indian silk piece-goods.

Cotton piece-goods, Indian.

	Price per maund.		Price per maund.		Price per maund.

Bankoora ...	80	Patna ...	59		—
Nuddea ...	168	Mozufferpore ...	42	Average ...	128
Rajshahye ...	240	Bhagulpore ...	53		—

The Calcutta rate has been fixed upon the assumption that the proportion of the trade in the lowest quality of goods is 90 per cent., and that in the best quality 10 per cent. In Rajshahye, which shows the next highest figure, the percentage of the lowest quality is calculated at 90, that of the middle quality at 6, and that of the highest quality at 4. In other provinces the rates given for Indian cotton piece-goods range from Rs. 38 to Rs. 65 per maund. In point of fact these rates cannot compare with the rate in Bengal, where specially finer qualities are largely manufactured by hand-weavers, and their prices, as a rule, are also generally very high—nearly double the price of European cotton piece-goods.

Saltpetre.

The trade in saltpetre was brisk during the year, and the exports by sea were the highest since 1885-86. The Customs report states that "there was an advance in the price of saltpetre during the year, but not a heavy one," which is verified by the figures shown above.

Horns.

There was a good demand for horns in the Calcutta market for exportation by sea, which accounts for the increase in price during the past year.

Raw wool and castor oil.

The increase in the case of raw wool was due to the high price of this article in the Patna market, where the rate during the past year was Rs. 14 per maund, against Rs. 11-12 per maund in the year preceding. The following extract from the Customs Report for 1889-90 explains the fluctuation in the price of castor oil:—

"There was generally throughout the year a fairly good demand for this oil, especially at certain periods, for export to the United Kingdom and to Australia. Prices rose, and at the close of the year, as compared with the beginning, the quotations for castor oil show a material advance. There was a short supply of seed at times, but the higher prices of the oil attracted supplies chiefly from up-country, as the importations from the Madras Presidency fell very heavily, the following being the figures for the past three years:—

	Cwts.		Cwts.		Cwts.
1887-88 ...	458,166	1888-89 ...	396,368	1889-90 ...	101,142

Gunny bags and cloth and Indian cotton twist and yarn.

The rise in the price of gunny bags and cloth is due to the combination amongst the mills to keep up prices by working short time. Regarding the advance in the price of cotton twist and yarn (Indian), the Collector of Customs, Calcutta, writes:—

"There has been a decline in the importation of yarn from coast ports of 282,000 pounds. Bombay has, however, sent a larger quantity than in any previous year, being slightly in advance of 1888-89. With smaller importations the total value will be seen to be about 1 lakh in advance of the previous year, owing, no doubt, to a higher level of prices."

Turmeric.

Regarding turmeric, prices were slightly higher than in the previous year, but this had no effect in attracting supplies from coast ports.

Skins.

The rise in price under "skins of sheep," &c., is thus explained in the Customs Report:—"With no special demand for skins, though supplies were small, prices were for some time low, but they recovered afterwards when the demand set in, especially in respect of the finer qualities."

15. Now as regards the articles in which there was a fall in price. With reference to the Government of India's remarks contained in the memorandum cited above, special enquiry was made in respect of the rates quoted by local officers regarding Indian woollen piece-goods, and the result shows that the value rates given for 1888-89 were excessive. For the year 1889-90 the average value of this class of goods has been fixed at Rs. 68 per maund: the details are as follow:—

Woollen piece-goods, Indian.

	Price per maund.
	Rs.
Calcutta	173
Patna	40
Mozufferpore	31
Bhagulpore	30
Average price ...	68

In fixing the Calcutta rate, it has been assumed that of the different articles classed under this head blankets comprise 70 per cent., dhoosa 15 per cent., malida 10 per cent., alwan 3 per cent., and Rampore chudder 2 per cent. In other provinces the price shown ranges from Rs. 50 to Rs. 60 per maund, which compares favourably with the rate fixed in Bengal for the year under report.

Myrabolams.

There was a sudden revival in the exports by sea of myrabolams during the past year, and the Customs Collector writes:—"I should attribute the larger exports from Calcutta to the very low price of myrabolams here, the average being only Rs. 2-9 per cwt., which was very much below the average price of previous years." The heading "Silk, raw (Indian)" includes chussum and cocoons, in both of which there were decreases in the exports from Calcutta. The Collector of Customs, Calcutta, remarks:—"There was at certain periods of the year a good demand for raw silk, and prices advanced owing to unfavourable reports of the European crop of silk. The average price of raw silk came so to be slightly higher than in the previous year." Concerning raw hides, it is stated that supplies were scanty for the greater part of the year, and there were fluctuations in prices, though not considerable ones.

The falling off in the gross weight of goods registered was 4·56 per cent. as compared with 1888-89 and 10 72 per cent. in comparison with 1887-88. As regards the down traffic, there was a decrease of 6.18,203 maunds as compared with the figures of 1888-89 and of 10,67,079 maunds as compared with those of 1887-88. The upward traffic, however, showed a recovery, the quantity carried during the past year being 2,14,931 maunds in advance of that of 1888-89, and only slightly in excess of that of 1887-88. The condition of the Bhagiruthee river is still unsatisfactory; the Collector of Tolls writes:—

"The traffic of the Bhagiruthee river during the past year has been less than that of any of the preceding years. For some years now there has been a steady decline, roughly from 2 to 3 lakhs of maunds per year, and it now carries barely half the trade it used to in former years. The cause of the falling off may be due to (1) this river silting up and the Jellinghee opening out, and (2) the Railway (East Indian Railway) becoming more popular and increasing its facilities for conveying goods, taking away a larger share of the trade from this river."

As regards the Matabhanga river, the decrease in the traffic is said to be due to the increased competition of the additional steamer services and that of the Eastern Bengal State Railway.

2. As compared with the previous year, the articles which contributed most to the decrease in the downward traffic were food-grains (8,30,280 maunds), linseed (2,65,877 maunds), raw jute (1,69,557 maunds), gunnies (2,61,842 bags), and miscellaneous saline substances (14,776 maunds); while the staples which showed the largest increase were mustard seed (2,65,584 maunds) and timber (1,12,485 maunds). In the upward trade the chief rise was in paddy (91,880 maunds) and coal and coke (63,447 maunds), against a decrease of 38,168 maunds under salt and of 37,330 pieces under gunny bags.

The number of laden boats, the cargoes of which were registered during the past three years, is shown in the subjoined table :—

The details of the Calcutta trade, which are shown in the foregoing statement, will be separately dealt with in Chapter X of this report, and the following paragraphs notice briefly the chief articles of traffic by this route.

4. Jute, raw.—The jute crop was rather later than usual. The total traffic during the past year showed a decrease of 1,69,557 maunds in comparison with that of 1888 89, but the figures are very close to those of 1887-88. The chief falling off is observable in the quantities carried along the Jellinghee river, owing to smaller shipments from Dulalgunge, where there were abnormal floods during the past year. The decrease on the Matabhanga route is said to have been caused by the increased competition of the steamer and Eastern Bengal State Railway services. Excluding the supplies carried to Calcutta, there remained 2,18,178 maunds, of which 1,93,402 maunds were carried to Bhuddressur from Dulalgunge, against 2,64,200 maunds in 1888-89 and 1,81,430 maunds in 1887-88. Last year the quantity of raw jute carried to Calcutta by this route was 4·48 per cent. of the imports by all routes, against 5·09 per cent. in the previous year.

5. Wheat.—There has been a steady falling off in the quantity of wheat carried down stream during the past three years, as will be seen from the abstract below:—

So far as the Behar districts are concerned, the shipments from Monghyr alone fell off by 66,052 maunds, and those from Bhagulpore and Sarun by 50,335 maunds and 38,271 maunds, respectively.

Nuddea, in Eastern Bengal, contributed 78,133 maunds less than in the preceding year, while the supplies from Maldah in the Northern Bengal block aggregated only 72,569 maunds against 1,14,517 maunds, showing a decrease of 41,948 maunds. During the year 1889-90 the total supply of wheat shipped for Calcutta by this route was 15·84 per cent. of the total imports, against 79·22 per cent. attracted to the East Indian Railway and 1·56 per cent. to the Eastern Bengal State Railway.

6. Gram and pulse.—Under this head a decrease is shown of 2,35,150 maunds and 2,68,950 maunds as compared with 1888-89 and 1887-88, respectively. The several trade blocks which contributed to the trade during the past two years are shown in the subjoined statement:—

There was a considerable falling off in the exports from the Nuddea district, which supplied only 34,779 maunds, against 61,957 maunds in the previous year. From Monghyr shipments fell off from 1,08,768 maunds to 43,531 maunds, while in the consignments from the Moorshedabad and Rajshahye districts the figures showed a decrease of 37,098 maunds and 27,178 maunds, respectively.

Of the past year's traffic, the supply brought down to Calcutta was 9,14,019 maunds, and the remainder (11,388 maunds) was delivered in small quantities at the different marts in Moorshedabad (3,952 maunds), Burdwan (3,594 maunds), Nuddea (2,260 maunds), Hooghly (1,315 maunds), and other places (267 maunds). The quantity of gram and pulse carried downwards along the Nuddea rivers represented 25·31 per cent. of the total import traffic of Calcutta in these cereals, against 28·61 per cent. in 1888-89.

7. Other spring and rain crops.—There was a further large increase in this trade in comparison with the figures of the preceding two years. The statement below shows the different trade blocks from which the supply was derived during the past two years.

There was an improvement in the supplies drawn from all the exporting districts, notably from Moorshedabad, which showed an increase of 22,197 maunds, and from Patna (14,755 maunds), Maldah (13,564 maunds), Nuddea (12,005 maunds), and Bhagulpore (7,661 maunds). This trade was for the most part with Calcutta.

8. Rice and paddy.—There was a very heavy decline in the trade in rice carried down stream during the past year, as the following table will show:—

	1887-88.	1888-89.	1889-90.
	Mds.	Mds.	Mds.

The figures under rice showed a decrease of 35·29 per cent. on the returns of 1888-89 and of 32·88 per cent. on those of 1887-88, but as regards paddy there was a large increase. The distribution of the exports of rice during the past two years is classified by trade blocks in the subjoined statement:—

The largest decrease occurred in the supplies exported from Western Bengal, the district of Burdwan alone contributing 1,72,005 maunds less than in the previous year. Of the Northern-Bengal districts, the largest falling off is observable in the consignments from Dinagepore (99,119 maunds) and Bogra (39,729 maunds). The total quantity shipped for Calcutta was 6,23,761 maunds of rice and 1,200 maunds of paddy, and the distribution of the remaining 15,943 maunds of rice and 24,478 maunds of paddy is illustrated in the following statement:—

Last year the quantity of rice carried to Calcutta by this route was 4·68 per cent. of the total imports by all routes, against 6·22 per cent. in the previous year.

9. Hides of cattle, raw.—Under this head there was an increase of 7,190 pieces as compared with the preceding year, but a decrease of 9,850 pieces when compared with 1887-88. The chief sources of supply were the two districts of Burdwan and Nuddea, both of which traded with Calcutta alone.

10. Ghee.—The total traffic was much the same as in the previous year, and was 3,778 maunds in advance of the figures for 1887-88. The entire supply was sent to Calcutta with the exception of 261 maunds, which were distributed in the Moorshedabad and Jessore districts.

11. Saline substances other than saltpetre.—Under this head a decrease is shown of 14,776 maunds as compared with 1888-89, but the figures were very close to those of 1887-88. This trade also was almost entirely with Calcutta.

12. Oilseeds.—There was a slight recovery in the oilseeds traffic, but the figures of the past year are still below those of 1887-88 by 2,94,815 maunds, as shown in the following table:—

As regards linseed, the figures show a steady falling off, and those for the past year are the lowest ever recorded. In the case of mustard seed, however, there has been a satisfactory revival, while the traffic in miscellaneous oilseeds rose by over 62·50 per cent.and 63 91 per cent. on the returns of the two previous years, respectively. The sources of supply in connection with the linseed trade during the past two years are shown in the following statement:—

The exports from the Behar block showed a very heavy falling off, namely, 2,04,938 maunds. The decrease in the exports from Durbhunga amounted to 63,422 maunds, from Monghyr 49,631 maunds, from Bhagulpore 44,031 maunds, from Chumparun 28,216 maunds, and from other Behar districts 20,813 maunds. The contribution from Nuddea showed a decline of 20,388 maunds, while in the exports from Purneah and Pubna in Northern Bengal the figures fell off by 16,797 maunds and 15,308 maunds, respectively. Last year the quantity of linseed carried to Calcutta by this route was 7·84 per cent. of the total imports by all routes, against 10·81 per cent. in the previous year.

The different trade blocks from which the supply of mustard seed during the past two years was received are shown in the subjoined statement:—

The largest increase occurred in the supplies exported from the Behar block, which shipped 1,46,885 maunds more than in the previous year. From Northern Bengal also there was a large advance, amounting to 1,29,370 maunds. The districts in the former block, which contributed most to the increase, were Bhagulpore (83,157 maunds) and Monghyr (33,186 maunds), while of those in the latter block, the Purneah figures improved by 68,354 maunds and the Pubna figures by 44,487 maunds. The consignments from Assam diminished by 20,113 maunds in comparison with the year preceding. Of the total supply during the past year, Calcutta imported 4,92,043 maunds, and the remainder, 83,359 maunds, was distributed among the different districts named in the subjoined table:—

Last year the total imports of mustard seed into Calcutta by all routes amounted to 33,66,906 maunds, 45·17 per cent. of which was conveyed by the East Indian Railway and 8·37 per cent. by the Eastern Bengal State Railway, while the Nuddea rivers route contributed 14·61 per cent., against 13·83 per cent. in 1888-89.

13. Silk, raw.—Under this head the total quantity remained almost the same as in 1888-89. The entire supply was distributed in the Moorshedabad district with the exception of 30 maunds shipped for Calcutta from Ramnuggur in Moorshedabad.

14. Silk, manufactured.—The total value of these goods registered was Rs. 46,385, showing an increase of Rs. 20,996 on the returns of 1888-89 and of Rs. 40,385 on those of 1887-88. This is entirely local traffic between Moorshedabad, Maldah, and Nuddea.

15. Sugar, refined.—Last year the down trade in refined sugar showed a considerable improvement over the figures of the preceding two years, the total increase amounting to 10,959 maunds and 18,260 maunds in comparison with 1888-89 and 1887-88 respectively. The advance was chiefly due to larger shipments from the Goruckpore district, which contributed 14,095 maunds, against nearly 2,979 maunds in the year preceding. The greater bulk of the supply was destined for Calcutta, which is credited with 23,718 maunds, and the remaining 4,890 maunds were almost wholly consumed in the different marts in Moorshedabad. The quantity shipped for Calcutta by this route was 4·86 per cent. of the total imports by all routes.

16. Sugar, unrefined.—The weight of unrefined sugar registered was the same as in the previous year. The supply consigned for Calcutta amounted to 21,353 maunds, while 15,577 maunds found their way to marts in Moorshedabad, Hooghly, Burdwan, and Nuddea.

17. Tobacco.—The fluctuations under this head are unimportant, the trade being stationary during the past three years. Last year the despatches to Calcutta aggregated 37,978 maunds, and the remainder, which amounted to 1,19,087 maunds, was distributed as follows:—

18. Timber.—There has been a satisfactory revival in this trade, the total quantity registered being 1,68,680 maunds, against 56,195 maunds and 57,967 maunds in 1888-89 and 1887-88, respectively. The largest increase is shown under the Durbhunga district, which exported 1,39,298 maunds, against only 20,519 maunds in the year preceding. Shipments from Purneah rose from 12,952 maunds in 1888-89 to 22,646 maunds in 1889-90. Nearly the whole of the supply was despatched to Calcutta.

20. Coal and coke.—There has been a recovery in the coal traffic, but the figures for the past year are still slightly below those of 1887-88. The exports from Calcutta amounted to 2,12,575 maunds, and from other places to 27,466 maunds. The distribution of the past year's supply, district by district, was as follows:—

Importing Districts.

	Mds.		Mds
Nuddea	86,290	Burdwan	6,325

21. Cotton piece-goods, European.—The total value of this trade was on a level with that of 1888-89. The following statement shows the places from which, and to which, the supplies went during the past year:—

Importing Districts.	Rs.	Sources of Supply.	Rs.
Moorshedabad	51,600	Moorshedabad	52,300

The smallness of the supply from the Calcutta market is due to the fact that, as a rule, piece-goods are exported from the metropolis by rail.

22. Gunny-cloth.—The decrease noticed in the last report was still further extended during 1889-90, the total exports showing a decrease of 14,349 pieces and 411,516 pieces in comparison with 1888-89 and 1887-88, respectively. The shipments from Calcutta were limited to 111,120 pieces, and from other places to 25,104 pieces. The destinations of the exports during the past year were as follows:—

CHAPTER IV.

TRAFFIC ON THE GANGES, THE BHAGIRUTHEE, THE JELLINGHEE, AND THE HOOGLY RIVERS, CARRIED BY INLAND STEAMER.

FROM the commencement of the official year 1886-87 statistics have been collected to show the traffic to and from Calcutta carried by the steamers of the India General and the Calcutta Steam Navigation Companies plying on the Ganges, the Bhagiruthee, and the Hooghly. Since March 1889 the steamers of the latter Company have also been running on the Jellinghee, and the figures of this trade have also been embodied in this report. The following principal stations opened by these Companies were kept open throughout the year. A large amount of traffic was brought within the scope of registration during the past official year, as will be seen from the results exhibited below:—

The figures show an expansion of traffic in quantity as well as in value. The weight carried downwards showed an advance of 5,67,073 maunds over the trade of 1888-89 and of 4,30,706 maunds on that of 1887-88; while in the up-stream traffic there was a similar increase in the past year, the figures being 3,07,570 maunds in 1887-88, 3,27,170 maunds in 1888-89, and 6,43,229 maunds in 1889-90. The increase in the total traffic amounted to 100·78 per cent. and 77·16 per cent. as compared with 1888-89 and 1887-88, respectively.

The trade of Behar showed an increase of 297·08 per cent. under imports and of 188·58 per cent. under exports, as compared with the figures of the year preceding. In Western Bengal the rise shown under imports was 81·51 per cent, and under exports 88·10 per cent.; while the figures of the Eastern Bengal block exhibited a decline of 49·84 per cent. under imports and 4·79 per cent. under exports. There was no traffic with the North-Western Provinces and Northern Bengal during the past year.

3. The following table shows all the principal staples carried to, and from, Calcutta by this route during the past year as compared with the figures of the two previous years:—

4. The foregoing figures show an increase in almost every article of trade, either imported or exported. Of the import traffic, the largest increase in comparison with 1888-89 occurred in linseed (2,36,005 maunds), rice (1,22,841 maunds), mustard seed (48,022 maunds), gram and pulse (43,898 maunds), and brass and copper (18,425 maunds); and in the export traffic the most noticeable staples showing an advance are salt (71,949 maunds), kerosine oil (64,084 maunds), iron (17,883 maunds), and brass and copper (16,019 maunds). Detailed statements of this traffic are published in the appendix attached to this report.

CHAPTER V.

TRADE BY COUNTRY BOATS ON THE MEGNA RIVER TO, AND FROM, CHITTAGONG.

The total amount of this trade registered during 1889-90, as compared with the figures of the two previous years, was as follows:—

	1887-88.		1888-89.		1889-90.
	Quantity.	Value.	Quantity.	Value.	Quantity.	Value.
	Mds.	Rs.	Mds.	Rs.	Mds.	Rs.

2. It will be seen that the gross weight of goods conveyed during the past year was 10·43 per cent. less than in the previous year and 33·40 per cent. below the total of 1887-88, the decrease being entirely in the import traffic, in which cocoanuts showed a large decrease of 1,052,000 in number, rice of 2,47,514 maunds, paddy of 36,096 maunds, and vegetables of 10,097 maunds, against an increase of 80,800 maunds under coal and coke, and oils of 11,234 maunds, the fluctuations in other articles being of little significance. In the export trade the largest improvement is observable in salt, which showed an advance of 1,53,602 maunds, and the largest decrease under bamboos (483,300 in number).

3. The usual statement showing the quantity and value of all the important articles of traffic during the past three years is subjoined:—

The fluctuations of trade will be explained in the section dealing with the inland trade of Chittagong in Chapter XI of this report.

CHAPTER VI.

BOAT TRAFFIC ON THE MIDNAPORE AND HIDGELLEE CANALS.

The amount of traffic carried by country boats on the Midnapore and Hidgellee Canals during the past three years is shown in the following table:—

It will be seen that the gross weight of goods registered during 1889-90 was 14·50 per cent. below the previous year's figures. In the downward traffic the decrease amounted to 6·97 per cent., and in the upward traffic to 24·56 per cent. The falling off on the Midnapore canal was 7·99 per cent., and that on the Hidgellee canal 27·87 per cent., in comparison with the year preceding. Regarding the former canal, the Executive Engineer, Cossye Division, writes:—

"There was a slight falling off in the number of boats plying in the canal during the year. This is accounted for by the fact that owing to a plentiful harvest in outlying districts the export of paddy was below the average.

"It will be seen that there was a falling off of about 2,000 tons in both rice and paddy in the five months from September to January, as compared with the previous year. In spite of this the decrease in tollage was not very much. Excepting the year 1888-89, the collections were higher than any year since 1880-81."

The report of the Executive Engineer, Balasore Division, shows that the decrease in the Hidgellee canal was due partly to its being closed to traffic for three months from January to March 1890 for remodelling, and partly to the floods of 1888-89, which injuriously affected the season's rice crop.

2. A large portion of the decrease in the past year's traffic is due to the decline of the rice trade (3,86,008 maunds). The other staples which showed a falling off over the trade of the previous year are piece-goods, both Foreign and Indian (Rs. 3,35,676 in value), salt (1,37,560 maunds), unrefined sugar (52,492 maunds), tobacco (26,068 maunds), and vegetables (16,942 maunds). The number of laden boats registered during the past year was 66,661, against 71,401 in 1888-89, and 63,403 in 1887-88, as shown below:—

3. The abstract below shows the total import and export traffic, district by district, carried on those canals during the past three years:—

Compared with 1888-89, the trade of Calcutta by this route declined by 21·13 per cent. under imports and by 15·48 per cent. under exports, while the falling off in the Midnapore trade was 17·82 per cent. under the former head and 14·03 per cent. under the latter. In the trade of the Hooghly district, however, the imports showed an increase of 14·85 per cent., but the export figures remained practically unchanged

* The figures for 1887-88 include other oils.

The details in respect of the Calcutta trade are considered elsewhere in this report. The following remarks relate only to the fluctuations in such items of the local traffic as are of importance.

5. Cotton twist and yarn.—The gross weight registered fell off from 40,204 maunds in 1887-88 and 29,219 maunds in 1888-89 to 20,773 maunds in 1889-90. The chief decline occurred in the imports into Ghattal and Midnapore from Calcutta, as will be seen from the details given below:—

Mart.	District.	Imports from Calcutta. 1888-89.	1889-90.
		Mds.	Mds.
Ghatal ...	Midnapore ...	18,045	12,705

Ajoorcah ...	Ditto ...	2,535	200
Other places ...	Ditto ...	1,991	4,373
	Total ...	29,219	20,773

6. Cotton piece-goods.—The figures under European cotton piece-goods show a considerable decrease of Rs. 1,51,525 in value as compared with 1888-89, and of Rs. 1,98,825 on the returns of 1887-88. The largest falling off is observable in the consignments from Calcutta to the Midnapore district, which received only Rs. 1,86,225 worth of piece-goods, against Rs. 3,06,400 worth in the preceding year. The several importing marts which exhibited the largest decrease are given below:—

Mart.	District.	Imports from Calcutta. 1888-89. Rs.	Imports from Calcutta. 1889-90. Rs.
Ballighye	Midnapore	1,80,200	1,08,375
Contai	Ditto	16,500	28,850
Midnapore	Ditto	...	20,000
Hurrikhally	Ditto	45,750	8,925
Ghattal	Ditto	43,200	...
Small marts	Ditto	20,750	20,075
	Total	3,06,400	1,86,225

In the case of cotton piece-goods of Indian manufacture also there has been a great decline, the value of the shipments from Midnapore to Calcutta having fallen off from Rs. 3,43,691 in 1888-89 to only Rs. 1,32,060 in 1889-90; the falling off accounts for the diminished supply of twist and yarn shown above.

7. Fruits, nuts, and vegetables.—The large increase noticed in the previous year's report was not maintained, and the figures of the past year were even below those of 1887-88 by 2,369 maunds. The chief falling off occurred in the despatches from the Midnapore district, which contributed merely 8,540 maunds, against 20,918 maunds in 1888 89. This trade was almost entirely with Calcutta, which imported 71,667 maunds, against 84,706 maunds in 1888-89.

8. Rice not in the husk and rice in the husk.—The figures for the past year under rice showed a considerable decrease of 3,86,008 maunds and 2,01,152 maunds in comparison with 1888-89 and 1887-88, respectively, but the trade in paddy remained stationary, as will be seen from the subjoined table:—

	1887-88. Mds.	1888-89. Mds.	1889-90. Mds.
Rice not in the husk	12,27,763	14,12,619	10,26,611

Total in rice after converting paddy into rice at the rate of 25 seers of rice to a maund of paddy	21,33,876	22,89,984	19,13,528

The supply imported into, and exported from, Calcutta aggregated 9,84,040 maunds of rice and 5,57,519 maunds of paddy, and the trade of the other districts was 42,571 maunds of rice and 8,61,548 maunds of paddy, which were distributed as follows:—

	Rice. Mds.	Paddy Mds.	Total in rice. Mds.
Local trade of the Midnapore district	40,818	3,99,822	2,90,707

Total	42,571	8,61,548	5,81,039

Compared with 1888-89, the local trade of the Midnapore district showed a decrease of 5,280 maunds under rice and of 39,632 maunds under paddy.

The different marts to which, and from which, traffic went during the past year were as follows:—

9. Oils.—The total trade under kerosine oil was much the same as in the two previous years. The total supply exported from Calcutta by this route was 50,850 maunds, against 57,639 maunds in 1888 89, and that shipped from Budge Budge in the 24-Pergunnahs was 32,625 maunds, against 33,048 maunds. The places of destination during the past two years were as follows:—

10. Sugar, unrefined.—Under this head a decrease is shown of 52,492 maunds as compared with 1888-89, and of 35,163 maunds as compared with 1887-88. The falling off is attributable to short shipments from the Hooghly district, which supplied only 40,910 maunds to Calcutta, against 90,695 maunds in the year preceding. The following statement illustrates the total traffic, district by district, during the past two years:—

District.	Imports.		Exports.

Total ...	1,23,782	71,290	1,23,782	71,290

11. Tobacco.—The total quantity of tobacco fell off from 85,123 maunds in 1887-88 and 95,917 maunds in 1888-89 to 69,849 maunds in 1889-90. Last year the consignments from Calcutta to the Midnapore district were limited to 64,595 maunds, against 89,615 maunds in the previous year, and hence the decrease shown above.

12 Timber.—The gross weight of timber was slightly in excess of the trade of the preceding year, but the figures were still 15,963 maunds less than those of 1887-88. The quantity despatched to, and from, Calcutta was 12,264 maunds, and of the remainder 55,146 maunds constituted the trade between the different marts within the Midnapore districts.

CHAPTER VII.

BOAT TRAFFIC ON THE ORISSA CANALS.

THE total weight and value of goods registered on the Orissa canals during the past year, as compared with the trade of the two previous years, were as follows:—

1	2	3	4	5	6	7
ORISSA CANALS.	Weight of goods registered by weight.			Value of all articles of trade.
	1887-88.	1888-89.	1889-90.	1887-88.	1888-89.	1889-90.

Total ...	8,93,634	7,17,258	9,73,808	24,93,901	27,84,765	34,46,208

The quantity carried both ways during the past year was 2,26,550 maunds, or 30·32 per cent., above the figures of 1888-89, and 80,174 maunds, or 8·97 per cent., in excess of those of 1887-88. The down traffic showed a marked improvement during the year, the increase having amounted to 53·04 per cent., as compared with the previous year. The up traffic showed a slight advance on the returns of 1888-89, but the figures are 54,494 maunds below those of 1887-88. In reporting upon the condition of the trade on these canals, the Executive Engineer, Brahmini-Byturni Division, makes the following remarks:—

"During the year 1889-90 no new navigation canals were opened in this Division, and their total length is, as before, 108 miles.

"There has been a great increase under most heads of traffic. The principal cause is a more favourable rainfall and consequent better crops and increased prosperity among the people during 1889-90, as compared with the year previous.

"The greater part of the traffic in the Cuttack district is with Calcutta vià Alba and Chandbally. It is mostly in the hands of the India General Steam Navigation Company, who maintain a bi-weekly service of steamers from Calcutta, and Messrs. Macneill and Company, who have a weekly service. The Orissa Coasting Steam Navigation Company during the year ceased running, but the business is being resuscitated by another firm. The trade to False Point is mostly in the hands of native firms, and steamers are but seldom used. The traffic is principally in rice for Bombay, the Mauritius, &c."

2. The total number of laden boats, the cargoes of which were registered on these canals during the past three years, is shown below:—

BOAT TRAFFIC ON THE ORISSA COAST CANAL

6. The total amount of merchandise carried along the Orissa Coast Canal during the past year is compared below with the figures of the two previous years:—

	1887-88.		1888-89.		1889-90.
	Quantity.	Value.	Quantity.	Value.	Quantity.	Value.

The increase in the gross traffic noticed in the two previous reports received a check during the past year. The decrease occurred mainly in the up traffic, which was 28·38 per cent. and 23·25 per cent. less than the trade of 1888-89 and 1887-88, respectively, the chief articles affected being rice and paddy. The remarks offered by the Executive Engineer, Balasore Division, regarding the state of the traffic along this route are extracted below:—

"The receipts from traffic on the coast canal during the past year 1889-90 have amounted to Rs. 63,232, being less than those of the preceding year by Rs. 67,372—Rs. 63,232 = Rs. 4,140. This decrease is due to the closure of range I, Hidgellee Tidal canal, for remodelling during January, February and March. Of the above receipts the traffic on range III contributed Rs. 37,610, or less than the previous year's amount by Rs. 8,666.

"The general loss of crop from floods of 1888-89 also affected the returns for part of the year injuriously. It is anticipated from the growth of traffic on range III up to Suburnrekha that a steady and rapid rise may be anticipated when the remodelling of the Hidgellee Tidal canal is completed, and merchants know generally that the vexatious and oft-recurring closures are a thing of the past."

7. The number of loaded boats registered during the past year, as compared with the totals of the two previous years, is given below:—

	Down.	Up.	Total.
	No.	No.	No.
1887-88	6,212	6,021	12,233
1888-89	6,930	6,737	13,667
1889-90	6,285	6,130	12,415

8. The entire traffic carried over this canal during the past three years is shown in the following table, according to the different districts which contributed to the trade:—

During the past year the exports from Midnapore were 29·22 per cent. below those of the previous year. In the case of Calcutta the import traffic fell off by 32·03 per cent., while as regards Balasore, the figures showed an increase of 14·36 per cent. under imports and a decrease of 19·22 per cent. under exports. The fluctuations under the other heads are unimportant.

CHAPTER VIII.

BOAT TRAFFIC ON THE CALCUTTA CANALS.

THE total quantity and value of merchandise carried to, and from, Calcutta by country boats, registered during the past three years, were as follows:—

	Quantity of goods registered by weight			Value of all articles of trade.

Boats which have been loaded, or are to be unloaded, at the Port Commissioners' wharves on the Hooghly are registered by the Port Commissioners, and consequently are not registered at the canal stations.

2. The gross quantity registered during the past year was 12·99 per cent. less than in the previous year and 11·22 per cent. below the total of 1887 88, the decrease being mainly in the import traffic.

The articles which contributed most to the decrease in the imports were rice (26,73,789 maunds), firewood (7,38,866 maunds), lime and limestone (2,60,181 maunds), gram and pulse (1,85,065 maunds), betel-nuts (63,940 maunds), and chillies (19,085 maunds); while the staples in which the largest increase occurred were paddy (6,09,545 maunds), fruits and vegetables (1,44,991 maunds), raw jute (75,112 maunds), mustard seed (50,285 maunds), and linseed (40,795 maunds). In the export trade the chief falling off was in paddy (1,22,735 maunds), kerosine oil (96,529 maunds), coal and coke (52,659 maunds), and salt (30,264 maunds).

3. Detailed statements of this trade are published in the appendices to this report.

CHAPTER IX.

TRAFFIC ON THE BRAHMAPUTRA AND MEGNA RIVERS, INTERNAL AND EATERNAL (WITH ASSAM).

THE registration of traffic carried along the Brahmaputra and Megna rivers is limited to a record of the trade under the following heads:—

(1) Traffic carried by the River Steamer Companies;
(2) Traffic carried by the steamers of the Eastern Bengal State Railway; and
(3) Trade of Bengal with Assam carried by country-boats.

2. A statement is appended to this report showing the river-borne trade of Bengal with the Brahmaputra and Surma valleys of the Province of Assam carried by steamer as well as by country-boat during the past three years. An analysis of the trade carried by inland steamers and country-boats is, however, given below separately under each of the heads above mentioned.

RIVER-BORNE TRAFFIC CARRIED BY THE RIVER STEAMER COMPANIES.

3. The total weight and value of the downward and upward traffic carried along the Brahmaputra and the Upper Megna rivers by the steamers of the India General Steam Navigation Company and the Rivers Steam Navigation Company during the past three years are shown in the subjoined table:—

It will be seen that the total weight of the trade of 1889-90 carried both ways was 17·34 per cent. over that of the preceding year and 36·69 per cent. in excess of the figures for 1887-88. The increase along the Brahmaputra route amounted to 29·86 per cent. and 51·89 per cent. in comparison with 1888-89 and 1887-88, respectively, while on the Megna route the figures showed a falling off of ·04 per cent. on the returns of the previous year, but they were higher than those of 1887-88 by 15·86 per cent. Looking to the provincial totals, the increase is mainly observable in the exports from Assam, the figures for the past year being 19,17,566 maunds, or 115·95 per cent. over the trade of the previous year, and 21,81,828 maunds, or 157·01 per cent. in excess of that of 1887-88.

4. As regards the inter-provincial traffic, the largest increase in the imports into Bengal from Assam, as compared with 1888-89, occurred in coal (13,58,821 maunds), mustard seed (4,48,033 maunds), Indian tea (84,327 maunds), and linseed (56,726 maunds), while stick lac showed a decline of 18,824 maunds, and til seed of 15,620 maunds. In the exports from Bengal to Assam the most noticeable items showing an advance were iron (33,750 maunds) and oils (24,212 maunds). On the other hand, there were decreases under coal (1,03,051 maunds), salt (27,098 maunds), and rice (57,341 maunds).

5. In connection with the internal trade of Calcutta the downward traffic of the past year resulted in an increase of 58,264 maunds under mustard seed, against a decrease of 1,60,878 maunds under raw jute and of 15,923 maunds under betel-nuts; and in the upward traffic the export of oils from Calcutta showed the largest increase over the trade of the previous year, namely 42,473 maunds, but there were heavy decreases under coal (3,12,228 maunds), salt (70,886 maunds), and European piece-goods (22,084 maunds, valued at Rs. 15,45,880).

6. The following statement shows the quantities and values of all the chief articles of trade carried by the river steamer companies during the past three years:—

7. In last year's report it was stated that in October 1886 the India General Steam Navigation Company as well as the Rivers Steam Navigation Company had opened a "Despatch Service," i.e., they received in Calcutta goods intended for transmission to Assam and places in Bengal, and despatched those goods by rail to Goalundo, and thence by steamers to Assam and places in Bengal; and it was added that those Companies also undertook to land in Calcutta goods sent by this service to Goalundo from Assam and places in Bengal. This arrangement continued till August 1889, when the booking business between the two provinces was transferred from the offices of the Steamer Companies to the Eastern Bengal State Railway. As stated in the report for 1888-89, this traffic being returned as steamer-borne traffic between the Eastern Bengal block and Assam, the Assam trade with Eastern Bengal is very largely, but fictitiously, increased at the cost of that with Calcutta, which shows less traffic than is really the case.

8. Caoutchouc or India-rubber.—Under this head a decrease is shown of 3,467 maunds in the exports to Bengal from Assam as compared with 1888-89, and of 2,593 maunds on the trade of 1887-88. Last year only 28 maunds against 63 maunds were shipped for Calcutta direct, while 4,592 maunds against 8,024 maunds were carried viâ Goalundo.

9. Coal.—The supply carried to the internal blocks from Calcutta showed a decline of 3,12,228 maunds in comparison with the year preceding, but the figures were greater than those of 1887-88 by 48,973 maunds, while the shipments therefrom to Assam showed a decrease of 1,03,051 maunds. The consignments from Assam to Bengal, however, showed a very considerable rise in comparison with the two previous years, as will be seen from the subjoined statement:—

		1887-88.	1888-89.	1889-90.
		Mds.	Mds.	Mds.
To Eastern Bengal (Goalundo)	...	1,42,259	...	...
" Calcutta ...	...	70,364	2,02,525	13,55,050
" Dacca ...	...	29,006	59,910	2,33,860
" Northern Bengal (Serajgunge)	...	15,462	4,204	36,550
Total	...	2,57,091	2,66,639	16,25,460

The very large importation of Assam coal into Calcutta is specially noticeable. The Calcutta imports came all the way by steamer, and none was imported by rail viâ Goalundo, as in the years previous to 1888-89.

10. Cotton twist and yarn, European.—The increase in the exports to Assam from Bengal shown during 1888-89 was not maintained during the year under report, the total quantity registered being 9,145 maunds against 12,489 maunds and 10,024 maunds during 1888-89 and 1887-88, respectively. Compared with the previous year, the supplies sent from Calcutta direct increased by 6,253 maunds, while 2,001 maunds against 11,658 maunds were despatched viâ Goalundo. The upward traffic from Calcutta to the internal blocks also showed a large falling off of 1,527 maunds and 1,438 maunds in comparison with those years.

11. Cotton piece-goods, European.—Last year the total value of European piece-goods shipped direct from Calcutta to Assam was below the figures of 1888-89, but the value increased by Rs. 11,79,066, while the value of that carried viâ Goalundo decreased by Rs. 6,47,787, but the past year's figures were still in excess of those of 1887-88 by Rs. 20,66,232 in the case of Calcutta, but they show a decrease of Rs. 2,04,960 in the case of Goalundo. In the despatches to the Eastern and other Bengal blocks from Calcutta there was a heavy falling off of Rs. 12,61,232 and Rs. 9,03,959 worth of goods in comparison with the two previous years.

12. Jute, raw.—Trade under this head is important in so far as the exports from the internal blocks to Calcutta are concerned. The total quantity registered during the past year showed a decrease of 1,60,878 maunds as compared with 1888-89, but it was on a level with that of 1887-88. The consignments from Serajgunge amounted to 9,45,186 maunds against 9,67,513 maunds in 1888-89, and those from Dacca to 15,93,010 maunds against 15,68,097 maunds. The imports from Assam remained practically the same as in the previous year.

13. Gunnies.—There has been a further large increase under this head, the total supply shipped for Assam from Bengal showing an increase of 86,170 bags and 60,130 bags in comparison with 1888-89 and 1887-88, respectively. The exports from Calcutta to the internal blocks are also steadily rising, the total increase amounting to 28,035 bags on the trade of 1888-89, and to 77,070 bags on that of 1887-88.

14. Gram and pulse.—The fluctuations in the shipments from Bengal to Assam during the past year, in comparison with the two previous years, are normal and require no explanation. As usual, the chief exporters were Calcutta and the Northern and Eastern Bengal blocks.

15. Rice.—The total quantity of rice sent to Assam from Bengal showed a falling off of 57,341 maunds and 1,82,695 maunds as compared with 1888-89 and 1887-88. The chief decrease occurred in the consignments from Goalundo and Kaligunge (in Rungpore), as will be seen from the details given below—

	To Assam.
	1887-88.	1888-89.	1889-90.

" Kaligunge in Rungpore... ...	26,129	21,613	1,300
Total ...	4,21,093	2,95,739	2,38,398

Last year Assam supplied Bengal with 23,385 maunds of rice against 8,705 maunds in 1888-89. In 1887-88 no rice was imported.

16. Lac—stick and other kinds.—Last year the imports of lac into Calcutta from Assam were 8,036 maunds below the figures for 1888-89, but they were almost equal to the supply registered in 1887-88.

17. Iron.—The exports of iron from Bengal to Assam amounted during the past year to 1,77,528 maunds, showing a considerable increase of 33,750 maunds on the totals of 1888-89 and of 43,868 maunds as compared with those of 1887-88. The internal trade, however, showed a slight decrease, the despatches from Calcutta to the Northern, Eastern, and Dacca blocks showing a decrease of 6,598 maunds in comparison with the previous year.

18. Oils.—Transactions under this head showed a considerable development both in the inter-provincial and internal trade. Under the former head the shipments from Bengal to Assam showed an advance of 24,212 maunds and 41,398 maunds as compared with the two years 1888-89 and 1887-88, respectively, while under the latter head the exports from Calcutta showed a rise of 42,473 maunds in the despatches to the Northern, Eastern, and Dacca blocks.

19. Salt.—The supply of salt carried to Assam from Bengal showed a falling off of 27,098 maunds over the trade of the previous year, but it exceeded the figures for 1887-88 by 25,546 maunds. In the internal trade also there was a heavy decline, the quantity sent to Dacca from Calcutta showing a decrease of 39,298 maunds, and that to Mymensing of 17,296 maunds.

20. Linseed.—This trade shows a steady increase. In 1887-88 the total quantity sent to Bengal from Assam amounted to 14,268 maunds, in 1888-89 it rose to 30,295 maunds, while in 1889-90 it was 87,021 maunds. Similar increases are also observable in the imports into Calcutta from the internal blocks, the total traffic amounting to 20,301 maunds, against 8,012 maunds and 7,356 maunds in those years, respectively.

21. Mustard seed.—A large business was done in mustard seed, the total imports of which into Calcutta from Assam amounted to 7,21,451 maunds, against 2,71,375 maunds in 1888-89 and 3,37,044 maunds in 1887-88. The importation into Calcutta from the internal blocks also showed a substantial recovery, the total quantity amounting to 79,770 maunds, against 21,506 and 66,829 maunds in 1888 89 and 1887-88, respectively.

22. Til seed.—There was a falling off of 15,620 maunds in the quantity of til seed shipped from Assam to Calcutta in comparison with 1888-89, but the figures are still in excess of those of 1887-88 by 6,341 maunds. The internal trade under this head is unimportant.

23. Silk, raw.—The large increase in the imports of raw silk into Calcutta from Assam, shown in the previous year's report, was not maintained in 1889-90, and the figures reverted to the level of 1887-88.

24. Tea, Indian.—Last year the exports of Indian tea from Assam to Calcutta by this route showed an advance of 1,11,802 maunds or 14·37 per cent. on the returns of 1888-89, and of 2,23,568 maunds or 25·02 per cent. in comparison with 1887-88.

25. Treasure.—The total value of silver sent to Assam from Calcutta aggregated Rs. 9,94,544, showing an increase of Rs. 1,92,218 as compared with 1888-89 and of Rs. 7,14,044 in comparison with 1887-88.

TRAFFIC ON THE BRAHMAPUTRA AND MEGNA RIVERS CARRIED BY THE STEAMERS OF THE EASTERN BENGAL STATE RAILWAY.

26. The statement below shows the total weight and value of goods carried by the steamers of the Eastern Bengal State Railway along the Brahmaputra and Megna rivers during the past three years:—

It will be seen that the gross weight of goods conveyed during the past year was 29·52 per cent. greater than in the previous year and 64·1 per cent. in excess of the total of 1887-88, the increase being both in the down and up traffic. Last year the share of Calcutta was 93·67 per cent. of the import trade and 78·93 per cent. of the export trade.

27. A large portion of the increase in the year's traffic carried downwards is due to the development of the jute trade, which alone showed an advance of 9,68,128 maunds in comparison with 1888-89. The other staples which showed a rise over the trade of the year preceding are mustard-seed (44,664 maunds), while tea, Indian, showed a decrease of 8,798 maunds. As regards the up traffic, the largest increase as compared with 1888-89 was in piece-goods, European (18,813 maunds), twist, European (10,055 maunds), and sugar, unrefined (21,108 maunds) and the articles showing the largest decrease were salt (24,187 maunds) and "other" metals (16,120 maunds).

28. Dacca service.—There was a large accession to the traffic of the Dacca service, the total quantity carried showing an advance of 61·46 per cent. and 51·82 per cent. on the figures of the two years 1888-89 and 1887-88, respectively. The abstract below shows all the most important articles of merchandise carried during the past year as compared with the figures of the two previous years.

The largest increase in the down traffic as compared with 1888-89 was in raw jute (9,00,794 maunds), and the largest decrease occurred under hides (58,514 in number) and raw cotton (22,749 maunds), while in the up traffic European piece-goods showed an increase of Rs. 23,95,729 in value, manufactured leather of Rs. 2,79,177 in value, and unrefined sugar of 22,118 maunds, against a slight decrease in salt and gunnies.

29. Serajgunge service.—There was some recovery in the trade carried by this service during the past year in comparison with the year preceding, but when compared with 1887-88 the figures exhibit a decrease of 25·91 per cent. in the down traffic. The following table shows the quantity and value of the principal staples of traffic carried during the past three years:—

The chief fluctuations in the down traffic are an increase of 67,257 maunds in raw jute and of 47,662 maunds in mustard seed, and a large decrease under gunnies (934,955 bags). As regards the upward traffic, the staples which showed an improvement over the figures of the previous year were European piece-goods (Rs. 1,08,031 in value) and spices (10,195 maunds), while salt showed a slight decrease of 16,102 maunds.

30. Cachar service.—The falling off noticed in the last report was further extended during the past year, the weight of goods carried by this service showing a decrease of 35·41 per cent. in the down traffic as compared with the previous year's trade. The usual statement showing the most important articles of merchandise of which this traffic consisted, is appended :—

Last year the quantity of merchandise registered was 2·99 per cent. more than the trade of 1888-89 and 6·22 per cent. below that of 1887-88. The weight carried on the Megna route fell off by 1,14,270 maunds and 6,79,203 maunds, respectively, but on the Brahmaputra route the figures were 3,19,816 maunds above the figures of 1888-89 and 2,09,816 maunds in excess of those of 1887-88. Registration at Bhoyrub Bazar was found to be defective in some respects during the past year, and the statistics received from that office are therefore unreliable.

32. It may be explained that the figures given against the Calcutta block in the foregoing statement will not bear comparison with those shown in chapter X of this report. In the returns of Bhoyrub Bazar and Dhubri through-trade vid Goalundo between Assam and Calcutta is shown as trade between Assam and Calcutta; but as on the Eastern Bengal State Railway there is no through-booking of goods between Calcutta and Assam viâ Goalundo, the Railway returns show this trade as between Eastern Bengal and Calcutta. On the other hand, the registration of the Calcutta traffic is effected by a cordon of stations, and under this system the actual quantity carried by country-boats to, and from, Assam is correctly recorded.

33. The figures for the chief articles of trade carried each way during the past year are compared with the totals of the two previous years in the following statement:—

Looking to the import traffic, the staples which showed a marked improvement over the figures of the previous year were rice and timber, and the articles in which the decrease was most conspicuous were lime and limestone, oranges, paddy, and hides of cattle. As regards the export trade, there was a large increase under unrefined sugar, while cotton piece-goods (European), gram and pulse, and salt, showed considerable decreases. An analysis of these fluctuations is given below:—

34. Imports from Assam.—There was a very considerable decrease in the importation of lime and limestone, of which 17,41,909 maunds were registered during the year, against 21,45,451 maunds in 1888-89. The quantity sent to Calcutta showed the largest falling off, namely, 3,51,415 maunds in comparison with the year preceding. In canes and rattans the figures showed a falling off of 5,018 maunds, chiefly in the exports to the Dacca block, which received 10,719 maunds, against 15,794 maunds in the year preceding. The traffic in raw cotton showed an advance of 8,241 maunds. The largest increase occurred in the imports into the Eastern Bengal block (4,722 maunds) and Dacca block (2,335 maunds). The imports of raw jute rose by 19,467 maunds over the trade of 1888-89. Last year the supply carried to the Northern Bengal block was 1,27,630 maunds, against 1,11,868 maunds in the previous year. The quantity of paddy imported was 12,87,433 maunds in excess of the figures for the preceding year. The largest fluctuations occurred in the despatches to the Dacca block, which received 16,64,464 maunds, against 6,50,736 maunds in 1888-89; the advance in the imports into Northern Bengal amounted to 1,78,500 maunds, while Eastern Bengal received 86,220 maunds more than in the previous year. On the other hand, traffic in rice showed a large decrease of 3,10,833 maunds, chiefly in the shipments to the Dacca block, where only 1,93,123 maunds were sent during the year, against 5,22,318 maunds in 1888-89. The decrease in the hide trade is large, namely, 16,075 maunds. Last year the importation into the Dacca block was limited to only 9,185 maunds, against 24,843 maunds in 1888-89. In the trade in dried fish there was a large increase of 8,627 maunds, the supply despatched to Northern Bengal from Assam being 15,330 maunds, against 10,130 maunds in the preceding year; the imports into the Dacca block also showed a rise of 3,587 maunds. The total quantity of oranges, taking 430 to a maund, showed a decline of 23,904 maunds, which occurred chiefly in the supplies sent to Calcutta from Assam, which contributed 27,284 maunds, against 49,567 maunds in the year preceding. There was little or no change in the quantity of mustard seed sent to Bengal from Assam during the past year as compared with 1888-89; Calcutta, however, imported 26,783 maunds less than in the previous year, while the consignments to the Eastern and Northern Bengal and Dacca blocks showed a rise of 19,024 maunds, 11,497 maunds and 3,837 maunds, respectively. The amount of til seed registered was 7,166 maunds below the figures for 1888-89. The falling off in the quantity sent to Calcutta was 3,561 maunds. The decrease under stone and lime was still larger, namely 11,965 maunds. The supply carried to the Dacca block fell off from 18,615 maunds in 1888-89 to 7,550 maunds during the year under report. Under timber the figures showed a large advance of 75,914 maunds; the consignments for the Dacca and Northern Bengal blocks increased by 88,420 maunds and 13,408 maunds, respectively, while the Eastern Bengal block drew 21,920 maunds less than in the previous year.

35. Exports to Assam.—The total value of European piece-goods sent to Assam fell off by Rs. 1,54,070. Calcutta exported only Rs. 1,68,000 worth of goods, against Rs. 2,25,918 worth in 1888-89, while the value of exports from the Dacca block was Rs. 1,08,710, against Rs. 1,68,399 in the previous year. The total quantity of gunnies was 350 maunds, against 8,364 maunds; the contributions from Calcutta having fallen off by 8,012 maunds. In rice not in the husk, the figures showed a decrease of 33,817 maunds; the despatches from the Dacca block fell off by 27,194 maunds, and those from Northern Bengal by 5,796 maunds. The traffic in gram and pulse fell off by 38,679 maunds. There was a large decrease of 42,989 maunds in the supplies carried to Assam from the Dacca block, against an increase of 4,475 maunds in the shipments from Patna city. The fluctuations under iron are of a normal character and need no comment. The exports of oils from Bengal to Assam decreased by 1,18,869 maunds, the falling off in the quantity despatched from Calcutta being so much as 1,12,241 maunds in comparison with 1888-89. Under dried fruits and nuts the figures fell off from 15,206 maunds in 1888-89 to only 4,905 maunds in 1889-90, owing chiefly to smaller supplies from Calcutta (400 maunds against 6,450 maunds) and Dacca (1,805 maunds against 6,666 maunds). Similar decreases occurred under provisions other than ghee, the consignments from the Dacca block to Assam showing a decline of 8,825 maunds, and those from Calcutta of 3,416 maunds. The exports of salt from Calcutta to Assam showed a considerable decrease of 95,799 maunds when comparison is made with the figures for 1888-89; the contributions from the Northern Bengal and Dacca blocks, however, exhibited a slight increase of 3,286 maunds and 2,094 maunds, respectively. In spices other than betel-nuts there was a decrease of 24,683 maunds; the supply carried to Assam from the Dacca block fell off from 1,03,617 maunds in 1888-89 to 87,994 maunds in 1889-90, and that from Eastern Bengal from 13,926 maunds to 4,662 maunds. The total quantity of unrefined sugar remained the same as in the previous year. The Northern Bengal block contributed 10,127 maunds less than the quantity supplied in 1888-89, but in all other cases the figures exhibited a slight increase. The tobacco trade decreased from 1,20,434 maunds to 1,04,243 maunds; the supplies despatched from Dacca declined by 10,260 maunds, and those from Northern Bengal by 4,592 maunds.

It will be seen that the total weight of the trade of 1889-90, carried both ways, was 1·69 per cent. below that of the year preceding, but 0·95 per cent. in excess of the figures for 1887-88. In the case of imports there was a falling off of 2·37 per cent. on the returns of 1888-89, but they were almost equal to the total of 1887-88; the exports, however, showed a rise of 1·04 per cent. and 7·18 per cent. in comparison with those years, respectively.

As regards values, the rise in the total traffic was 3·71 per cent. in comparison with the previous year, but the figures showed a decrease of 10·37 per cent. on the trade of 1887-88. Last year the advance in the import traffic was 1·23 per cent. as compared with 1888-89, and in the export traffic 7·90 per cent.

2. Looking to the different routes followed by the trade, more than half the total traffic, or 53·96 per cent., was carried by rail during the past year; in 1888-89 and 1887-88 the percentages under this head were 52·29 and

50·51, respectively. In the case of the East Indian Railway the increase was 0·94 per cent. as compared with 1888-89 and 7·19 per cent. as compared with 1887-88. The quantity lifted by the Eastern Bengal State Railway shows a large advance of 3·04 per cent. and 10·09 per cent. on the returns of 1888-89 and 1887-88, respectively. The supply carried by country-boats is gradually declining, the past year's figures being 12·36 per cent. less than those of 1888-89 and 15·42 per cent. below those of 1887-88. On the other hand, the Steamer service traffic has steadily increased of late. In 1883-84 the quantity attracted to it was nearly 34 lakhs of maunds, while in 1889-90 it rose to over a crore of maunds. The fluctuations in the road traffic are not important, the trade remaining almost the same during the past three years.

3. The subjoined abstract shows the total import trade of Calcutta with each Revenue Division in Bengal, and with other provinces in India as a whole, in the principal staples of traffic during the year 1889-90 as compared with the totals of the two years 1888-89 and 1887-88:—

The total import trade of Calcutta in the articles enumerated in the foregoing statement represents 57·61 per cent. of the entire import traffic of Calcutta during 1889-90, against nearly 58 per cent. in 1888-89 and 61¼ per cent. in 1887-88.

4. The following statement furnishes similar details in respect of the export traffic of Calcutta in cotton goods and salt during the past year, as compared with the figures of the two previous years:—

The three staples specified above make up 41·23 per cent. of the entire exports from Calcutta during 1889-90, against 43·26 per cent. in the previous year and 45·63 per cent. in 1887-88.

5. The causes, both external to these Provinces and internal, which chiefly influenced the trade and commerce of Calcutta during 1889-90 are briefly stated below:—

Causes, external to the Lower Provinces, which affected the trade of the year.

(1) The cotton crop was slightly better than in the previous year, but owing to a strong demand for cotton in Bombay for local manufacture that province again imported largely from places which usually send their produce to the Calcutta market.

(2) There was a most noticeable decline in the imports of turkey red and alizarine yarn, which fell by 44½ per cent., owing to a new dyeing trade having sprung up in Cawnpore, where yarn is now dyed with cheap aniline dyes, which compete with the imported article. It is inferior, but cheaper, and is found to answer the purpose for which it is required. The supply of grey yarn required for this trade was sent from Bombay instead of from Calcutta.

(3) The fall in grey cotton piece-goods was very heavy in comparison with 1888-89, but the importations were about the average ones. The cotton trade in Lancashire followed very much the same course as in the previous year. Spinners did fairly well until it was seen that supplies of cotton would probably be short when the price of the raw material advanced, the rise being further increased by the operations of speculators in Liverpool. Short time was then resorted to, and after a while the cotton "corner" collapsed and prices fell heavily. The manufacturers who did not spin their own yarn were considerably affected by this, as there was no corresponding rise in the market for the manufactured article to counterbalance it, while those who spun their own yarn suffered in a less degree, as they made their profit on the yarn-spinning. The extension of loom-power had gone ahead of the production of yarn required to feed it, and with a larger outturn of yarn from new and reopened mills in the current year the manufacturers will probably do better.

(4) There was a very considerable advance in the exports of indigo to the United Kingdom. Prices in London last year, except for good and fine Bengal, were the lowest for the past five years.

(5) The trade in gram with the coast ports was generally on a large scale; but last year, owing either to high prices or to supplies being received from elsewhere, there was a heavy fall in exports.

(6) The United Kingdom again took the second place as a consumer of Bengal rice. The decline in the exports to that country was 20 per cent. as compared with 1888-89. Large shipments were, however, made from Burma, which more than made up the deficiency from Calcutta. The condition of the rice trade in Europe remained unchanged during the year.

(7) There was a considerable decline in the exports of wheat from Calcutta to foreign countries. The continent of Europe received nearly the whole of its Indian wheat from western India, but, with the exception of Holland, it received less. The United Kingdom was the only country which took wheat from Calcutta last year in any quantity. There was a smaller number of acres under wheat in that country, but owing to a better outturn per acre the total yield was larger than in the previous year. The imports from foreign countries were also larger, and the average price was lower.

(8) Owing to smaller supplies the exports of raw hides to the United Kingdom again declined.

(9) In Dundee the jute trade had another fairly good year. The uses to which jute is put are steadily increasing, and fancy goods, such as carpets, rugs and plushes, are now being made from it. The substitution of cotton for jute cloth in the packing of raw cotton, which was threatened by the cotton-planters in the United States, was apparently not carried out.

(10) The Calcutta-made bags are now in favour in the home markets, and are interfering with, though they have not yet ousted, the manufacture of Dundee.

(11) At the beginning of the year there was considerable speculation in all descriptions of lac in London, and prices fluctuated considerably. With the smaller shipments prices advanced very materially in that market.

(12) The expansion of the brewing industry in India does not seem to affect the trade in light beers imported from foreign countries. The imports of rum are now insignificant. China, which formerly sent the largest quantity of this spirit to Calcutta, last year sent none, the cheap common spirit from Germany having apparently killed this trade.

(13) The apparently enormous increase in the imports of unwrought and wrought copper from foreign countries was merely the trade righting itself after the collapse of the Copper Syndicate: the normal supplies for one year and the back supplies which had been kept over by the heavy price have, after the fall in price, come in together. Owing to the heavy fluctuations in price during the year in the home market it was found profitable in some instances to reship copper to the United Kingdom from Calcutta.

(14) There was considerable speculation in iron in the home markets during 1889, and prices fluctuated largely, ending with a larger range of prices.

(15) In consequence of Russian oil making its way in the home markets, the Americans have introduced cheaper means of transport to the European markets by tank waggons and tank steamers, but no such attempts have as yet been made to send the oil to this country.

(16) There was generally throughout the year a fairly good demand for castor-oil for export to the United Kingdom and to Australia, and prices ruled high. There was a short supply of seeds at times, but the high price of the oil attracted supplies chiefly from up-country.

(17) Owing to poor crops, there was a falling off in the exports of linseed from Calcutta to foreign ports. To the United States, however, the consignments exhibited an increase of 8·52 per cent. The crop in that country may have again been small, and the action of the Syndicate or Linseed-oil Trust, referred to in the last report, may have had some effect in increasing the demand from abroad; but there is no doubt that the consumption is increasing, for the larger supplies from Calcutta were supplemented by large shipments from the United Kingdom.

(18) The enormous advance in the exports of mustard-seed was due to a better crop here and to the failure of the German crop, which caused an extra demand for the Indian seed.

(19) Owing to a small crop with high prices, there was a fall in shipments of poppy seed to the United Kingdom from Calcutta.

(20) The price of Liverpool salt being forced up by the Salt Syndicate there was a heavy falling off in the imports of Liverpool salt, with a corresponding increase from Arabia, Aden, and Germany.

(21) There were very large imports into the United Kingdom of nitrate of soda during the year, which account for the heavy decrease in the exports from Calcutta of saltpetre to the United Kingdom.

(22) Last year the silk trade in Europe was very satisfactory, all the looms having been well employed. The increased demand for Bengal silk, consequent on its improved quality, and the deficiency in the Italian crop, caused an advance in prices in which Bengal silk participated.

(23) During the opening months of the year there was an artificial rise in the price of sugar in Europe, due to the operations of a Syndicate in Germany, which stimulated exports of refined and unrefined sugar to the United Kingdom from Calcutta. When the Syndicate collapsed, in July, there was a heavy fall in prices, and exports practically ceased.

(24) The tea market was generally firm and prices were fairly good, though at one time there was a sharp fall, which was partially, if not entirely, recovered later on. The China crop was poor in quality, and this led to a larger demand for Indian tea.

Causes, internal to the Lower Provinces, which affected the trade of the year.

(1) The trade in cotton piece-goods in Calcutta was not specially remunerative to importers during the year owing to there being large stocks over from the previous year, which had to be worked off. As happened in 1888-89, at the close of the year under review money was scarce and the bank rate of interest very high, causing the usual trouble with the dealers, who could not take delivery of their goods.

(2) The figures from the indigo-producing districts show a larger outturn in Lower Bengal against a decline in Monghyr, Tirhoot, Chumparun, and Chupra. The quality of the crop generally, however, was not good, and prices, except for certain special kinds, were below those of the previous year.

(3) The outturn of rice was on the whole larger than in 1888-89, but a keen local demand and the necessity for the renewal of stock previously depleted left but a limited surplus stock for export. Prices were for a portion of the year extremely high, but on the new crop coming into the market prices fell heavily, and notwithstanding a sudden rise in exchange large shipments were made.

(4) A poor crop with high prices contributed to a large falling off in the wheat trade of Calcutta during the year under report.

(5) The outturn of pulses was good in Behar, but not in Bengal generally.

(6) Supplies of raw hides were scanty for the greater part of the year, and there were fluctuations in prices, though not considerable ones.

(7) The outturn of the jute crop was about the same as in the year 1888-89; prices during the latter year were high, and those during the year under review were higher, and the growers must have done well. At the commencement of the season prices were high. There was a drop in prices, and a large quantity of jute was thrown on the market. Then freights fell, and a large business was done in consequence, but at the close of the season a rise in freights and exchange checked business.

(8) Last year was a fairly good one for the jute mills here, and good dividends were paid—a result due to the combination amongst the mills to keep up prices by working short time.

(9) There was a short crop of stick lac, resulting in very high prices—much in advance of those of the previous year.

(10) The competition of Russian with American oil cannot be said to have been as successful in Calcutta, as it would appear to be becoming in Europe, as buyers were prejudiced by the first lots not being of a satisfactory quality. Large quantities of Russian oil are, however, imported into Bombay and pass readily into consumption, and efforts are still being made to push that oil in Bengal.

(11) There was again a small crop of linseed in the Lower Provinces, but prices being higher in sympathy with the home market, supplies were forthcoming which otherwise would probably have been kept back.

(12) The mustard crop was a magnificent one throughout the Lower Provinces. Prices were considerably higher than in the previous year.

(13) Last year the outturn of poppy-seed was poor.

(14) Owing to the high price of salt brought about by the operations of the Salt Syndicate, machineries have been set up and worked in the Sulkea Golahs to crush good clean kurkutch, i.e., sun-evaporated salt, so as to bring it into the same form as Liverpool salt. This new departure in imitation Liverpool salt will probably keep down the price of the real Liverpool salt to a point at which it can be manufactured at a reasonable profit; if it spreads, it may for a time largely oust Liverpool salt from the market; and though it will succumb to a reduction in the cost of producing the English salt, it will always remain in reserve as a check upon the operations of the English salt-suppliers.

(15) The saltpetre trade was, on the whole, stationary in the Behar Province.

(16) There has been a noticeable improvement in the quality of the Bengal silk crop during the past year, and the demand was ahead of the production.

(17) The sugarcane cultivation did well in Behar during the past year. A very large quantity of sugar was received from the Mauritius.

(18) There was a larger outturn of tea in all the producing districts, and the quality of the crop was decidedly better than in the previous year.

(19) The tobacco crop was a fine one in the Lower Provinces.

COTTON, RAW.

6. The following statement gives the total quantity of raw cotton imported into, and exported from, Calcutta during the past year, as compared with the totals of the preceding two years :—

There was a partial recovery in this trade. The crop was a slightly better one than in the previous year, but the shipments to foreign countries have not been up to the average. On the other hand, owing to a strong demand for local manufacture in Bombay, supplies were carried to that province from places which usually send their cotton to Calcutta.

Imports.

7. While the total import trade during the year showed an increase of 13·40 per cent. as compared with 1888-89, it was 7 per cent. below the figures of 1887-88. In the case of the East Indian Railway the figures advanced by 31·92 per cent. in comparison with the previous year, while the Eastern Bengal State Railway showed a falling off of 37·42 per cent. The sea-borne imports were less by 9·14 per cent. The following statement shows in detail the different provinces from which raw cotton was consigned to Calcutta during the past three years :—

By far the largest increase was in the imports from the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, and was due to the despatches from Cawnpore having improved by 78,114 maunds, from Etawah by 31,980 maunds, from Agra by 29,553 maunds, and from Bulundshahar by 26,032 maunds. In the case of the supplies from Bengal the principal fluctuations were a decrease of 26,021 maunds from Dacca and 25,256 maunds from Chittagong, due to the bad harvest in the Hill Tracts. The net decrease in the shipments from Bombay aggregated 38,954 maunds, while Ulwar in Rajputana showed an advance of 23,211 maunds.

8. The following statement shows the stations on the line of railway which contributed largely to the import trade during the past three years:—

The steamer service of the Eastern Bengal State Railway carried 21,175 maunds of raw cotton to Calcutta from Naraingunge, against 45,268 maunds in 1888-89 and 25,748 maunds in 1887-88.

9. In the imports by sea the falling off occurred chiefly in the supplies received from Bombay, which contributed only 1,21,383 maunds, against 1,60,587 maunds in the previous year. The consignments from Burma aggregated 42,360 maunds against 20,338 maunds in the preceding year, those from Chittagong 19,457 maunds against 23,840 maunds, and those from Madras 14,594 maunds against 7,752 maunds.

Imports by sea.

10. The total quantity of raw cotton exported from Calcutta during the past year was 15·97 per cent in excess of the figures for 1888-89, but 26·43 per cent. below those for 1887-88. The bulk of the trade was sea-borne, and its destination was as follows:—

The fluctuations noticed in the foregoing statement are thus explained by the Collector of Customs, Calcutta:—

"There was a decline of 5 per cent. to the United Kingdom and 15 per cent. to China, against increases of 59½ per cent. to Austria, 93½ per cent. to France, 32½ per cent. to Germany, and 51 per cent. to Italy. There was also a considerable advance to Belgium, included under "Other Countries," of 150 per cent.

"The exports to the United Kingdom are again the lowest tabulated, and it is clear that cotton, which formerly went to London for distribution to the continent, now goes direct. The increase to Italy is, I believe, due to a marked development of cotton manufactures in that country, and the increases to other countries may be attributed to larger direct shipments instead of through the United Kingdom, as well as to the above cause. Our exports to the continent of Europe are, however, very small compared with the shipments from Bombay, and to Austria and France are mere fractions of the exports to those countries from Bombay. The decline to China is due to her having taken more from Bombay."

11. Last year the total quantity of raw cotton not exported before the close of the year was 4,53,361 maunds, against 4,12,311 maunds in 1888-89 and 3,05,499 maunds in 1887-88.

Quantity not exported before the close of the year.

13. The figures relating to the imports by sea represent the total clearances for consumption from shipboard and from bond. The supply during the past year showed a considerable decrease of 25·05 per cent. and 26·64 per cent. in comparison with 1888-89 and 1887-88, respectively. The sources of supply during the past three years are shown in the subjoined statement:—

The Customs report for 1889-90 contains the following remarks regarding the decline in the imports of European twist and yarn:—

"The decline in grey yarn was 17½ per cent., and the importations are the lowest tabulated. There was no decline in the low counts, the falling off being almost entirely in the principal counts imported, viz. 40s. The higher counts kept at about the usual level. The most noticeable decline is in turkey red and alizarine yarn, which fell by 44¼ per cent. I am informed that this is due to a new dyeing trade having sprung up in Cawnpore. Yarn, it appears, is now dyed there with cheap aniline dyes and competes with the imported article. It is inferior, but at the same time cheaper, and is found to answer the purpose for which it is required. It would be natural to suppose that this trade would have increased the imports of grey yarn, and I can only conclude, as there has, on the contrary, been a decrease, that the yarn required for this purpose was sent from Bombay. The importations of other coloured yarns were on a normal scale, and call for no special remarks."

14. As regards the imports of Indian twist and yarn, the figures remained practically unchanged, the fluctuation being only 4·06 per cent. below the figures of 1888-89. This trade for the most part represents imports from Bombay, concerning which the Customs returns for the past year contain the following account:—

Indian twist and yarn.

"There has been a decline in the importation of yarn from Coast ports of 282 thousand pounds. Bombay has, however, sent a larger quantity than in any previous year, being slightly in advance of 1888-89. With smaller importations the total value will be seen to be about 1 lakh in advance of the previous year, owing, no doubt, to a higher level of prices."

15. The imports by country boats were chiefly shipped from the different cotton mills in the vicinity of Calcutta, as will be seen from the subjoined table which gives statistics for the past three years:—

16. Regarding the cotton mills in the 24-Pergunnahs district, the Commissioner of the Presidency Division observes:—

"The trade in cotton twist and yarn spun locally is reported to have been prosperous. Ten thousand seven hundred and eighty-three tons of cotton were worked up during the year by four mills, against 7,685 tons in the year preceding. The increase is due to a better crop of cotton in 1889-90."

In the Burdwan Division there are three cotton mills in the Howrah district. The Commissioner of that Division, however, states that "the information given regarding their outturn is very incomplete. So far as can be ascertained, the operations of the mills were restricted during the year owing to excess production."

17. In the case of the Eastern Bengal State Railway the imports showed a large falling off of 15,632 maunds and 14,608 maunds on the returns of 1888-89 and 1887-88, respectively, due to shorter supplies from the Dunbar Cotton Mill at Shamnagore. Last year the total quantity of raw material worked up in that mill was 1,03,402 maunds, against 84,311 maunds and 80,666 maunds in the preceding two years, respectively.

18. The consignments by road routes, which also represent part of the outturn of the mills in and around Calcutta, showed a marked improvement, and were even larger than the imports during 1887-88.

EXPORTS.

European twist and yarn.

19. The exports of European twist and yarn during the past year showed a decline of 6·74 per cent in comparison with the year preceding, and of 10·03 per cent. on the total of 1887-88. Compared with 1888-89, the Eastern Bengal State Railway took the largest share in the distribution of this class of goods, the total increase on this line being 14,100 maunds, against a decrease of 9,389 maunds on the East Indian Railway. The exports by inland steamers are steadily increasing year by year. The details of the supplies carried by internal routes and by sea are given separately in the following statements :—

In the exports by internal routes, the figures rose by 6,988 maunds and 6,540 maunds as compared with 1888-89 and 1887-88, respectively, but in the case of the sea-borne trade they showed a considerable falling off of 26,636 maunds and 36,830 maunds, respectively. The largest decrease occurred in the exports to Orissa, Madras, and Burma, all of which provinces, and specially the former, imported large supplies of Indian twist and yarn. In his report for 1889-90 the Collector of Customs, Calcutta, states that "this trade has been in a gradually declining state for the past three years."

Principal river marts.

20. The different marts on river routes to which this class of goods was largely exported by country-boats during the past three years are shown below :—

21. Besides these supplies, the traffic returns of the Midnapore canals show that 3,724 maunds of twist and yarn were sent during the year to the Midnapore district direct from the local cotton mills without passing the Port Commissioners' wharves. The gross imports of that district, therefore, amounted to 23,685 maunds, as detailed below :—

23. The other districts which imported European twist and yarn largely from Calcutta during the past year were—Dacca (25,637 maunds against 17,702 maunds), Nuddea (21,168 maunds against 21,359 maunds), Backergunge (16,073 maunds against 12,563 maunds), Jessore (8,854 maunds against 9,860 maunds), Hooghly (8,223 maunds against 8,827 maunds), and Furreedpore (7,291 maunds against 13,088 maunds).

24. The exports to the principal stations on the line of rail during the past three years were as follows:—

The bulk of the consignments by the steamer service of the Eastern Bengal State Railway was shipped for Dacca, which received 13,317 maunds against 10,612 maunds in 1888-89. The other marts which imported largely were Serajgunge (3,690 maunds against 3,029 maunds) and Naraingunge (9,970 maunds against 3,163 maunds).

25. The export trade of Calcutta in Indian twist and yarn shows steady development. Last year the exports by internal routes rose from 1,08,217 maunds in 1888-89 to 1,17,810 maunds in the year under report, and those by sea from 82,339 maunds to 1,51,435 maunds. The quantities carried by the East Indian Railway during the past three years were distributed as follows:—

Compared with the previous year, the exports to Indian ports showed a rise of 103·28 per cent., and those to Foreign ports of 73·13 per cent.

Comparison of imports with exports.

27. The total quantity of cotton twist and yârn, both European and Indian, exported during the year was 1,69,186 maunds in excess of the quantity imported, against a similar deficit of 54,210 maunds in 1888-89 and of 57,800 maunds in 1887-88.

COTTON PIECE-GOODS.

28. The following statement gives details of the total value of European cotton piece-goods brought to, and carried from, Calcutta by all routes, during the past three years:—

29. These figures represent declared values in all cases, with the exception, however, of piece-goods carried by railway and by inland steamers, in which cases they are registered by weight only. In the case of imports by rail, the value of these goods has been calculated according to the value rates of the different exporting provinces. Under the other heads values have been calculated at Rs. 70 per maund, which has been taken to represent the average value of a maund of European piece-goods of all sorts in Bengal.

EUROPEAN PIECE-GOODS.

Imports.

30. The value of European piece-goods imported by sea represents the total clearances for consumption from shipboard and from bond. Compared with 1888-89, the transactions of the past year indicate a decrease of 9·58 per cent., while as compared with 1887-88 there was an increase of 4·24 per cent. The supplies during the past three years were obtained from the different ports mentioned in the table below:—

31. The decrease in the imports from the United Kingdom amounted to 9·49 per cent. as compared with the previous year. The Collector of Customs, Calcutta, offers the following remarks on the condition of the foreign trade in piece-goods during the past official year:—

"The fall in grey cotton piece-goods was very heavy in comparison with 1888-89, but the importations are about the average ones. The cotton trade in Lancashire followed very much the same course as in the previous year. Spinners did fairly well until it was seen that supplies of cotton would probably be short when the price of the raw material advanced, the rise being further increased by the operations of speculators in Liverpool. Short time was then resorted to, and after a while the cotton "corner" collapsed, and prices fell heavily. The manufacturers who did not spin their own yarn were considerably affected by this, as there was no corresponding rise in the market for the manufactured article to counterbalance it; while those who spun their own yarn suffered in a less degree, as they made their profit on the yarn spinning. There was another thing which tended to keep up the price of yarn to the prejudice of the manufacturers. The extension of loom power had gone ahead of the production of yarn required to feed it, and with a larger outturn of yarn from new and re-opened mills in the current year, the manufacturers will probably do better.

"The trade in cotton piece-goods in Calcutta has not been specially remunerative to importers during the year. Large stocks were carried over from the previous year, which of course had to be worked off. As happened in 1888-89, at the close of the year under review money was scarce and the bank rate of interest very high, causing the usual trouble with the dealers, who could not take delivery of their goods.

"The trade of native houses with Manchester direct, referred to in previous reports continues to expand, and was last year on a larger scale than in any previous one."

Exports.

32. The total advance in the export trade was 6 per cent. as compared with the year preceding, and 11·41 per cent. as compared with 1887-88. Looking to the different routes followed by the trade, it will be seen that by far the largest portion was despatched by rail. The increase in the quantity carried by the East Indian Railway amounted to 3·86 per cent. on the returns of 1888-89, and to 12·24 per cent. on those of 1887-88. The Eastern Bengal State Railway showed an improvement of 15·25 per cent. and 18·07 per cent. in comparison with those years, respectively, while in the supply consigned by inland steamers there was an increase of 11·29 per cent. and 40·26 per cent., respectively. The boat traffic showed a decrease of 8·78 per cent. and 31·60 per cent. on the totals of 1888-89 and 1887-88, respectively, and the exports by road routes of 2·16 per cent. and 17·65 per cent., respectively.

The destination of the piece-goods despatched from Calcutta, province by province, during the past year as compared with the figures of the preceding two years is shown below:—

Total ...	13,97,97,154	14,69,29,468	15,57,52,554

33. The valuation rate of Rs. 70 for a maund of piece-goods is 25 per cent. in excess of the average value rate of such goods registered in the Custom House during 1889-90. In order, therefore, to strike any correct balance between imports and exports, it will be necessary, in the first instance, to establish an equilibrium between these two sections of the trade. If therefore, as in previous years, 25 per cent. be added to the imports by sea, the total value of the year's traffic would be raised to Rs. 16,31,92,863, against Rs. 18,05,24,091 in the previous year. Deducting from this the total supply of piece-goods, amounting to Rs. 15,57,52,554, shown above, exported from Calcutta, there remains a surplus of Rs. 74,40,309, against Rs. 3,35,94,623 in 1888-89 and Rs. 1,67,71,873 in 1887-88.

Comparison of imports with exports.

34. The importation of piece-goods into the interior of Bengal Proper from Calcutta direct during the past three years is shown in the following statement:—

36. After deduction of the exports from imports, there remains Rs. 5,79,30,088 worth of piece-goods available in the Bengal districts for a population of 40,419,594 souls, which gives an average yearly consumption rate of Re. 1-6-11 per head, against Re. 1-5-6 per head in 1888-89 and Re. 1-4-11 per head in 1887-88.

Comparison of imports with exports.

37. The following comparative statement shows the total value of piece-goods imported into Behar from Calcutta direct during the past three years:—

The total registered supply from all sources, therefore, amounted to Rs. 3,72,36,469, against Rs. 3,46,16,011 in 1888-89 and Rs. 3,61,51,515 in 1887-88.

38. In the following table details are furnished in respect of the value of piece-goods exported from this Province by rail and by land during the three years ending 1889-90:—

Exports.

	1887-88.	1888-89.	1889-90.

39. If exports be deducted from imports, the value of piece-goods left for consumption in Behar was Rs. 3,50,65,284 during the past year. This would give a rate of Re. 1-8-3 per head of a population of 23,127,104 souls, against Re. 1-6-8 per head in 1888-89 and Re. 1-7-10 in 1887-88.

Comparison of imports with exports.

40. The value of piece-goods consigned for the Orissa Division during the past year is compared below with the totals of the two previous years:—

Trade of Orissa.

	1887-88.	1888-89.	1889-90.

The exports from this Province during the past year were valued at Rs. 14,250, and the balance, amounting to Rs. 13,05,320, gives an average yearly local consumption rate of annas 4 per head of a population consisting of 5,199,877 souls. In each of the two previous years the rate per head was 5 annas 3 pies.

Trade of Calcutta with Assam.

41. The total value of piece-goods imported into Assam from Calcutta was Rs. 59,25,080, against Rs. 37,48,059 in 1888-89 and Rs. 33,60,522 in 1887-88.

Trade of Bengal with the Upper Provinces.

The Collector of Customs, Calcutta, writes:—

"The decreases in the various descriptions of grey cotton goods have been most heavy in grey shirtings, which declined by over 45½ million yards; in jaconets, which declined by about 18¼ million yards; and in dhooties, which declined by about 10 million yards. Smaller decreases were in drills (5 million yards) and scarves and chudders (3 million yards). The only important increases were in madapollams and mulls, the former increasing by over 9¾ million yards, and the latter by 1¾ million yards.

"In white cotton piece-goods the decline was 22 per cent., which was spread over nearly all descriptions. The principal decreases were in jaconets 23¼ million yards, in shirtings 10½ million yards, in scarves and chudders 6½ million yards, and in dhooties nearly 2 million yards. The only important increase was in nainsooks, which advanced by over 5¼ million yards. The trade in white goods, except in white shirtings, is said to have been unremunerative during the past year to importers.

"The imports of coloured, printed, or dyed cotton piece-goods show the smallest decline, being only a little over 6¼ million yards, or 4½ per cent. There were considerable fluctuations in the various descriptions falling under this head, some having increased largely, while others decreased as heavily. The trade in these goods, too, is said to have been unremunerative during the past year, the demand not having been brisk at any time. Cawnpore has also taken to dyeing piece-goods as well as yarns, a trade which, if it grows, will affect these imports unfavourably. In connection with the importation of prints, I am informed that calico printers are now largely consigning goods for sale on their own account instead of leaving the trade to the merchants, as was formerly done."

44. The results of the enquiries made by some of the local officers regarding the proportion in which the different classes of European piece-goods were imported into some of the Bengal districts during the past year are abstracted below:—

47. The imports have advanced by 10·47 per cent. in comparison with 1888-89, and by 6·25 per cent. on the figures for 1887-88. By far the largest increase, amounting to Rs. 3,80,302, or 16·69 per cent., is observable in the imports by sea. The Collector of Customs makes the following remarks under this head:—

"The imports of cotton piece-goods have advanced by over 3 million yards, or 27½ per cent. The supplies of cotton piece-goods were smaller than in the previous year, which may have induced shipments from Bombay, and probably there was also a diversion from the foreign trade, as there was a heavy fall in the exports from that port to foreign countries during the past year. From other ports the imports are principally from Madras."

The exports of Indian piece-goods show a very considerable increase of 71·68 per cent. in comparison with the previous year, and of 80·17 per cent. when compared with 1887-88. The places from which the supply was drawn, and those to which it was sent, are shown in the subjoined statement:—

49. There are altogether 7 cotton mills in Bengal, namely, 3 in Howrah and 4 in the 24-Pergunnahs district. They manufacture yarn only. As regards hand-made goods, the Divisional Administration Reports for the past official year contain the following information:—

BURDWAN DIVISION.—"The Magistrate of Burdwan reports that there are in his district numbers of cotton clothweavers in many villages who still follow their caste profession, and that when in full work their earnings are good, as all the members of the family can take part in the work. They are, however, liable to suffer occasionally from long periods of depression. The Magistrate of Bankoora reports that owing to the importation of cheap European piece-goods the weavers can hardly 'eke out a most miserable subsistence with all their persistent drudgery.' The industry is on the decline.

"In the Serampore subdivision of the Hooghly district cotton cloths continue to be largely made.

"The Magistrates of Howrah and Beerbhoom report that such manufactures are gradually decaying on account of the introduction of cheap English piece-goods."

PRESIDENCY DIVISION.—"The dhootees and sarees of Santipore (in Nuddea) are much in demand throughout Lower Bengal. The sarees manufactured at Moheshpore (in Jessore), however, command a high price in the market."

RAJSHAHYE DIVISION.—"Cotton cloth manufactured in Pubna is much in demand by the well-to-do classes of the neighbouring districts, where it is largely exported. It is estimated that about Rs. 2,50,000 worth of cloth is made by hand-looms by a class of Mahomedan weavers locally known by the name of Karikar."

BHAGULPORE DIVISION—Bhagulpore.—"The manufacture of country cloth is gradually declining." Purneah—"Country cloth is manufactured to some extent in the Kissengunge subdivision. The thread and dyes are imported, but the designs are local."

INDIGO.

50. The indigo trade of Calcutta during the past year as compared with the figures of the preceding two years was as follows:—

The foregoing statement shows an improvement both in imports and exports. The season's outturn was over 10,000 maunds in excess of that of 1888, but the quality of the crop generally was not good, and prices, except for certain special kinds, were below those of the previous year. The average declared value per Indian maund shown in the Customs returns was Rs. 199, against Rs. 232 and Rs. 231 in 1888-89 and 1887-88, respectively; the price is said to be far the lowest yet tabulated. About the close of the year prices were affected unfavourably by the tightness of money and the sudden rise in exchange. The following extract regarding the prospects of Indigo is taken from the report of the Collector of Customs, Calcutta, for the past year:—

"Speaking generally of the prospects of indigo, a well-known firm of London brokers writes:—'With prices lower than at any period during the past 40 years, the position of the article is not really an unfavourable one as, with a continuance of low prices, a further extension of consumption is probable. Substitutes are no doubt being used for some purposes for which indigo was formerly taken, owing chiefly to their simplicity of use, but for ordinary dyeing purposes no successful substitute for indigo has yet been found that we are aware of.' "

51. There was an increase in imports of 14·44 per cent. as compared with 1888-89, and of 11·36 per cent. as compared with 1887-88. The advance in the imports by the East Indian Railway was 9·34 per cent., and by the Eastern

Bengal State Railway 41·61 per cent., as compared with those of the previous year, while the inland steamer returns show a rise from 793 maunds in 1888-89 to 3,534 maunds in 1889-90. The distribution of the imports is classified by provinces in the subjoined statement:—

Concerning Behar, it may be observed that in the Patna Division the outturn generally was below that of last year, but the Commissioner of the Division remarks that "though often threatened, I do not see any signs of decay in the industry." As regards the Bhagulpore Division, the only locality in which the outturn during the year was reported to be good was the Beguserai subdivision of the Monghyr district; in all other districts the yield was less than that of the previous year. The increase under the North-Western Provinces and Oudh was owing to larger despatches from Etawah, Alighur, Bulundshahar, Meerut, Cawnpore, and Agra. As regards Bengal, the largest increase occurred in the consignments from Nuddea, which exported 13,153 maunds, against 6,310 maunds in the year preceding. In his general administration report for 1889-90 the Commissioner of the Presidency Division gives the following particulars of this industry in the Nuddea district:—

"In Nuddea, indigo forms the chief manufacture. The following table will show the state of this industry:—

Year.	Factories.	Produce.	Value.
		Mds.	Rs.
1887-88	80	3,836	8,78,488
1888-89	71	3,947	9,56,000
1889-90	63	6,650	11,52,806

"It will be seen from the above table that there was an increase both in produce and the value of indigo as compared with the previous year. The increase occurred chiefly in the Meherpore subdivision, which is the principal seat of the indigo industry in this district. As reported in previous years, there are five large concerns situated wholly or partly within this subdivision These are the Shikerpur Concern of Messrs. Watson and Company, the Shonodah Concern of Babu Nuffer Chunder Pal Chowdhury, the Katuli Concern of Mr. P. Smith, and portions of the Patkabari Concern of Mr. A. Hill, and of the Nischindipur Concern of Mr. E. Macnaughten. The total outturn from these five concerns was 3,941 maunds, valued at Rs. 7,29,250, against 1,829 maunds, valued at Rs. 3,90,352, in the preceding year. In the Chuadanga subdivision there is one important indigo concern—Sinduria—which is managed by Mr. W. Sherriff."

Regarding Jessore and Moorshedabad, the Commissioner writes:—

"Jessore.—There were in this district 29 indigo concerns and factories at work during the year under report, against the same number in the previous year. A new factory was opened during the year at Sunkergunge in the Sudder station by the Rajah of Naldanga, but it did not add to the number of factories, as the factory at Auria in the Narail subdivision was not worked during the year.

"Excluding the factory at Babukhali in the Magurah subdivision, which has furnished no statistics, the total outturn of indigo in Jessore amounted to 2,695 maunds, against 1,806 maunds of the previous year. The increase in the outturn shows that the year was a favourable one to this industry. The value of the outturn is estimated at Rs. 4,54,488, against Rs. 3,89,289 of the year preceding. The price of indigo varied from Rs. 170 to Rs. 200 per maund, against Rs. 190 to Rs. 234 in the previous year.

"Moorshedabad.—The number of indigo factories at work during the year was 27. Of these, 13 in Sudder subdivision, 5 in Lalbagh, and 1 in Kandi, are managed by Europeans, and 8 in the Jungypore subdivision are managed by natives. The outturn during the year was 4,358 maunds, against 2,594 maunds of the previous year, its value being Rs. 8,33,530, against Rs. 5,68,443. The Collector says:—'The indigo season was a bumper one.'"

The indigo crop was a good one throughout the Burdwan Division, and there was an increase in the produce in every district in which it is grown. In the Rajshahye Division indigo cultivation continues in a languid condition. Dinagepore showed an extensive decline during the year under notice, which is attributed to the fact that the industry is gradually dying out. From Pubna, however, it is reported that a factory has been established by a native gentleman at Khetoopara, where about 700 bighas of land were sown with indigo. Concerning the Rajshahye district, the Commissioner writes:—

"In Rajshahye the export of indigo shows a rise in the quantity, being 1,800 maunds against 1,585 maunds in 1888. The Collector reports that the prospects of indigo are becoming more favourable year after year, and the increased demand for the dye, with a steady market, induces the opulent zemindars to start small factories for its manufacture. It is expected that the area of indigo cultivation will get still further accessions in the future."

In the Dacca Division only six small indigo factories exist in the Goalundo subdivision of the Furreedpore district. The outturn increased from 83 maunds in 1888 to 101 maunds in 1889. Indigo is manufactured in Manbhoom in the Chota Nagpore Division, the total outturn last year being valued at Rs. 17,349, against Rs. 11,318 in 1888-89 and Rs. 22,800 in 1887-88.

Exports.

52. The total quantity of indigo exported during the year showed an advance of 5·76 per cent. on the returns of 1888-89, and of 5·52 per cent. on those of 1887-88. The statement below gives the destination of the sea-borne exports:—

The fluctuations in the foreign trade are explained by the Collector of Customs, Calcutta, as follows:—

"In comparison with 1888-89 the exports of indigo have increased by 6 per cent.

"There were larger shipments to the United Kingdom, to Austria, Germany, and Turkey in Asia, against decreases to France, Italy, and the United States.

"The following table shows the actual distribution of the crop during the past two years:—

	1888-89.	1889-90.
	Chests.	Chests.
Great Britain	6,085	7,900

Russia	2,815	2,990
America	9,263	8,700
Gulfs and Levant	648	950
Total ...	33,612	35,430

"It will be seen that the United Kingdom took a larger quantity, while, with the exception of America, the other countries were about on a level with previous years.

"The exports to the United Kingdom show a very considerable advance. Prices in London last year were, with the exception of for good and fine Bengal, the lowest for the past five years. A considerable quantity is always re-exported from the United Kingdom, as will be seen from the following figures giving landing, home consumption, and export:—

	Total landed.	Consumption.	Export.
	Chests.	Chests.	Chests.
1889	21,500	10,686	10,439
1888	19,914	10,993	8,181
1887	18,092	11,249	9,148
1886	22,070	11,291	9,282
1885	18,179	10,773	10,500

Consumption was on about the same level as in the previous year, while exports show a decided increase.

"The exports to Russia consist principally of the best kinds, while the United States, which are probably the largest consumer of indigo, take the commoner kinds, usually Oudh indigo. The direct shipments to Russia were slightly smaller than in 1888-89. The larger shipments to Austria and Germany are no doubt due to greater facilities for direct shipment."

Quantity not exported before the close of the year.

53. During the year under report the surplus of imports over exports was 20,322 maunds, against 8,699 maunds in 1888-89 and 11,153 maunds in 1887-88.

Imports.

55. The imports practically remained unchanged, the decrease being only ·72 per cent. below the figures of 1888-89, but 17·01 per cent. above those of 1887-88. The decrease was most marked in the supplies carried by road routes (45·62 per cent.), by boat (6·78 per cent.), by the East Indian Railway (31·99 per cent.), and by inland steamers (5·11 per cent.), the imports by only the Eastern Bengal State Railway showing a considerable rise of 13·06 per cent., which may, to a large extent, be accounted for by the diversion of the road traffic to the Central Bengal section of the line. It is stated in the Customs Reports for 1889-90 that—

"The crop was not so large as in the previous year, but though that year's prices were high, those of the year under review were higher, and the growers must have done well. At the commencement of the season prices were high, but the attempts of speculators to force them higher failed; there was a drop in prices, and a large quantity of jute was thrown on the market. Then freights fell, and a large business was done in consequence, but at the close of the season a rise in freights and exchange checked business."

56. The following extract regarding the jute industry in the Rajshahye Division is taken from the General Administration Report of the Commissioner of that Division for the year 1889-90:—

"The jute crop in Dinagepore was generally unsuccessful. In Bogra a considerable quantity of jute was destroyed by floods. In Rungpore not only was the crop a good one, but prices ruled high. In Julpigoree the outturn would have been greater had there not been a deficiency of rain both at the beginning and at the end of the jute season. In Darjeeling the outturn shows a marked improvement."

In the Dacca Division, jute, on the whole, did pretty well in Dacca and Furreedpore, while in Mymensing it was an average crop. Concerning the jute trade of Naraingunge, the Commissioner of the Division makes these remarks—

"The export trade in this article was brisk during the year, and in the earlier part of it the growers of jute netted large profits, the price ranging from Rs. 4-8 to Rs. 5 per maund. The rise in price was due to keen competition among several European firms."

In the Presidency Division there was a good jute crop in the 24-Pergunnahs district, but not so in Jessore and Khulna, where the distribution of the rainfall during the year was unfavourable. Speaking about the latter district, the Commissioner states that "the railway has, however, succeded in diverting a portion of the jute trade of Eastern Bengal to it."

As regards the Chittagong Division, the ryots of the Tipperah district had a bumper crop of jute, and the Commissioner reports that they secured high prices, which generally only accompany a short crop. In the Bhagulpore Division the jute crop of the Kishengunge subdivision in Purneah gave a 14-anna outturn, and in Maldah it suffered to some extent from high floods.

63. The exports were 5·38 per cent. less than those of 1888-89, but 5·96 per cent. in excess of those of 1887-88. The subjoined statement shows the destination of the quantity shipped from Calcutta by sea during those years:—

The Collector of Customs, Calcutta, makes the following remarks regarding this trade during the past year:—

"In comparison with 1888-89 the exports of raw jute in the past year have declined by 5¾ per cent., but they were still above the average of the previous five years.

"The fall to the United Kingdom was 7½ per cent., to Austria 46 per cent., to Germany and the United States trifling, while the increase under other countries was due to larger shipments to Italy, France, and Spain. In the total exports from Bengal, however, there was no falling off, the deficiency from Calcutta being more than made up for by the shipments from Chittagong, which increased to the extent of 2,22,846 cwts.

"In Dundee the jute trade has had another fairly good year, and all the mills and factories there are said to be fully employed while extensions are being made. Exports of manufactured jute from the United Kingdom, both yarn and piece-goods, show a very considerable advance, principally to the United States and Germany. The total figures for piece-goods to all countries are—

	Yds.
1887	244,177,700
1888	231,510,800
1889	264,772,300

"The uses to which jute is put are steadily increasing, and fancy-goods, such as carpets, rugs, and plushes, are now being made from it. The following are the figures of exports of raw jute from the United Kingdom, and it will be seen that the quantities are larger than the total of our direct shipments to the continent of Europe:—

	Tons.
1887	106,366
1888	102,787
1889	115,629

"Part of the above probably went to Germany, to which country the direct shipments from here were about on the same scale as in the previous year. To the United States the exports were about 5 per cent. less than in 1888-89. The substitution of cotton for jute cloth in the packing of raw cotton, which was threatened by the cotton planters in the United States, was not apparently carried out. The threat was made to encounter the operation of a Syndicate which was trying to force up the price of jute bagging."

64. The imports balanced the exports with a surplus amounting to 47,83,359 maunds, against 42,01,090 maunds in 1888-89 and 30,05,194 maunds in 1887-88.

Quantity not exported before the close of the year.

GUNNY BAGS.

66. In the import trade, which fell off by 20·93 per cent. and 30·29 per cent. on the returns of the two years 1888-89 and 1887-88, respectively, the largest decrease, namely, 4,023,608 bags, occurred in the supplies carried by country-boats; the consignments brought by the Eastern Bengal State Railway and by sea also showed a considerable decline of 895,370 bags and 140,982 bags, respectively, in comparison with the year preceding.

The Collector of Customs, Calcutta, observes—

"There is no doubt that Calcutta-made bags are now in favour in the home markets, and are interfering with, though they have not yet ousted, the manufacture of Dundee. In a price-current from that place I see it noticed that at the close of the year prospects were not so good, as a large number of Calcutta bags were being offered in London and Liverpool at very low prices.

"The total exports to Coast ports were on about the same level as in the previous year, the figures being—

"It would appear then to have been a fairly good year for the jute mills here, and dividends, in some instances very good ones, have been paid—a result due to the combination amongst the mills to keep up prices by working short time."

The Commissioner of Rajshahye gives the following account regarding hand-made gunnies in the Dinagepore district. Gunny bags are also largely exported from Domor in Rungpore, where they are manufactured, but no reliable statistics are available:—

"Gunny bags are largely made in Dinagepore, and are said to be very strong and durable. There is a considerable export of them. Gunny is also made into rough screens with striped colours."

The steamer service of the Eastern Bengal State Railway carried 6,602,575 bags to Calcutta from Serajgunge, against 7,537,320 bags in 1888-89 and 6,882,855 bags in 1887-88.

70. It will be seen that the decrease last year in the export trade amounted to 1·26 per cent. in comparison with 1888-89, but when compared with 1887-88 the figures exhibit an increase of 12·95 per cent. The destination of the sea-borne trade was as follows:—

The Collector of Customs, Calcutta, writes—

"The year 1888-89 was one of very large exports of gunny-bags, and the decline in comparison is only 1½ per cent.

"The most remarkable advance was to the United Kingdom, the shipments to which increased by 46½ per cent., and are now the largest to any country. A portion of the large increase, however, has very likely gone through England to other countries.

"There has been a further advance to Egypt of 14 per cent., and the figures are gradually getting back to their old level. The exports to the United States and to Hongkong for the United States show a heavy falling off, although there were larger shipments of grain from the Pacific side of the United States. Probably the large shipments of the previous year left stocks which account for this. The shipments to Australia were on about the same scale as in the previous year. These exports consist principally of corn sacks and wool packs. Under 'other countries' are included large shipments to the Cape Colony and Talcahuano, to both of which there were advances."

The exports by the East Indian Railway during the past year were chiefly to Delhi (2,165,800 bags), Patna (1,740,375 bags), Cawnpore (1,523,970 bags), Burdwan (9,51,650, bags), Beerbhoom (842,205 bags), Sonthal Pergunnahs (775,145 bags), Amritsur (717,920 bags), Bhagulpore (665,595 bags), Durbhunga (628,425 bags), Monghyr (416,990 bags), Shahabad (397,355 bags), Fyzabad (346,325 bags), Allyghur (344,330 bags), Chumparun (299,390 bags), Umballa (282,310 bags), Sarun (258,685 bags), Agra (234,255 bags), Bullandshaher (228,935 bags), Gya (216,335 bags), and to other districts (5,284,825 bags).

The supplies carried by country-boats were for the most part consigned to Hooghly (412,837 bags), Nuddea (160,616 bags), Bhagulpore (79,493 bags), Midnapore (75,131 bags), Purneah (65,818 bags), Burdwan (61,884 bags), 24-Pergunnahs (61,811 bags), and other districts (169,580 bags).

71. The exports balance the imports with a deficit amounting to 136,162,963 bags, against a deficit of 133,226,917 bags in 1888-89 and 110,353,813 bags in 1887-88. This result is due to the large manufacture of gunny bags in Calcutta and the suburbs.

Comparison of imports with exports.

GUNNY CLOTH.

72. The imports and exports of gunny cloth into, and from, Calcutta during the past three years were as follows:—

Specification of Routes.	Imports.			Exports.

It has been explained in previous reports that gunny bags and gunny cloth are shown together in the railway returns. Moreover, in the case of the trade by road and river, this article is registered in pieces, while in the sea-borne trade returns it is shown in yards. For the purpose of converting pieces into yards, a machine-made piece is taken as equal to 80 yards, and a hand-made piece as equal to 22 yards. The foregoing figures, therefore, do not represent the actual extent of the transactions in Calcutta under this head, part of the trade in gunny cloth having been included under the head "Gunny bags."

73. The total traffic carried to, and from, Calcutta by sea during the past three years was as follows:—

74. Last year the imports by internal routes showed a slight decrease of 13·50 per cent. as compared with the figures of 1888-89, and of 7·27 per cent. when compared with 1887-88. The decline occurred chiefly in the consignments carried by country-boats. Out of the total supply, 2,210 pieces were of power-loom manufacture, and 32,782 pieces were hand-made, as detailed in the subjoined statement:—

The Collector of Customs, Calcutta, gives the following explanation of the fluctuations in the exports to foreign countries:—

"The exports of gunny-cloth have more than doubled as compared with 1888-89. This advance is due to larger shipments to the United Kingdom and the United States, and the demand in the United States for this class of goods must have been heavy, as the exports to them from the United Kingdom also show a notable increase."

Comparison of imports with exports.

76. Last year there was a deficit in the imports over exports of 43,280,911 yards, against a similar deficit of 19,301,900 yards in 1888-89 and of 18,001,485 yards in 1887-88. This represents part of the outturn of the steam mills in and around Calcutta.

77. In addition to the registered supplies mentioned above, the consignments of power-loom gunny-cloth sent up country direct from the neighbouring mills without passing the Port Commissioners' wharves, but intercepted at the toll stations on the Nuddea rivers, are detailed below:—

78. During the year under report there were 23 jute mills at work in the neighbourhood of Calcutta, against the same number in 1888-89 and 22 in 1887-88. The amount of raw jute worked up was 47,74,777 maunds, showing an increase of 2·79 per cent. as compared with the previous year, and a decrease of 5·85 per cent. in comparison with 1887-88. Figures, however, are not available to show separately how much of the raw material was used in making gunny-cloth and gunny-bags. The table below shows the number of looms and spindles at work, and the aggregate quantity of raw jute consumed in the different mills during the past three years:—

FOOD-GRAINS.

79. The harvests of the year under report were better than those of the preceding year, but owing to a failure of the crops in 1888, consequent on inundations and floods, there was an exorbitant rise in the price of all sorts of food-grains. The statistics of traffic show that there was an aggregate decrease of 42,78,824 maunds, or 16·11 per cent., in the importation of food-grains into Calcutta during 1889-90 as compared with the previous year, and of 83,86,229 maunds, or 27·35 per cent., on the total of 1887-88. In the export trade there was a decrease of 47,71,512 maunds, or 23·73 per cent., as compared with 1888-89, and of 96,64,160 maunds, or 38·66 per cent., in comparison with 1887-88. The following abstract exhibits the total trade, import and export, under each kind of food-grain separately, during the past three years:—

81. The excess of imports over exports during the past year was 7·63 per cent greater than in the year preceding, and 22·53 per cent. higher than in 1887-88. The largest falling off, both in imports and exports, occurred under rice and wheat. The following particulars regarding the tracts in which the rice harvest was deficient during the year are taken from the forecast of the outturn of the winter rice crops in these provinces, published in December 1889 by the Director of the Department of Land Records and Agriculture, Bengal.

"Distressed areas.—An 8-anna crop is believed to be sufficient to enable the people to tide over a year of short harvest: the outturn of the current year, as estimated by Collectors, and the estimated outturn of last year in the tracts of seriously deficient harvest, are—

"It will be observed that the areas of bad harvest in Central Bengal (Burdwan, Hooghly, Nuddea, Jessore, 24-Pergunnahs, and Moorshedabad) are all situated in a block, in close proximity to one another. In some of them the harvest was short last year, and in none was it what might be called a good one, so that there cannot be large stores of grain in stock; but all these areas enjoy special facilities for importation, and being close to Calcutta and other manufacturing centres the inhabitants of them are comparatively prosperous. There is reason to believe that the outturn in Cutwa and Culna has been under-estimated. Though there is cause for exercise of vigilance on the part of the local authorities in the subdivisions named above, it may yet be hoped that there will be no actual distress.

"In most of the chief rice-growing districts an average, and in some more than an average, crop will be reaped. Looking to the vast extent of country under rice in Bengal, aggregating over fifty-two thousand square miles, and to the widely different conditions of soil, some highly and some lowly situated; and having regard to the varying conditions of climate which prevail in different parts of these provinces, it must always be expected that the crop will suffer in some particular tracts, either from deficiency of rainfall on the one hand, or from excess of rain and floods on the other. The present year is not exceptional in this respect. For the province, as a whole, it may be said that the rice crop is far better than that of last year, and that on the whole an average, or nearly an average, crop may be expected."

82. A similar forecast was published in March 1889 concerning the outturn of the wheat crop, extracts from which are given below:—

"Forecast of the Outturn of Wheat Crop in Bengal to the 31*st January* 1889.

"The area sown in the districts of Shahabad, Patna, Chumparun, Gya, Bhagulpore, Burdwan, Bankoora, Hazaribagh, and Lohardugga is reported to be less than the normal owing to want of seasonable rain at sowing time. A larger area than usual was sown in Purneah to make up, it is said, for loss in the rice crop in that district. In Monghyr and Maldah the area sown is above the normal owing to early subsidence of water in the lands usually cultivated with wheat, but about half the crop in the latter district is said to have been destroyed by the recent hail-storm.

"On the whole, an average 10-anna crop or a little more may be expected."

83. With a better outturn it was expected that the rice trade would have been larger than in the year preceding, but the figures given above show contrary results, the fact, however, being that the local demand was heavy throughout the country, and in several places depleted stocks had to be replenished, and hence the quantity available for export decreased. The following extracts from the Divisional Administration Reports for the past official year, which explain the effects of that year's harvest upon the condition of the people in the Lower Provinces, may be found interesting:—

Burdwan Division.—"The steady advance of the people in material comfort and prosperity appears to have received some check during recent years owing to successive bad harvests caused by drought and flood; but, taking the division as a whole, the people were fairly well off in 1889-90. Nothing is more remarkable than the wonderful recuperative powers of the people and the patience and resignation with which they bear their losses. One good harvest always seems to redeem the effects of two or three bad ones."

Presidency Division.—"The condition of the people during the past year was affected to some extent by the failure of crops in 1888 on account of flood and inundation, and the consequent rise in the price of rice. There was undoubted pressure for some months in the inundated tracts of the Diamond Harbour subdivision, in the district of the 24-Pergunnahs, and of the Lalbagh and Jungypore subdivisions in Moorshedabad, although there was very much exaggeration by some of the newspapers. Relief works were provided by the local bodies in both districts, and gratuitous relief was also given from funds supplied by Maharani Surnomoyi, of Kassimbazar, the Nawab Bahadur of Moorshedabad, and other charitable persons. A good aus and jute crop fortunately removed all causes for anxiety in the 24-Pergunnahs in September. The trouble thus appeared in Moorshedabad owing to the rise of the river, which annually inundates some part of the country and causes a widespread amount of discomfort and misery. In Jessore the people are reported to have been worst off in the Magurah and Bongong subdivisions, which are not affected by floods. In other parts of the said districts, and in the districts of Nuddea and Khulna, the condition of the cultivating classes was one of fair prosperity, as they were able to make up for the deficiency of the crops by the high prices which prevailed.

"The labouring and middle classes, dependent on service and fixed income, suffered on account of the high prices of food-grains. Living in a state of transition, the latter class have not only to keep up old customs and appearances, but also have to cope with the wants of the day, and few of them have sufficient strength of character to resist and set themselves free from old trammels."

Rajshahye Division.—"The material condition of the people remained on the whole unchanged. The year was a fairly healthy one, and with an average good crop and high prices the agriculturists, who comprise the bulk of the population, were comparatively well off, but all classes other than cultivators, who lived on fixed incomes, felt the rise of prices."

Dacca Division.—"There was no perceptible change in the material condition of the people during the year, and the agricultural classes were on the whole as well off as ever. In Dacca and Furreedpore some pressure was felt on account of the partial failure of food-crops; but, on the other hand, the abundant harvests and high prices in Mymensingh and Backergunge contributed not a little to their growing prosperity. The only classes which suffered are those with small fixed incomes. On these the high prices of food-grains told very hardly during the year."

Chittagong Division.—"The good harvest of the past year, combined with high prices, has raised the condition of the agricultural classes, who form the bulk of the population, to a point which it has certainly not reached for many years,—probably never in parts of the division. In Chittagong, in addition to the good harvest, there was a brisk demand for labour in Aracan, so that the people quite got over the bad effects of the previous year. This district, however, has but little surplus crop, and the condition of the people improved less than in the more favoured districts of Noakhally and Tipperah.

"The Deputy Commissioner of the Hill Tracts decides after some hesitation that the material condition of the hillmen has retrograded. They had an average rice and a bad cotton harvest, but it is the effect of the expedition which caused the Deputy Commissioner to come to the above decision. It is the custom of the hill people to pay coolies requisitioned by Government over and above the wages they receive from Government, and the Deputy Commissioner calculates that the coolies were paid a sum of about Rs 60,000 by their fellow-villagers, and that the greater part of this sum, together with a large proportion of their wages, was squandered in unprofitable purchases. There is no doubt the hillman is most improvident, spending money on anything he fancies so long as the money lasts; but I know also that very large sums have reached the money-lenders in repayment of old loans, and it is many years since the hillmen have been so free of debt as they are at this moment.

"There is no doubt the expeditions of the last two years have interfered with the ordinary avocations of the people, but the security they will in future enjoy will make ample amends for the privations of the last two years."

Patna Division.—"The reports before me are very conflicting, and I feel as puzzled as my predecessor. From the North Ganges districts I read of terrible distress, almost amounting to famine, in August and September, followed in a few months by great prosperity consequent on an excellent winter rice and rubbi crop.

"Mr. Grierson writes of the poorer classes in Gya that their state is appallingly wretched, and strongly advocates the spending of money on gilandazi as the panacea for all ills. This, however, he states, would only be a temporary remedy. From all districts, however, trade is reported to be brisk. Among the banking and artizan classes it is said that a general desire to live in a better style is springing up. Testimony is borne to the steadily increasing prosperity of the smaller class of landowners, and to the great demand for the services of the labouring classes both in the fields and elsewhere. I know myself, from my experience in the Opium Department and from what I hear in the city, that of late years the difficulty of procuring labour has largely increased in Patna. Carters, coolies and others appear to have gone elsewhere for work, while the wages of those who are left have risen

"Mr. Bourdillon remarks that the dearness of grain in Sarun this year was due, not to the lowness of the stocks, but to combinations among traders. On the whole, I believe that, except among the Kharwars on the Shahabad plateau and among the low-caste semi-aborigines in the south of Gya, the people are not badly off. They can all get work if they like, but they are as a rule lazy and improvident and thriftless, but owing to the good services of the much-abused mahajun manage to lead as comfortable lives as do the people of most other countries."

Bhagulpore Division—Monghyr.—"In the Begnserai subdivision the people were greatly pinched owing to the high prices of food-grains during the first half of the year, but after the bhadoi and paddy were gathered the prices fell and the pressure was removed. As regards the general condition of the poorer classes, Mr. Waller makes the following remarks, which agree with the impressions generally produced by a first visit to Behar:—'Coming from Eastern Bengal, as I have, one cannot fail to note the poor condition of the lower classes here, their lean and hungry look and poor physique, compared with the fat, well-to-do peasantry of the eastern districts, and that although the climate of Monghyr is so much healthier than that of the malarious rice swamps of Furreedpore, &c. The lower rates of wages and higher rates of rent here as compared with Eastern Bengal are all against the lower classes being prosperous.'

Bhagulpore (note by Mr. Wace).—"'In those tracts which suffered from the drought of 1888, there was great cause for anxiety in the early part of the year in respect of both the small cultivators and the labourers. The latter were helped by the relief works which were started at various points, but things never got bad enough to drive those classes which are ordinarily above labour on to the works. All through April and May these classes were much pinched in the north-east of Soopool, the north-east and centre of Banka, and in the south-west of the Sudder subdivision. The village mahajun's heart remained as hard as the ground till the rain fell, and ryots seemed to think that Government would repeat the lavish operations of 1874. Advances were, however, kept for the tract specified above. In Naradigur our work was well supplemented by the Maharajah of Durbhunga. As usual the mahajun came forward when the rain fell at last, and an increase in the registration returns under mortgages and sales shows that he was used more freely than usual, and I fear the year closes with the small cultivators more indebted than ever. They have, however, benefited by getting better prices for the surplus of the harvest just over than they could have expected considering its abundance. The Managers of the Durbhunga Raj and of the Srinagore estate each report that the advances they made are being rapidly paid up. The high prices of course affected the labouring class all over the district, and not only over the limited tracts mentioned; but as noted elsewhere, employment was given by zemindars and well-to-do ryots in earthwork, and when crop is once in and doing well, there seems always money or grain forthcoming to feed the labour for weeding and tending it. The relief operations of the past year are summarised in the statement lately submitted to Government. The first relief work was started in May, and all were closed by the middle of September 1889. The largest number of persons on the works was 1,965 in the fortnight ending 30th June 1889. It may be that for a short time the poorer classes in a limited tract were harder pressed than they were in the same period of 1874, when relief of every kind was brought to their doors; but I believe that all that was really necessary for them was put within their reach, and it is well that they should have realised at last that Government cannot treat every scarcity as we did that of 1874, and that they must rely partly on their own resources. The railways of the north are a great temptation to men to deplete their stocks of grain, and an idea that Government is always at hand to bring grain back again might encourage that temptation. When the next failure comes and prices run up, I fancy that cultivators will not be tempted so much by them, but will hold larger stocks. They were perilously low before the last bhadoi harvest.'

Purneah.—" Except in the Kishengunge subdivision, the people have had a hard year. Prices rose to a very high pitch in August and September, but more favourable prospects came in with a good aghani harvest and a plentiful outturn of oilseeds and early rubbi crops. The condition of the people is now normal in most parts of the district. The people must have considerable resources, as, even with the high prices of food which prevailed in the first half of the year, few people came to the relief works which were opened. Rates of daily labour are always high, and the demand for labour is fairly constant.

Maldah.—" Mr. Samuells has the following remarks under this head :—' The greater part of the population of this district are agriculturists. They are, as far as I have seen, prosperous and independent.'

Sonthal Pergunnahs.—" The harvest having been on the whole a fair one, the condition of the people remained prosperous during the year in spite of the high prices which prevailed during part of it. In the Pakour subdivision the condition of the people has materially improved during the year : that of the cultivating Sonthals, owing to the fact that they have in most cases got their holdings back again from the mahajuns, and that of the cultivating classes generally owing to the opening of new roads which have afforded them increased facilities for disposing of their grain. The labourers, too, can always get work when they really want it. Some of the Paharias are no doubt badly off, but this is due only to their own laziness and dislike for work. On the whole, the people may be described as fairly well-to-do and comfortably off. There is no great affluence, but abject poverty hardly exists.

" Of the division, as a whole, I think it may safely be said that the general condition of the people affords no ground for despondency, and that they were distinctly better off at the close than at the beginning of the year. The picture of the Sonthal Pergunnahs, as drawn by the Deputy Commissioner, is decidedly cheerful."

Chota Nagpore Division.—" The past year being on the whole one of good harvests, the material condition of the people was everywhere prosperous, except in Palamow, where, owing to the failure of the crops of the previous year, there were scarcity and high prices of food-grains till the harvesting of the bhadoi crop, which fortunately was a good one. In Manbhoom the opening of the Bengal-Nagpore Railway enabled the cultivators to take advantage of the high prices ruling in the neighbouring districts and to export their surplus stocks of rice, oilseeds, &c., at a substantial profit, while the excellent outturn of the lac crop materially benefited the people of Jhalda, Bagmoondi, and the rest of the western parts of the district. In Singbhoom the construction of the railway brought a great deal of money into the district, a good portion of which was earned by people of all classes from all parts of the district. In Hazaribagh, apart from the general prosperity consequent on the good harvests, the people of Gawan, Koderma, Baraganda, and Giridih, and their neighbourhood, found ample work in the numerous mica, copper and coal mines, at comparatively high wages. In Lohardugga the ' opening of the Bengal-Nagpore lines in the division, the operations of the Public Works and Road Cess Departments on a large scale within the district, extensive development of trade at the various centres and the local tea-gardens, have increased the demand for labour, and the consequent rise in the price of wages has greatly ameliorated the condition of the poorer classes.' "

Orissa Division.—" The material condition of the people generally was far from prosperous during the year. The landless classes everywhere suffered more or less from high prices of grain. In Pooree district the condition of the cultivators was comparatively prosperous. They reaped a good average harvest, and had sufficient stocks of food-grain to be able to bring a considerable portion of the produce of the year to market. In Cuttack the outturn of the harvest was below the average, and the reserved food-stocks were not large. The Collector of Cuttack states that the long-established system of exports to Mauritius and Cochin is one of the principal causes of high prices prevalent in his district, and that the ordinary dearness of food-grains was intensified by the sudden and unexpected cry of scarcity in the neighbouring estate of Khoorda, and by the exports to Ganjam and to the tributary states. As a rule, the markets of the district are never supplied with more than is sufficient to supply absolutely temporary demands, all superfluous grain being bought up by merchants of Madras and Bombay.

" The Collector of Pooree states that the inhabitants of the South Chilka tracts, whose condition has been to a certain extent deteriorated by the reduction of the salt trade, lost a full half of their crops and a number of their cattle in the November cyclone. The Collector, however, reports that there has been no approach to distress for the following reasons :—

(1) Half a bumper crop in that region of precarious cultivation was the best crop gathered in the last three years.

(2) The Government manufacture of salt in Ganjam was very active during the dry season, and afforded labour to all who required it.

(3) The necessary repairs to embankments, on which Rs. 10,000 are being spent by the Rajah of Parikud and about Rs. 8,637 on behalf of the Malud jaghir, have provided additional and abundant employment.

"The Collector of Balasore reports that what with high prices, short crops, and unusual mortality, the material condition of the people was anything but satisfactory during the year, but that in the Bhuddruck subdivision matters had improved in the latter half of the year.

"The following remarks indicate the tracts where distress prevailed and where it was necessary to undertake measures for affording relief :—

"Cuttack.—There was distress in a certain portion of the Jajpore subdivision and in Banki. Tuccavi advances were made and relief works were opened in Banki, and those measures, coupled with the works undertaken by the Public Works Department and by the district and local boards in the Jajpore subdivision, were quite sufficient to relieve all distress.

"Balasore.—From April till October there was considerable distress in Bhogri, where Rs. 1,350 were spent in feeding beggars. Similarly at Talpada it was found necessary in February to maintain a limited number of old, infirm, and destitute persons, and to provide a few hundred able-bodied labourers with employment. Gratuitous relief in both cases was afforded at the expense of private individuals, who subscribed liberally for the purpose. The cost of relief works was borne partly by the district board and partly by Government."

Expressed in tons, the imports and exports of the past three years were as follow:—

	1887-88.	1888-89.	1889-90.
	Tons.	Tons.	Tons.
Imports	267,069	202,735	141,688
Exports	221,457	152,880	83,581

The Collector of Customs, Calcutta, makes the following remarks on the condition of this trade during the year 1889-90:—

"A poor crop with higher prices contributed to the falling off. Also in the closing months of the year exchange went up suddenly and money was very tight. The exports from Sindh were very much larger, though Bombay exported less. The continent of Europe has received nearly the whole of its Indian wheat from the western side of India, but with the exception of Holland, it has received less.

"Some efforts were apparently made to increase the exports of country flour to foreign ports, as the shipments, principally to the Straits Settlements, were much larger than in the previous year, amounting to 258,463 lbs., against 88,474 lbs. in 1888-89. There was a small shipment of 4,000 lbs. to the United Kingdom, probably sent as an experiment. There is a very large quantity of flour exported from India, and Calcutta, now that there are mills with all the most modern appliances, should obtain a fair share of this trade.

"In connection with the export of wheat, a company has moved to obtain a guarantee from Government in aid of the introduction of the grain elevator system, which is so successful in America. The question was discussed by the Port Commissioners, but the sense of the meeting was decidedly against any guarantee being given. The opinion of the mercantile members seemed to be that there were considerations of climate and trade customs which would be very unfavourable to the system in this country."

Imports.

86. The import trade showed a steady decrease, the figures for the year under report being 30·11 per cent. and 46 95 per cent. below those for 1888-89 and 1887-88 respectively. The supplies carried by the East Indian Railway showed a large decline of 29 55 per cent. on the trade of the year preceding; that by country-boats of 29·61 per cent.; and that by the Eastern Bengal State Railway of 59 32 per cent. The different provinces which contributed to the trade during those years were as follows:—

	1887-88.	1888-89.	1889-90.

Other places	9,531	13,070	2,786
Total ...	72,70,198	55,18,907	38,57,102

In the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, as everywhere else, the decrease is attributable to the failure of the wheat crop in 1888-89. There were heavy decreases in the despatches from Gonda, Busti, Goruckpore, Fyzabad, Benares, and Sitapore, which were to a certain extent made up by increases from Mirzapore, Meerut, Bulundshahar, Shajehanpore, and Moradabad. As regards Behar, all the producing districts show an enormous decline, notably Patna, Shahabad, Bhagulpore, Sonthal Pergunnahs, and Monghyr. Of the Bengal districts, Nuddea showed the largest falling off. The considerable increase under the Punjab is accounted for by heavy consignments, chiefly from Delhi and Loodhiana.

The indifferent harvests during the year under report resulted in a falling off in the supplies received from all the Behar districts. After Patna, the largest decline is observable in the exports from Shahabad, and the Collector of that district attributes the decrease to the deterioration in the value of Buxar wheat in the Calcutta market. He further writes:—

"It must also be remembered that wheat is not exported in the year in which it is grown, but most of it in the first quarter of the year following. The poor crop of the spring of 1889 is probably the cause of the decrease in the export during the year 1889-90."

The Collector of Bhagulpore gives the following account of the large fluctuations in the wheat trade of that district:—

"The falling off in the export of wheat is due to the partial failure of the wheat crop and the winter rice in 1888-89. The export of wheat is usually most brisk between April and September, and during these very months in 1889 there was a threatened famine in parts of the district, and the food-stock was, as Mr. Wace has remarked, 'perilously low before the last bhadoi harvest.' The decrease under this head was, however, more than counterbalanced by the increased exports of rice and oilseeds."

The falling off under Monghyr was owing to the deficient outturn of the two preceding years, leaving less surplus produce to be disposed of.

89. The subjoined table shows all the principal wheat-supplying districts in Bengal which contributed to the trade during the past year, as compared with the totals of the preceding two years:—

	1887-88.	1888-89.	1889-90.

Other districts	1,76,610	1,41,469	1,04,867
Total ...	9,80,618	6,94,095	4,95,291

The very large decrease in the shipments from the Nuddea district requires explanation. The total outturn of wheat during the past year was 11 annas, against 10 annas in the year preceding, but the year was not, on the whole, a favourable one. In April the rain was insufficient, and consequently sowing was delayed. At the end of July a flood occurred in the north-east and west of the district, which injured the early rice to some extent, and afterwards there was an untimely downpour in November, which damaged about 2 annas of the winter crops.

The following account of the wheat trade with foreign countries is given in the report of the Collector of Customs, Calcutta, for the year 1889-90:—

"There has been a gradual decline in the exports of wheat for the past three years, the fall in comparison with 1888-89 being 47·4 per cent.

"There is a decrease in the shipments to all the countries shown. To the United Kingdom the exports were about one-half of the previous year, while they have fallen to nothing for France and Holland. Malta has again taken none. There was an increase to 'other countries,' due to shipments to Port Said for orders.

"The United Kingdom was the only country which took wheat from Calcutta last year in any quantity. There was a smaller number of acres under wheat in that country, but owing to a better outturn per acre the total crop was larger than in the previous year. The imports from foreign countries were also larger, and the average price was lower. The average prices per quarter have been for the past three years—

"These figures show Russia again as the largest supplier, the United States second with a larger quantity than in the previous year, and India again third. The large shipments from Russia were due to the abundant harvest of 1888 having left very large stocks, for the harvest of the past year was not a good one; prices in America were said to be above shipping value owing to manipulation.

"The imports of flour into Calcutta show an increase over the previous year, the figures being—

"These imports consist of good qualities of flour from Australia, Austria, and California, the latter coming from Hongkong and the Straits Settlements, and also a considerable quantity from Bombay."

Quantity not exported before the close of the year.

94. After deduction of the total exports from the total imports into Calcutta, there remained a surplus of 15,81,838 maunds, against 13,57,185 maunds in 1888-89 and 12,41,630 maunds in 1887-88.

GRAM AND PULSE.

Imports.

96. The importation of gram and pulse was below the trade of 1888-89 and 1887-88 by 9·40 per cent. and 32·36 per cent. respectively. The boat traffic fell off by 27·82 per cent., and that attracted to the Eastern Bengal State Railway by 50·15 per cent. On the other hand, the East Indian Railway figures exhibited a considerable advance of 29·84 per cent., and the quantity carried by inland steamers and by road routes also showed a substantial increase on the ottal of the year preceding, while in the imports by sea there was little or no change. In the following statement the total imports into Calcutta from the different provinces are arranged according to the volume of trade:—

While there was an increase of 4,84,385 maunds in the imports from the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, there were heavy decreases of 7,07,311 maunds from Bengal and 1,86,436 maunds from the Behar districts. In the Upper Provinces, Agra and Cawnpore contributed 1,18,140 maunds and 1,04,868 maunds, respectively, in excess of the previous year's figures. In Bengal, the district of Nuddea showed the largest falling off, namely 2,66,650 maunds, the decrease under Jessore amounted to 1,53,413 maunds, and Furreedpore sent 1,30,289 maunds less than in 1888-89. Of the Behar districts, the greatest decline, amounting to 1,25,972 maunds, is shown in the despatches from the Sonthal Pergunnahs, and the largest increase (98,059 maunds) in those from the Shahabad district.

99. The bulk of the imports by inland steamers were obtained from Chupra (15,126 maunds), Revelgunge (8,784 maunds), Patna (5,235 maunds), Cutwa (4,955 maunds), and Santipore (4,605 maunds).

Principal stations on steamer routes.

100. The only supplying mart on road routes which contributed largely to the import trade during the past year was Baraset, which supplied 36,046 maunds, against 13,681 maunds in 1888-89 and 29,299 maunds in 1887-88.

Principal marts on road routes.

101. In the export trade there was a considerable decrease of 29·39 per cent. and 55·15 per cent. in comparison with the two previous years. The largest falling off occurred in the exports by sea, the details whereof during the past three years are given in the subjoined table:—

The Customs report for 1889-90 gives the following explanation of the causes of fluctuation in respect of gram only:—

"The exports of gram have advanced in comparison with 1888-89 by nearly 6¾ per cent. Mauritius has taken a larger quantity, and so have Ceylon and the Straits Settlements, notwithstanding the higher prices. There were larger shipments also from other ports of India.

The trade in gram with the coast is generally on a large scale; but last year, either owing to high prices or to supplies being received from elsewhere, there was a heavy fall in these exports, the figures being—

102. The surplus of imports over exports amounted to 20,56,210 maunds, against 17,83,901 maunds in 1888-89 and 18,71,850 maunds in 1887-88.

Quantity not exported before the close of the year.

The rice harvest of the year was below the average, and the Customs Collector observes that "with a smaller margin for export, prices were for a portion of the year extremely high; table rice touched prices which had not been reached for many years, and this state of things continued until the new crop came in, when there was a heavy fall in prices, and notwithstanding a sudden rise in exchange and dear money, large shipments were made; it was, in fact, during the last three months of the year that nearly one-half of the total shipments were made."

Imports.

104. The decrease in imports noticed in the last report was further extended during 1889-90, when the figures fell off by 13·88 per cent. and 19·79 per cent. in comparison with the trade of the two years 1888-89 and 1887-88 respectively. By far the largest decline is observable in the supplies carried by country-boats, the figures for which fell off by 24·87 per cent. on those of 1888-89. The consignments by the Eastern Bengal State Railway exhibited a decrease of 41·30 per cent., and those by road routes of 22·34 per cent. On the other hand, the quantities carried by the East Indian Railway showed a considerable advance of 71·97 per cent., and those conveyed by inland steamers of 54·16 per cent., while the sea-borne trade was about the same as in the previous year.

The subjoined abstract gives the sources of supply, province by province, together with the channels through which the consignments were received, during the past year as compared with the figures of the two previous years:—

Concerning the exports to foreign ports, the Collector of Customs, Calcutta, writes :—

"The total exports of rice as compared with 1888-89 show a decline of 7 per cent., and, with the exception of 1886-87, the figures are the lowest tabulated.

"There were larger exports to Cape Colony, Mauritius, South America, Persia, and Arabia, against decreases to the United Kingdom, Réunion, the West Indies, Aden, Ceylon, the Straits Settlements, Australia, and 'other countries.'

"Choora or pounded rice was made dutiable in February last: 5,918 cwts. were exported during the year under review, of which 479 cwts. paid duty.

"The United Kingdom again takes the second place as a consumer of Bengal rice. The decline to that country was 20 per cent. as compared with 1888-89. Larger shipments were however, made from Burma, which more than made up the deficiency from here.

"Prices in the United Kingdom varied very little, and there is nothing special to record regarding the rice trade in Europe in the year under review.

"The total imports into Europe were not on a level with the previous year, but they were still larger than for the other years in the table.

* Including Chittagong, Bombay, and Kurrachee.

"The falling off from Saigon and Bankok is, it will be noticed, very large, while there are larger exports from Burma and an increase from Japan, which has taken the second place.

"To Ceylon, our principal consumer, the decline was nearly 23½ per cent. This may be attributed to the high prices ruling in this market and the large shipments of the previous year. The figures are not, however, below the average.

"To Mauritius the exports were small in 1888-89, and the deficiency probably required making up. The same thing may also be said in respect of Arabia.

"It will be noticed from the table that, with exports of nearly one-third of a million cwts. less than in 1888-89, the total declared value is higher by about 41¾ lakhs of rupees.

"The exports of paddy were slightly below those of 1888-89, though it will be seen that the total value is higher. Ceylon continues to be the only country taking paddy in any quantity, the shipments to other countries being trifling."

Stocks of rice in Calcutta.

111. The stocks of rice at all the markets and warehouses in Calcutta and the Suburbs, in the first week of April 1890, as compared with the figures for the two previous years, were as follows:—

Paddy is not accounted for in the foregoing statement. The total imports of paddy during the past year being 13,06,721 maunds, and the total exports 6,16,222 maunds, there remained a balance of 6,90,499 maunds, which, at the rate of 25 seers of rice to a maund of paddy, is equivalent to 4,31,562 maunds of rice.

MISCELLANEOUS SPRING AND RAIN CROPS.

112. The principal staples comprised under this head are barley, kodo, shama, Indian corn, oats, millets and other crops, which are reaped during the spring and rainy seasons. The total quantity of the Calcutta trade in these grains during the past three years is shown below:—

113. The increase in the import trade was 8·02 per cent. as compared with 1888-89, and 6·99 per cent. as compared with 1887-88. The advance occurred in the quantities carried by the East Indian Railway, the figures showing a rise of 32·12 per cent. on those of the previous year. On the other hand, the boat traffic returns showed a large decline of 29,538 maunds, or 24·03 per cent. The following are the different provinces which contributed to the trade during the past three years:—

The chief district in Behar which sent larger supplies than in 1888-89 was Bhagulpore, the exports being 23,600 maunds larger than in the preceding year. The principal district which contributed to the increase in the imports from the North-Western Provinces and Oudh was Agra (23,879 maunds). The imports from the Punjab were chiefly from the district of Delhi. The falling off in the supplies imported from Bengal was principally in the consignments from Nuddea, which fell off by 37,299 maunds.

114. The principal stations or marts, both on river routes and on the line of rail, from which the largest supplies were despatched are specified below:—

The falling off in the hide trade noticed in the last report was further extended during 1889-90, and the Customs' Collector observes that the proportion of the Bengal trade in raw hides with the United Kingdom has steadily declined during the past three years.

118. The import trade of last year was 8·99 per cent. and 19·93 per cent. below that of 1888-89 and 1887-88 respectively. The quantity brought to Calcutta by the Eastern Bengal State Railway and by inland steamers was 16·79 per cent. and 149·12 per cent., respectively, in excess of the imports by those routes during the preceding year, but in the case of the East Indian Railway and of the boat traffic the figures showed a decrease. The supply received by road was almost the same as in 1888-89, while that imported by sea showed a slight advance of 5·96 per cent. The following comparative statement shows the importation of hides from the several provinces during the past three years:—

The imports from Behar during the past year include 1,149,496 hides sent from the Patna Division and 393,511 from the Bhagulpore Division, against 1,066,720 and 409,851 hides, respectively, imported during the previous year. The Bengal supply was chiefly comprised of despatches from the following divisions:—

Total	...	1,991,372	1,724,571	1,852,525

The foregoing figures show an increase under all the divisions, except Burdwan and Chittagong. The Commissioner of the former division reports that the exports of hides showed some improvement in the Burdwan district, but dealings in Bankoora were limited owing to a lull in the market, due to a fall in prices.

The steamer service of the Eastern Bengal State Railway carried 781,400 pieces of hides to Calcutta from Dacca, against 720,040 pieces in 1888-89 and 1,002,352 pieces in 1887-88.

123. The total exports of hides from Calcutta during the past year were 2·79 per cent. in excess of those of 1888-89, but they were 2·99 per cent. less than the figures for 1887-88. The supply exported by sea during those years was destined as follows:—

Regarding the exports of hides to foreign ports, the Collector of Customs, Calcutta, remarks as follows:—

"There was a decline of 4½ per cent. in the exports of raw hides as compared with 1888-89.

"The shipments to the United Kingdom, Austria, France and the United States were smaller, against advances to Italy and Germany. Supplies were scanty for the greater part of the year, and there were fluctuations in prices, though not considerable ones.

"The exports to the United Kingdom have again declined by 16 per cent., but are still largely in excess of the shipments to any other country. The imports into the United Kingdom from all countries of both dry and wet hides increased from everywhere, except the British East Indies, which showed a decline.

"The shipments from Calcutta to Austria have declined by more than one-half, while to Italy there has been a considerable increase,—a portion of which may have been intended for Austria. There was a large increase in exports to Germany, due probably to more opportunities of direct shipment.

"The exports of dressed hides have continued to decline, and are now of trifling importance."

124. If the imports be deducted from the exports, a deficit of 1,077,012 pieces will be found, against a deficit of 448,189 pieces in 1888-89 and 116,217 pieces in 1887-88.

There has been a large falling off in this trade during the past year. The customs duty on imported salt was raised from Rs. 2 to Rs. 2-8, with effect from the 19th January 1888. The Collector of Customs, Calcutta, has discussed at great length the prospects of the Liverpool salt in the Calcutta market in connection with the recent operations of the Salt Syndicate in England. The following extract, taken from his report for the past official year, explains the cause of the fluctuations in the import trade, which characterized the business of the year :—

"The heavy falling off in Liverpool salt, with a corresponding increase from Arabia, Aden, and Germany (Hamburg salt, which resembles Liverpool, has increased from the 3,983 tons of the previous year to 18,496 tons, partially no doubt on account of new opportunities for direct shipment), was the natural and sure result of the price of Liverpool salt being forced up by the Salt Syndicate, and this operation has induced a new departure here of which I recorded the commencement in my last report, and which now appears so likely to become an important factor that the consideration of it may be of interest.

"The plan adopted is to crush good, clean kurkutch; i.e., sun-evaporated salt, by sufficiently simple machinery, and send it into the market, as a very similar and almost, if not quite, as good looking a salt, to compete with Liverpool. One machine for this with two pans was by permission set up in the Sulkea Golahs and worked last year with such success that leave has been asked for the setting up of three more, one of them with four pans. This salt, after crushing, has been sold here at Rs. 80 per 100 maunds with a very handsome profit. It is not, I should say, absolutely as white and nice to look at as the English salt, though very nearly so, and it has the disadvantage, from the nature of its grain, of giving less bulk for the same weight, which is against it with the retail shopkeeper, who sells mostly by the handful—a disadvantage which may be partially, but not entirely, obviated by a change in the method of crushing. If, however, Liverpool salt were to continue to range, as it has done, from Rs. 90 to over Rs. 100 per 100 maunds, I have little doubt that the advantage in price would much more than counterbalance these objections, and that this slightly, if at all, inferior and much cheaper salt would end by pushing Liverpool salt out of the market, for crushed salt could be sold at a profit for a much lower price than Rs. 80 per 100 maunds.

"In the above circumstances, the question to be considered is whether there is a prospect of Liverpool salt being so reduced in price as to be profitably sold for the same or only a little more than crushed kurkutch, and what effect this would ultimately have on the prospects of the two.

"Part of the increased price of Liverpool salt during the past year has been due to very high freights, and it must be borne in mind that these may fall to an appreciable extent, and also that to meet the introduction of crushed salt here the Syndicate, if satisfied that it means ultimate danger to Liverpool salt, may greatly reduce the price of the latter for a time in order to check crushing, as even under present manufacturing arrangements Liverpool salt, which has now been raised to about 17*s.*, used to be shipped at 6*s.* 6*d.* per ton. Besides this it is now reported that a new patent has been taken out, which will enable the English salt to be produced at 2*s.* 6*d.* a ton. I will assume that this is so, and that the salt could thus be shipped at 5*s.* a ton, which, if the patent is successful, would not seem to be an enormous assumption in view of the low price at which it used to be shipped even under the present conditions of manufacture. Then comes in the uncertain element of freight, which has ranged from 10*s.* 6*d.* to 23*s.* 6*d.* a ton. During the past year the freights have been unusually high, averaging 21*s.* 2½*d.* a ton. At present they stand at 17*s.* 6*d.* a ton; but for the purposes of my comparison I think 18*s.* may fairly be assumed as the highest average freight for the year that may ordinarily be looked for, and taking the above elements of cost with an exchange at 1*s.* 6*d.*, this salt might then be sold here at a little over Rs. 56 per 100 maunds.

"Kurkutch for the purpose in question must be clean, and the most suitable is undoubtedly the Aden kurkutch. The average price of this in Calcutta for the year under review has been a fraction over Rs. 54 per 100 maunds, but in March it fell as low as Rs. 43, so that I will take the average price at which it might be sold here at Rs. 45, but even with this rate I think the crushed salt would hardly come into the market at a lower price than from Rs. 56 to Rs. 60 per 100 maunds, which gives an outside margin of Rs. 15 for the cost of crushing and profit.

"At the respective prices above given, I do not think that crushed kurkutch could hold its own against Liverpool salt, and I am convinced that even if it had secured the market, it would be driven out again. I am quite aware how capricious the taste of the natives is about salt, and how fantastic some of the reasons are for the preferences by different classes of the various kinds; also that a market once gained is not easily lost. But in the competition I am discussing the comparison would virtually be between two kinds of Liverpool, and at equal, or even nearly equal, prices it stands to reason that the kind which must always, I think, be slightly inferior in colour, and always, from the retail seller's point of view, more or less at a disadvantage in point of bulk, would be ousted.

"On the other hand, the patent that is reported as forthcoming is still in the shadowy stage and may not fulfil expectations, and even if it can eventually produce the salt so as to admit of its being shipped at 5*s.* per ton with a sufficient profit to satisfy the English sellers, its introduction would involve a costly change in machinery and would take a long time, so that in the near future the prospects of crushed kurkutch, the quantity of which may be very rapidly increased, would appear to be good.

"My conclusion, then, is that this new departure in imitation Liverpool salt may shortly be very useful in keeping down the price of the real Liverpool to the point at which it can be manufactured at a reasonable profit; that if it spreads, it may for a time largely oust Liverpool salt from the market; and that though it will succumb to such a reduction in the cost of producing the English salt as I have above indicated, it will always remain in reserve as a check upon the operations of the English salt-suppliers."

126. The published fortnightly prices-current showed a rise of ·66 per cent. in the average retail price in the interior, as compared with the previous year, and of 16·20 per cent. in comparison with 1887-88. The abstract below shows for each district in the Lower Provinces separately the average retail price of this article during the past year as compared with that of 1888-89 :—

127. The total trade under imports showed a decrease of 2·77 per cent. in comparison with 1888-89, but the figures exhibited an increase of ·67 per cent. when compared with 1887-88. The sources of supply, port by port, during the past three years were as follows :—

The annual report on the administration of the Salt Department for the year 1889-90 contains the following remarks on the fluctuation noticed in the foregoing table :—

"In Calcutta there was a decrease in the importations from the United Kingdom and Bombay, while there was an increase in the importation from Hamburg, Arabian and Persian Gulfs, Aden, and Madras. There was no importation of salt from Mozambique, but a small quantity was imported from Mozanga, a port in the island of Madagascar. By far the largest decrease (13 lakhs, or over 15 per cent.) occurred in the importations of Liverpool salt, which is said to be due (1) to the large stocks in bond, (2) to the raising of the price from about 7 to 16 shillings per ton by the Cheshire Salt Syndicate, and (3) to the growing practice of importing salt by canal steamers. On this last point the Collector of Customs, Calcutta, observes :—

'Up to three years ago it was imported from the United Kingdom in sailing vessels only, and prior to 1886 no attempt appears to have been made to import it viâ the canal. In that year two steamers brought 89,724 maunds between them, in 1887 one brought 18,892 maunds, while in 1888 14 steamers brought 2,43,171 maunds, and in the year under report (1889) 27 steamers brought 10,51,557 maunds. The effect of this change in the trade is to increase the quantity bonded, as steamers require quick despatch, but it tends to limit the quantities imported to actual requirements, for importers, who in former times could estimate the competition they might expect when their sailing vessels would arrive, are quite unable to do so now, for they know that by the time they are due the market may have been overstocked by steamers. Now that we can discharge these vessels rapidly, the tendency will, I think, be to import salt viâ the Suez Canal. Two powerful lines of steamers are being specially built for this trade. Messrs. Brocklebank, of Liverpool, have started one; and as this firm owns perhaps the largest fleet of sailing vessels trading with the East, and has for many years confined its attention to importing salt by them, this change is very significant. Messrs. Turner, Morrison and Company are also, I am told, starting a line of steamers, and their first, the Nizam, with a cargo of 3,677 tons of Cheshire salt, has just arrived.'

"The figures clearly show that the action of the Cheshire Salt Syndicate has had a most prejudicial effect on the Liverpool salt trade, and given a stimulus to imports from other places, notably Hamburg and Aden."

128. The imports of indigenous salt into Calcutta by the East Indian Railway during the past year was 1,319 maunds, against 730 maunds and 353 maunds in 1888-89 and 1887-88 respectively. Of the past year's supply, 915 maunds were received from the Punjab, 87 maunds from the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, and 317 maunds from Rajputana and Central India.

Exports.

129. The export trade shows a falling off of 4·19 per cent. on the total of 1888-89, and of 4·20 per cent. on that of 1887-88. The supplies shipped from the Calcutta market by country boats showed the largest decrease, namely, 2,06,606 maunds and 1,84,442 maunds below the figures of 1888-89 and 1887-88 respectively. The quantities carried by the East Indian Railway fell off by 61,724 maunds as compared with the previous year, and by 2,46,228 maunds in comparison with 1887-88. The exports by the Eastern Bengal State Railway showed a decrease of 50,592 maunds and 24,014 maunds as compared with those two years, and those by inland steamers of 25,832 maunds on the returns of 1888-89, but they exceeded the weight carried in 1887-88 by 49,357 maunds. The fluctuations in the road traffic and in the sea-borne exports were normal. The following comparative table shows the exportation of salt to the several provinces during the past three years :—

Comparison of imports with exports.

130. After deducting the gross exports from the total quantity imported into Calcutta, there remained 16,05,062 maunds, against 15,25,860* maunds in 1888-89 and 11,83,596 maunds in 1887-88.

131. The following statement furnishes in detail the quantities on which duty was paid in Calcutta and the 24-Pergunnahs during the past three years, as compared with the inland despatches from Calcutta in those years:—

‡ Ditto 5,27,979 ditto ditto ditto ditto ditto.

According to the foregoing figures, the amount of salt retained for consumption in Calcutta and the Suburbs, Hooghly, and a part of the 24-Pergunnahs district, and also available for export to the interior, was 9,95,163 maunds, against 8,55,995 maunds in 1888-89 and 9,00,444 maunds in 1887-88.

132. The gross quantity of salt exported from Calcutta direct to the seven divisions comprising the Bengal Province, other than Behar, during the past three years is shown in the subjoined table:—

Total ...	5,47,831	5,09,187	4,68,179

The combined total of these two sections of the trade showed an aggregate import of 53,28,202 maunds, against 55,31,763 maunds in 1888-89 and 52,26,541 maunds in 1887-88.

133. The following statement shows the amount of salt carried from Bengal to places outside the province during the past three years:—

Total ...	61,19,293	63,79,990	63,17,858

Consumption per head of population.

135. The population of Bengal Proper being taken at 46,409,757 souls, the above supply would allow 11 lbs. 3 oz., or 5 seers 7 chittacks for consumption per head, against 11 lbs. 5 oz., or 5 seers 8 chittacks in 1888-89, and 10 lbs. 14 oz., or 5 seers 4½ chittacks in 1887-88.

SALT TRADE OF BEHAR.

Imports.

136. The importation of salt into Behar from Calcutta during the past three years was as follows:—

	1887-88.	1888-89.	1889-90.
	Mds.	Mds.	Mds.
Patna Division	19,96,180	17,93,470	16,01,011

„ Bombay	...	...	18
Total ...	49,226	1,03,135	1,06,982

The aggregate quantity of salt carried to Behar during the past year, therefore, was 25,51,903 maunds, against 27,05,806 maunds in 1888-89 and 28,81,078 maunds in 1887-88

Exports.

137. The abstract below shows the total exportation of salt from Behar by rail, and by road, during the past year as compared with the totals of the preceding two years:—

	1887-88.	1888-89.	1889-90.

Consumption per head of population.

138. The surplus of imports over exports amounted to 24,23,084 maunds during the year, which would allow 8 lbs. 10 oz., or 4 seers 3 chittacks per head of the population consisting of 23,127,124 souls, against 9 lbs., or 4 seers 6 chittacks in 1888-89, and 9 lbs. 11 oz., or 4 seers 11½ chittacks in 1887-88.

Salt trade of Calcutta with Assam.

139. The total quantity of salt exported to Assam from Calcutta was 4,72,353 maunds, against 5,15,948 maunds in 1888-89 and 4,61,500 maunds in 1887-88. Of the past year's supply, 2,58,528 maunds, against 2,85,423 maunds in 1888-89, were carried by inland steamers, and 2,13,825 maunds, against 2,30,525 maunds, by country boats.

143. The advance shown in the last report was maintained and further extended during the past year, when the imports increased by 5·05 per cent. and 12·64 per cent. over those of 1888-89 and 1887-88 respectively. Last year the supply brought by the East Indian Railway showed a rise of 4·85 per cent. on the returns of 1888-89, while the boat traffic figures exhibited a falling off of 28·46 per cent.

Imports.

against an advance of 493·82 per cent in the consignments carried by inland steamers. The sources of supply, classified by provinces, are specified below:—

The despatches from Behar were nearly the same as in 1888-89. The Commissioner of the Patna Division writes:—

"Saltpetre is controlled by the Northern India Salt Department. From Mozufferpore it is reported that the business of the 135 refineries in that district had fallen off; the number of licenses had increased from 14,337 to 14,500. There was a slight increase in Durbhunga and Chumparun, but a falling off in Sarun. On the whole, the trade seems stationary."

The Commissioner of the Bhagulpore Division makes the following remarks:—

"In the Beguserai subdivision in Monghyr saltpetre is extensively manufactured during the dry season and exported to Calcutta. In addition to the crude saltpetre manufactured by the Nunias, a crude article called pukra is also prepared in the golas of the refiners. The manufacture of both these articles has since July last been brought under the supervision of the Salt Department."

The contribution from the North-Western Provinces and Oudh showed a large increase of 42,710 maunds as compared with the year preceding. There was an advance of 12,883 maunds in the supplies received from Hardai, of 6,003 maunds from Cawnpore, and of 4,237 maunds from Allahabad, against a decrease of 7,424 maunds from Farukhabad.

Exports.

145. The total quantity of saltpetre exported from Calcutta during the past year was 1·28 per cent. above the figures for 1888-89, and 9·98 per cent. in excess of those for 1887-88. The quantity exported by sea during the past three years was distributed as follows:—

The Collector of Customs, Calcutta, makes the following observations on this trade with foreign countries:—

"The exports of saltpetre show a recovery after the fall in 1887-88 of 8·8 per cent.

"The total exports of saltpetre have advanced in comparison with 1888-89 by 1¼ per cent., and the figures are the highest shown in the table. There were increased shipments to France, Mauritius, and the United States, while to the principal consumers—the United Kingdom and China—there were heavy declines.

"The decrease to the United Kingdom was 12½ per cent., and with the exception of 1886-87, the figures are the lowest tabulated. There were very large imports into the United Kingdom of nitrate of soda during the year, which would account for this decrease. The following figures show the imports of nitrate of soda into the United Kingdom as compared with our exports of saltpetre for the past three years:—

"The exports to the United States have advanced by 48½ per cent., and returned to about the level of 1885-86. After two years of large exports to China the shipments have fallen to about the average of previous years. To Mauritius there have been steadily increasing exports for some years past, and last year there was a sudden advance to more than double the shipments of the previous year. I am not able to give any reason for this increase."

146. The result of the past year's traffic was a surplus of imports over exports—of 1,43,829 maunds, against 1,16,474 maunds in 1888-89 and 1,15,296 maunds in 1887-88.

Quantity not exported before the close of the year.

LINSEED.

147. The gross import and export traffic of Calcutta in linseed during the past three years was as follows:—

There was again a small crop of linseed last year, but the Collector of Customs, Calcutta, observes that prices being higher in sympathy with the home market, supplies were forthcoming, which otherwise might have been kept back.

148. The import trade fell off by 6·51 per cent. and 11·75 per cent. on the returns of 1888-89 and 1887-88 respectively. The boat traffic was 1,44,307 maunds, or 12·67 per cent. less than in the previous year. The traffic carried by the East Indian Railway showed a decrease of 7,08,813 maunds, or 12·15 per cent., but on the Eastern Bengal line there was a slight advance of 56,880 maunds, or 12·99 per cent. The quantity carried by road exhibited a fall of 4,377 maunds, or 22·70 per cent., but in the supplies imported by inland steamers there was a very considerable rise of 3,04,921 maunds, or 271·33 per cent. The different provinces which contributed to the trade are mentioned below :—

The largest decrease occurred in the consignments from Behar, the supplies from Patna, the chief exporter, showing a decrease of 5,47,816 maunds, and Durbhunga of 1,16,811 maunds. The next largest decline was in the despatches from the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, and was due to the imports from Fyzabad and Allahabad having fallen off by 1,14,497 maunds and 1,04,497 maunds respectively. The improvement under Bengal is chiefly due to an increase of 37,547 maunds in the supplies from Nuddea. Of the Assam districts, the largest increase was in the exports from Sylhet, which sent 50,217 maunds more than in 1888-89. The increase in the supplies from the Central Provinces was chiefly in the despatches from Jubbulpore, which showed a rise of 19,270 maunds.

The following extracts regarding the fluctuations in the foreign trade are taken from the Calcutta Customs Report for 1889 90:—

"There has been a falling off in the exports of this seed as compared with 1888-89 of 9 per cent. There were again smaller exports to the United Kingdom and France, while to the United States there was a further advance. There was also a large increase to Holland.

"The decline to the United Kingdom was about 13 per cent., and from other ports of India there was also a heavy falling off. The following table gives the imports from all countries into the United Kingdom during the past three years:—

	1887.	1888.	1889.
	Qrs.	Qrs.	Qrs.
Russia	628,382	719,197	695,176

Other countries ...	346,375	212,821	156,456
Total ...	2,341,175	2,542,027	2,272,019

"The receipts from Russia were slightly lower than in the previous year, notwithstanding that the rumours of a small crop there turned out to be unfounded. From the River Plate district the imports were small owing to the crop being short and of inferior quality. Prices were higher than in 1888-89, the following being the figures for the two years:—

	January.		April.		July.		October.		December.
	s.	d.	s.	d.	s.	d.	s.	d.	s.	d.
1888 ...	38	9	38	3	36	0	42	6	43	0
1889 ...	42	9	39	6	42	6	43	0	42	6

"The highest price reached in the year was 44*s.* 6*d.* in November. The production of linseed oil was said to be 23,000 tons below that in 1888.

"To the United States the increase was 8½ per cent. The crop in that country may have again been small, and the action of the Syndicate or Linseed Oil Trust referred to in last year's report may have had some effect in increasing the demand from abroad, but there is no doubt that the consumption is increasing, for the larger supplies from Calcutta were supplemented by large shipments from the United Kingdom, amounting to over 100,000 quarters.

"The following figures show that Calcutta has taken a larger share in the total exports of linseed from India during the past year:—

	1888-89.		1889-90.
	Cwts.	Per cent.	Cwts.	Per cent.

„ Calcutta ...	5,659,492	66·8	5,124,285	71·6

152. A deduction of exports from imports shows a surplus of 71,973 maunds during 1889-90, against a deficit in imports over exports of 1,64,412 maunds, and 42,914 maunds in 1888-89 and 1887-88 respectively.

Quantity not exported before the close of the year.

MUSTARD SEED.

153. The subjoined statement shows the trade of Calcutta in mustard seed during the past year, as compared with the totals of the preceding two years:—

Total ...	22,88,451	20,28,008	33,66,906	11,16,230	8,68,842	20,34,495

There has been a considerable recovery in this trade, due partly to a better crop here and partly to the failure of the German crop, which caused an extra demand for the Indian seed, though the trade was occasionally interfered with by the high rates of freight. There was at times also a very good demand for local consumption. Prices with all this have been considerably higher.

Imports.

154. It will be seen that the imports during the past year exceeded the figures for 1888-89 and 1887-88 by 13,38,898 maunds (66·02 per cent.) and 10,78,455 maunds (47·13 per cent.) respectively. As regards the several routes followed by the trade, the traffic on the East Indian Railway showed a rise of 24·69 per cent., while that carried by country-boats increased by 100·96 per cent., that carried by inland steamers by 176·32 per cent., and that attracted to the Eastern Bengal State Railway by 92·33 per cent. The following statement illustrates the places of supply, province by province, during the past three years:—

The increases shown in the foregoing statement are the result of the magnificent crop reaped during the year under report. In the Chota Nagpore Division mustard was exceptionally good, especially in Hazaribagh and Manbhoom. The Commissioner of the Rajshahye Division states that mustard was a very fine crop in Bogra, while in Purneah it is said to have given an abundant crop. The advance in the imports from Behar aggregated 8,98,410 maunds in comparison with the previous year, the principal districts which contributed to the increase being Durbhunga (1,97,667 maunds), Sonthal Pergunnahs (1,52,612 maunds), Patna (1,11,556 maunds), Bhagulpore (1,04,607 maunds), Purneah (1,02,596 maunds), Chumparun (74,032 maunds), and Monghyr (56,188 maunds). The supplies drawn from Bengal Proper were just double the quantity shown in the previous year's returns, the increase being most conspicuous in the consignments from Pubna (1,00,387 maunds), Furreedpore (65,725 maunds), Dacca (39,040 maunds), Rungpore (23,524 maunds), and Hooghly (22,441 maunds). In the consignments from Assam there was a considerable rise, amounting to 5,29,874 maunds, out of which the two districts of Goalpara and Kamroop alone contributed 4,95,387 maunds.

The decrease in the supplies despatched from the North-Western Provinces and Oudh was nearly 3¾ lakhs of maunds, the falling off being distributed amongst 16 exporting districts, the principal being Allahabad (88,953 maunds), Fyzabad (72,806 maunds), Moradabad, Allighur, Bulandshahar, Hardai, and Sitapore.

Principal railway stations.

Exports.

158. The advance last year in the export trade was 11,65,653 maunds or 134·16 per cent. on the figures of 1888-89, and 9,18,265 maunds or 82·26 per cent. as compared with 1887-88. The exports by sea rose from 5,05,889 maunds in 1887-88 and 3,31,216 maunds in 1888-89 to 16,18,650 maunds in the year under report. The details of this latter traffic are shown in the following statement:—

The Collector of Customs, Calcutta, gives the following account of the fluctuations in the exports to foreign countries:—

"During the past year, in comparison with 1888-89, there has been the enormous increase in the exports of this seed of about 326½ per cent.

"The principal advance in quantity has been to the United Kingdom. There, as in the case of other important articles, the dock strike in London interfered with the trade, causing accumulations of stock and a fall in prices, which, however, was afterwards recovered. Prices generally throughout the year were on a much higher level than in 1888.

"The exports to France show an advance, but the total figures are not large. This country draws her supplies from other parts of India, as does the continent of Europe generally."

159. The total quantity of mustard seed not exported before the close of the year was 13,32,411 maunds, against 11,59,166 maunds in 1888-89 and 11,72,221 maunds in 1887-88.

Quantity not exported before the close of the year.

SILK, RAW.

Concerning this trade with foreign ports the Collector of Customs, Calcutta, makes the following remarks :—

"The advance shown is due to larger exports of raw silk, for there were decreases in both chussum and cocoons. There was at certain periods of the year a good demand for raw silk, and prices advanced owing to unfavourable reports of the European crop of silk. The average price of raw silk came so to be slightly higher than in the previous year. It has been stated in the report of a well-known silk company that the trade in both raw and manufactured silk has been and is in a very satisfactory condition, the demand being ahead of the production, and the reason for this being improved quality.

"The silk trade in Europe during the past year is said to have been very satisfactory, all the looms having been well employed. The increased demand for silk, consequent on this improvement in quality and the deficiency in the Italian crop, caused an advance in prices in which Bengal silk participated."

161. The quantity imported during the past year decreased by 8·29 per cent. as compared with that of 1888-89, but it was 3·82 per cent. in excess of the trade of 1887-88. Last year the largest decrease, amounting to 46·20 per cent., occurred in the consignments carried by the Eastern Bengal State Railway as compared with the preceding year, and the largest increase (83·42 per cent.) in the inland steamer traffic. The fluctuations in the imports by sea are unimportant.

Imports.

162. The following extracts from the Commissioners' General Administration Reports for 1889-90 give an account of the condition of the silk industry in the Lower Provinces in that year:—

Burdwan Division.—"In the Burdwan district tussur silk is manufactured at Mankar and garad at Memari. The total value of the outturn in 1889 was approximately Rs. 1,67,333, against Rs. 1,61,671 in 1888.

"The manufacture of silk fabrics in the Bankoora district is reported to be declining. The silk-worms reared in that district are not sufficient for the supply of the silk required, which is chiefly imported from Midnapore. Cocoons are largely imported from the Chota Nagpore Division. About Rs. 25,000 worth of tussur silk is said to have been exported to Calcutta and the North-Western Provinces during the year under report.

"In Beerbhoom Rs. 9,450 worth of tussur silk was sold in 1889-90 at unusually low prices, against Rs. 13,840 in the preceding year. The Bengal Silk Company, which has a factory at Ganotia, in Beerbhoom, sold Rs. 2,64,000 worth of silk, as against Rs. 3,22,885 in 1888.

"Silk and tusser cloths are also manufactured in the Serampore and Jehanabad subdivisions of the Hooghly district. The value of the outturn is estimated by the Collector at Rs. 70,000."

Presidency Division.—"The principal manufactures of the district of Moorshedabad are silk and * * * There were 81 filatures at work during the year 1889, against 86 of the year preceding. Eight filatures were stopped and three new ones started during the year. The produce of silk thread was 352,860 lbs., against 285,948 lbs. of the previous year, the estimated value being Rs. 27,53,981, against Rs. 21,95,331. The outturn and value of the silk thread was larger than in the preceding year, and the season is reported to have been a prosperous one. Silk cloths are largely manufactured in the Jungypore subdivision."

Rajshahye Division.—"The manufactured outturn of silk in Rajshahye shows an increase, being 1,380 maunds as compared with 1,112 maunds in 1888-89 and 1,244 maunds in 1887-88. In Bogra the silk industry has been almost driven out by competition. The families who formerly wove silk have almost all taken to agriculture. The manufacture of Endi silk cloth is still carried on in this district, and provides a durable and useful material. Endi silk cloth is also manufactured in Dinagepore, Rungpore, and Julpigoree, and is chiefly used for home consumption."

Patna Division.—"Silk is made at Kadirgunge in the Nawada subdivision of Gya."

Bhagulpore Division.—"The tusser manufacture in Bhagulpore shows some signs of improvement, attributable to the cheaper rate at which cocoons were sold.

"The chief manufactures of the Maldah district are raw silk, various kinds of silk fabrics, and * * * * The two silk factories at Bholahat and Baroghoriah, with two out-works of the former at Mahadipore and Jalalpore, worked throughout the year. Besides these factories, there are numerous native silk filatures in different parts of the district, viz., in thanas English Bazar, Kaliachuck, Maldah, Shibgunge, and Nawabgunge. The silk produced in these filatures finds an extensive sale in the Amanigunge and Sadullapore hâts in the district. The Marwari merchants purchase and export the silk to Benares, Calcutta, and Nagpore. The large manufacturers export direct to Calcutta. The manufacture of silk fabrics is steadily decreasing.

"Tusser worms are reared and a small amount of tusser silk is made in several parts of the Sonthal Pergunnahs district, but the chief seat of the industry is in the Pakour subdivision. The rearers sell mixed cocoons to the goladars, who separate the different qualities and sell them to European firms. The chief sale centres are Amrapara and Hiranpur in the Damin-i-Koh and Dangapara in pergunnah Ambar."

Chota Nagpore Division.—"Tusser silk is manufactured on a small scale in Hazaribagh, Lohardugga, and Manbhoom."

Principal railway stations.

163. The railway stations from which the imports were largest were Azimgunge (6,026 maunds against 5,636 maunds), Rampore Beauleah (3,830 maunds against 3,473 maunds), Mooraroee (2,781 maunds against 2,506 maunds), and Damookdea (1,862 maunds against 2,618 maunds).

Principal river marts.

164. The bulk of the imports by country-boats was consigned from Ghatal (1,321 maunds against 1,355 maunds), Santipore (535 maunds against 188 maunds), and Midnapore (251 maunds against 654 maunds).

Exports.

165. There was very little change in the total exports from Calcutta during 1889-90 and 1888-89, but when compared with 1887-88 the past year's figures show an advance of 14·10 per cent. The distribution of the export trade by sea during those years will be seen from the statement appended.

Regarding this trade the Collector of Customs, Calcutta, writes:—

"There has been a slight decline in the total exports of raw silk of 2¼ per cent. in comparison with 1888-89, though the total value is considerably higher. Shipments to the United Kingdom and to France were smaller, while to Italy they show an increase."

"The following figures show the imports, consumption, and stock on the 31st December 1888 and 1889 of Bengal silk in the United Kingdom:—

Imports.		Consumption, including export.		Stock.

167,100	91,200	158,850	84,750	108,450	100,200

"These figures show that, although the imports were so much larger, nearly the whole of them went into consumption. The increase in stocks is only slight, and nearly the whole of these are said to have been sold."

"The exports of raw silk to France increased by 22 per cent., against a considerable decline in chussum and cocoons. To Italy the shipments of raw silk more than doubled, owing, no doubt, to the deficiency in the home crop This is the only description of silk taken by Italy: there are no exports to that country of chussum or cocoons of any description."

Quantity not exported before the close of the year.

166. The total quantity of raw silk imported into Calcutta was 1,438 maunds in excess of that exported during the year, against a similar surplus of 3,748 maunds in 1888-89 and of 2,929 maunds in 1887-88.

Imports.

168. There was a recovery in the import trade, both in refined and unrefined sugar. The advance under the former head was 17·85 per cent. compared with the previous year, but in comparison with 1887-88 the figures exhibited a decrease of 10·66 per cent., while in the case of unrefined sugar the traffic was in excess of those years by 2·47 per cent. and 13·08 per cent. respectively. Last year the percentage of increase in the quantity carried by the East Indian Railway, compared with 1888-89, was 91·28 under refined and 404·21 under unrefined sugar. The boat traffic, however, showed a large falling off of 27·76 per cent. in refined and of 3·58 per cent. in unrefined sugar, while consignments of unrefined sugar carried by the Eastern Bengal State Railway showed a fall of 10·12 per cent. The road traffic also under both heads was 28·04 per cent. and 26·44 per cent. less than in 1888-89. The quantities imported by sea showed a rise of 45·11 per cent. in refined sugar, but a decline of 42·79 per cent. in unrefined sugar. The subjoined statement shows the places of supply, province by province, during the past three years :—

169. The following remarks, illustrative of the condition of the sea borne trade during the past official year, are abstracted from the Customs Report of that year:—

"There were as usual large imports of refined sugar, amounting to 203,963 cwts., and far in excess of the previous year, the figures being for the principal countries :—

	1888-89.	1889-90

Ceylon	Nil.	19,943
Hong-Kong	9,426	21,343
Straits Settlements ...	10,175	17,299

"These figures show an increase from all the countries that export sugar to Calcutta. More than one-half of these exports were received during the last three months of the year.

"Mauritius has again supplied the largest quantity, and this trade has been facilitated by the regular line of steamers which now trade between that island and Calcutta. The imports of sugar from coast ports were much smaller than in the previous year."

170. The Divisional Annual Administration Reports for 1889-90 contain the following remarks on the manufacture of sugar in the interior of Bengal during that year :—

Burdwan Division.—"Molasses is manufactured in every part of the district of Burdwan, but chiefly in its western portion, and also to a considerable extent in the Hooghly district. It is largely exported, but a considerable portion is consumed locally at distilleries for the manufacture of country spirit."

Presidency Division—24-Pergunnahs.—"The sugar mill at Cossipore is reported to have worked with success, but no statistics of its outturn are available, as the proprietors declined to give any information owing to keen competition at the present time. The manufacture of sugar according to the native process continues in the Baraset and Basirhat subdivisions, but no reliable statistics of the outturn are available."

Nuddea.—"The chief seats of manufacture of date sugar and molasses are Santipore and Kishengunge."

Jessore.—"Sugar is manufactured almost all over Jessore. Kotechandpore, in the Jhenidah subdivision, stands first of the sugar markets. There are 70 large native factories at Kotechandpore, besides an English sugar refinery, managed by Mr. Newhouse. In the whole district about 180 sugar factories were at work during the year, against 187 in the year preceding. About 104 of them are in the Jhenidah subdivision. During the year 3,60,600 maunds of unrefined sugar, valued at Rs. 23,73,779, are reported to have been manufactured, against 3,61,274 maunds, valued at Rs. 17,81,393, of the previous year. This shows that the price of the sugar market during the year was higher than in the year before and the industry was a paying one. The following statement, prescribed by Government, has been furnished by the Collector of Jessore. The figures for sugar include both refined and unrefined manufactured.

Khulna.—"In Khulna sugar-making is the only important industry, but it is declining, imported sugar being largely consumed. About 25,397 maunds of sugar were manufactured all over the district, against 19,990 maunds of the previous year, and sold at from Rs. 12 to Rs. 15 per maund. A large quantity of molasses was also manufactured from date-juice and exported to Calcutta and other places. The other manufactures of the district are purely local and of little importance."

Moorshedabad.—"Molasses is prepared from sugarcane in almost all parts of the Kandi subdivision. The outturn is estimated at 50,000 maunds, valued at Rs. 1,20,000.

Rajshahye Division.—"Molasses is largely manufactured in Rajshahye by native firms, and with considerable profit. The cultivation of sugarcane and the manufacture of molasses in this district are gradually being extended. The manufacture of this article is also carried on more or less in the other districts of the division."

Dacca Division.—"The manufacture of coarse sugar in the Furreedpore district increased from 9,080 maunds to 12,049 maunds, though there was a decrease of one sugar factory."

Patna Division -This has fallen off in Gya, but increased in Shahabad, Durbhunga, Sarun and Chumparun. On the whole the trade seems flourishing, especially at Nasrigunge and Hariharguuge in Shahabad and throughout the Buxar subdivision."

Bhagulpore Division—Bhagulpore.—"Sugar is produced chiefly in the Soopol and Banka subdivisions"

Purneah.—The manufacture of raw sugar is carried on chiefly in the Kishengunge subdivision. It is on the increase, and improved sugar mills are being introduced."

172. The quantity of refined sugar exported during the last year showed an increase of 83,386 maunds, or 41·29 per cent., as compared with 1888-89, and of 56,001 maunds, or 24·42 per cent., as compared with 1887-88. The trade in unrefined sugar also showed a rise of 1,36,334 maunds, or 31·09 per cent., and of 2,00,623 maunds, or 53·62 per cent., in comparison with those years respectively. The largest advance is observable in the exports by sea, which exhibited an increase of 185·40 per cent. under refined and of 79·51 per cent. under unrefined sugar in comparison with the previous year, as will be seen from the figures given below:—

The Customs Report for the year 1889-90 contains the following remarks on the fluctuations noticed in the foregoing statement:—

"After trifling exports of refined sugar for a number of years there was a sudden increase during last year, and shipments advanced to about twelve times what they were in 1888-89.

"The whole of this increase was due to larger exports to the United Kingdom. There was, during the opening months of the year, a heavy advance in the price of sugar in Europe. Owing to the operations of a Syndicate in Germany and the shipments from Calcutta, nearly the whole of which were made from May to September, were no doubt due to the artificial rise in price on this account. When the Syndicate collapsed, which occurred in July, there was a heavy fall in prices, and our exports practically ceased. During the same period there were also large shipments of unrefined sugar to the United Kingdom, considerably in advance of those of the previous year, the figures being—

173. After converting refined into unrefined sugar at the rate of one maund of the former to $2\frac{1}{2}$ maunds of the latter, the total of the year's traffic aggregated 24,32,785 maunds under imports and 12,88,005 maunds under exports, leaving a balance of 11,44,780 maunds not exported before the close of the year, against a similar surplus of 12,75,549 maunds in 1888-89 and 14,90,629 maunds in 1887-88.

Quantity not exported before the close of the year.

175. The figures exhibit a larger increase than was noticed in the two previous reports. The quality of the crop was better than last year, and the market was generally firm and prices were fairly good. On the other hand, the China crop was poor in quality, and this increased the demand for Indian tea in the London market. The average price according to the Customs returns was 8 annas 1 pie per pound during the past year, against 8 annas 6 pies in 1888-89 and 9 annas 5 pies in 1887-88. The Collector of Customs, Calcutta, writes as follows on this subject:—

"The following table gives the estimated outturn from each tea-producing district for two years:—

		1888.	1889.
		lbs.	lbs.
Assam	...	41,865,499	42,030,564
Cachar and Sylhet ...	...	27,343,505	29.750,054
Darjeeling, Terai, and Dooars	...	18,960,822	20,497,857
Chittagong and Chota Nagpore	...	1,148,458	1,378,920

Private and native gardens ...	...	3,000,000	4,500,000
Total	...	96,308,284	102,657,395

"All the districts have participated in the increase shown, Cachar and Sylhet the most largely. The outturn did not, however, reach the estimates made at the opening of the season; the falling short being from Assam, Cachar, and Sylhet. The quality of the crop was decidedly better than in the previous year; it was generally good from all districts, and especially so from Assam, which sent better tea than it has done for some years.

"The following figures, issued by the Committee of the Indian Tea Association, show the estimated outturn of the crop for 1890 under each district:—

		lbs.
Assam	...	48,295,344
Cachar and Sylhet ...	...	33,385,680
Darjeeling, Terai, and Dooars	...	22,817,270
Chittagong and Chota Nagpore	...	1,514,800
Dehra Dun, Kumaon, and Kangra	...	4,500,000
Private and native gardens	...	4,500,000
Total	...	115,013,094

"The estimated increase in outturn amounts to nearly 12½ millions of pounds, and that, taken with the larger shipments from Ceylon, will, I conclude, result in a still larger displacement of China tea.

"Any sudden rise in exchange of course for the moment proportionately lowers the rupee price here, but a steady higher rate of exchange, which is a possibility of the near future, would not, as a continuance, proportionately lower the rupee prices in India, but would proportionately raise the selling prices at home. Were it otherwise, a reversion to an exchange of 1*s.* 9*d* or 10*d.* would obviously have the effect of lowering Indian prices to a point which would ruin a large number of gardens. A steady higher exchange would only injure Indian tea to the extent of the diminution in consumption which the higher prices in England might naturally cause, and this is a much less formidable prospect.

"Russia and America are tea-consuming countries which have acquired a taste for China tea that appears very difficult to break down, though it is doubtful whether, in America at any rate, Indian tea has ever had a fair chance. It is stated that it has been steadily kept out of the market there by the tea merchants. The increase in the shipments to Canada is very possibly due to tea which was formerly sent to America for Canada having last year gone direct.

"The prospects in respect of non-tea-consuming countries appear to be even more depressing. The efforts to make Indian tea popular with the natives have not met with success. The Indian, like the Latin races, would appear to value tea only as a medicine, and not as a pleasant beverage for every-day use. Some little time back an Italian firm here, wishing to push tea in Italy, got it suggested to the Italian Government that it should be served out to the army in lieu of a portion of the wine allowance—that the nation in fact should be drilled into a taste for tea; but the Military authorities replied that the Italian soldiers looked upon tea as medicine, and would consider such a proceeding a great hardship. The natives of India seem to take the same view of it, and to find new markets is evidently even a harder matter than to displace China tea in established ones.

"The exports from Ceylon continue to expand rapidly, the following being the totals for the past five years:—

	lbs.		lbs.
1885	4,372,721	1887	13,834,057
1886	7,549,888	1888	23,820,471
			lbs.
	1889 ...		34,345,852

"Nearly the whole of this went to the United Kingdom. Australia, however, took 1,162,783 lbs., which bears about the same proportion to the total exports from Ceylon as our exports to Australia do to the total exports from India."

176. The following extracts from the Commissioners' General Administration Reports give an account of the tea industry in the Rajshahye, Chittagong, and Chota Nagpore Divisions during the past year:—

Rajshahye Division.—"The number of tea-gardens in Julpigoree and Darjeeling, the area under cultivation in acres, gross yield in pounds, and the average yield per acre from mature plants, are shown in the following table:—

"There was an increase of seven gardens in Julpigoree, while in Darjeeling nine gardens were amalgamated during the year. The increase in the gross yield was the natural result of further development of the tea-gardens."

Chittagong Division.—"Tea did fairly well. The first part of the season was very unfavourable owing to the short rainfall up to June, and the yield was poor; but when the rains fairly set in, the distribution was good, and most gardens not only made up their leeway, but did well. The Kurnafooli Association, which is much the largest concern in the district, for the first time paid a dividend."

Chota Nagpore Division.—"The past year was much more favourable for the growth of tea than its predecessor, but the industry can hardly be said to be flourishing. It is not, however, likely to die out so long as it has the advantage of cheap labour."

Imports.

177. The import trade showed a considerable increase of 1,26,272 maunds, or 11·24 per cent., on the returns on the previous year, and of 2,30,820 maunds, or 22·66 per cent., as compared with 1887-88. The traffic carried by the Eastern Bengal State Railway showed an increase of 16,213 maunds in comparison with 1888-89, but the supplies attracted to the river steamers showed an enormous advance of 1,13,712 maunds, or 14·62 per cent. The fluctuations in the consignments carried by other routes were very slight. The following statement shows the imports of tea, classified according to the provinces from which it was imported:—

The cause of the fluctuations which characterized the trade of the year is explained by the Collector of Customs, Calcutta, as follows:—

"The exports of tea show a further expansion, as compared with 1888-89, of about 6 million pounds, or 6¼ per cent. This increase is almost entirely in shipments to the United Kingdom, but it is satisfactory to notice that the exports to Australia are also advancing steadily, though slowly.

"The increase in exports to the United Kingdom compared with 1888-89 was about 6 per cent. The market was generally firm and prices fairly good, though at one time there was a sharp fall, partially, if not entirely, recovered later on. The China crop was a poor one in quality, and this threw the demand more upon Indian tea. The dock labourers' strike at one time interrupted business, but when it ceased the accumulations were easily disposed of.

"The duty on tea has been lowered for the current year by 2*d.* per pound, and now stands at 4*d.* per pound. This will no doubt increase consumption, but it is anticipated that it will chiefly benefit the low-priced China teas and not do much good to Indian tea. It would seem, however, that the low-priced Indian teas must also come in for their share in the benefit. The incidence of the old duty having been 100 per cent. on tea worth 6*d.* per pound, and 25 per cent. on tea worth 2*s.* per pound, the reduction brings it down to 66⅔ per cent. and 16⅔ per cent. respectively.

"The falling off in the imports and consumption of China as compared with Indian and Ceylon tea will be seen from the following figures of the imports and deliveries of each description:—

	1888.		1889.
	Imports.	Deliveries.	Imports.	Deliveries.
	lbs.	lbs.	lbs.	lbs.
Indian ...	92,887,000	87,211,000	96,693,000	98,954,000
Ceylon ...	20,326,000	18,552,000	31,191,000	30,166,000
China, &c. ...	109,285,000	115,592,000	93,208,000	95,066,000

"These figures show that Indian tea, taken by itself, has at last beaten China, both in imports and in deliveries, and it may be gathered from this that, whatever remedies may have been suggested in China in the direction of improving the quality of their tea, they have not yet come into force.

"The stocks of tea held in the United Kingdom show a decline at the close of 1889 as compared with the close of 1888, the figures being—

	1888.	1889.
	lbs.	lbs.
Indian ...	40,031,000	37,814,000
Ceylon ...	5,130,000	6,304,000
China, &c. ...	59,255,000	58,354,000
Total ...	104,416,000	102,472,000

"So that, besides the satisfactory reduction of stocks, the larger exports of the past year of Indian tea must all have gone into consumption.

"The increase to Australia amounts to over half a million pounds, or 18½ per cent., and it is the most hopeful of the new markets. The exports to America are disappointing: there has been a distinct falling of."

183. Quantity not exported before the close of the year. During the year under report the imports were 7,990 maunds below the exports. In 1888-89 the deficit of imports over exports was 55,599 maunds, and in 1887-88 39,779 maunds.

184. Average price of tea. This article has been valued in the returns appended to this report at the rate of Rs. 39-14 per maund, or 7 annas 9 pies per lb., which is the Calcutta brokers' valuation for the year, against Rs. 40-12 per maund, or 7 annas 11 pies per lb. in 1888-89, and Rs. 44-14 per maund, or 8 annas 9 pies per lb. in 1887-88.

186. Imports. As regards the imports, the result of the last year's traffic showed a falling off of 3·78 per cent. as compared with 1888-89, and of 8·25 per cent. as compared with 1887-88. Decreases are shown in the supplies carried by all the routes mentioned above, except the East Indian Railway, which showed a rise of 50·99 per cent. The total supply brought to Calcutta from each province is shown in the subjoined statement:—

Of the Bengal districts, the largest decrease as compared with the previous year was in the exports from Pubna (16,436 maunds), the 24-Pergunnahs (7,255 maunds), Rungpore (6,972 maunds), and Jessore (2,540 maunds); while the district of Nuddea, where tobacco is manufactured to a large extent at Chogdah, shows the largest increase, namely, 5,595 maunds. The Commissioner of the Rajshahye Division states that "tobacco is extensively cultivated in Rungpore and in the Western Dooars of Julpigoree. In Rungpore it was a fine crop, but prices ruled low." In the Chota Nagpore Division tobacco is said to have yielded well, the outturn averaging between 15 to 16 annas. The only noticeable fluctuations in the supplies received from Behar are an increase of 8,193 under Purneah, and a decrease of 3,666 maunds under Patna. The Commissioner of the Patna Division writes:—

"Tobacco is manufactured at Tajpore in Durbhunga, the outturn being 980 maunds this year, against 680 maunds in 1888-89. It is grown to a large extent in Hajipore, where it materially interferes with opium cultivation. No statistics of the trade can be given."

On this subject, the Collector of Customs, Calcutta, makes the following remarks:—

"The exports of unmanufactured tobacco were the lowest shown for many years in 1888-89, but they have fallen still lower during the past year, and are now of very little importance.

"The United Kingdom has taken a larger quantity than she has for two years, while the exports to Holland have fallen from over 1¾ million pounds to a little over ½ million pounds. There was also a small shipment to Belgium.

"More than half the value of the total shipments of tobacco belongs to the exports to Mauritius. This is principally tobacco for the use of the coolies employed there.

"As stated in previous years, the local consumption is too large to admit of large exports in the absence of some special cause."

Quantity not exported before the close of the year.

191. Last year the imports balanced the exports, with a surplus amounting to 1,80,945 maunds, against 1,71,125 maunds in 1888-89 and 1,77,461 maunds in 1887-88.

CHAPTER XI.

INLAND AND SEA-BORNE TRADE OF CHITTAGONG.

THE sea-borne trade of Chittagong is dealt with in the report of the Collector of Customs, Calcutta, on Trade and Navigation, and it is also noticed in this report for purposes of comparison with the inland trade.

In the following statement the total quantity of the trade carried to, and from, Chittagong by country boats during the past year is compared with the figures of the two previous years:—

	1887-88.	1888-89.	1889-90.
	Mds.	Mds.	Mds.
Imports ...	26,07,910	19,54,586	13,55,746
Exports ...	5,83,032	6,13,248	5,48,088
Total ...	31,90,942	25,67,834	19,03,834

2. The foregoing figures show a considerable falling off in the trade conveyed by this route, the total quantity registered being 6,64,000 maunds below the total of 1888-89 and 12,87,108 maunds below that of 1887-88. In the import trade, the items which contributed most largely to the decrease in the year's traffic as compared with the year preceding were cocoanuts (1,059,600 in number), rice (2,87,493 maunds), paddy (1,44,196 maunds), and firewood (1,81,065 maunds), and the only articles which showed an appreciable increase were coal and coke (75,229 maunds) and oils (7,706 maunds). In the export trade, the largest decrease was in bamboos (483,300 in number) and oils (18,573 maunds), and the largest increase in European piece-goods (Rs. 1,52,416 worth) and salt (48,205 maunds).

3. The total value of the above trade during the last three years is shown below, compared with the sea-borne trade of Chittagong in those years:—

		Imports.	Exports.	Total.
		Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Inland trade ...	1887-88 ...	63,82,372	33,99,884	97,82,256
	1888-89 ...	59,87,650	37,04,376	96,92,026
	1889-90 ...	49,80,639	36,70,715	86,51,354
Sea-borne trade ...	1887-88 ...	1,34,89,992	1,55,92,823	2,90,82,815
	1888-89 ...	1,22,94,665	1,42,88,916	2,65,83,581
	1889-90 ...	1,41,78,274	1,75,18,987	3,16,97,261

Last year there was a decrease of Rs. 10,40,672, or 10·73 per cent. in the aggregate value of the inland trade in comparison with 1888-89, while the figures of the sea-borne trade exhibited an increase of Rs. 51,13,680, or 19·23 per cent. In reporting upon the general condition of this latter trade, the Commissioner of the Chittagong Division writes:—

"The value of the total sea-borne trade of the port increased by the large sum of Rs. 51,13,005, the figures being Rs. 3,16,96,588 as against Rs. 2,65,83,583. Until now the figures of 1887-88 were the highest, but the past year shows an increase of Rs. 26,13,788 as compared with them. So recently as 1876-77 the whole value of the trade of the port was only Rs. 54,39,320, or little more than the increase of the past year, and in these 13 years the value of the trade of the port has sextupled itself, and this with no increased facilities. When the Assam Railway is in working the growth should be even faster, and it is difficult to understand why in the face of such an increase of trade there should be any hesitation in making the railway."

4. Lime and limestone.—The large increase noticed in the previous report was not maintained during 1889-90, the total quantity imported being 14,985 maunds, against 47,139 maunds and 20,163 maunds in 1888-89 and 1887-88 respectively. The supply shipped from Naraingunge aggregated 14,985 maunds, of which 12,150 maunds were carried by country boats and 2,835 maunds by coasting vessels, against 21,700 maunds and 25,439 maunds, respectively, in 1888-89. The Collector of Customs, Chittagong, attributes the decrease to larger importation in the preceding year.

5. Caoutchouc.—The amount of caoutchouc exported from Chittagong by coasting vessels showed a decrease of Rs. 9,430 and Rs. 16,434 in value over the figures of 1888-89 and 1887-88 respectively. There were smaller imports of this article from the Hill Tracts during the year, and the Collector of Customs, Chittagong, states that the decline was probably owing to the continued disturbed state of that place politically. The Commissioner of the division, however, remarks that "the trade in India-rubber has almost died out, and it is feared that the rubber-yielding trees are exhausted. I certainly saw none when beyond the frontier last year."

6. Cotton, raw.—The total exports from Chittagong remained practically the same as in the previous year. The quantity of raw cotton shipped for Naraingunge during the past three years was as follows:—

To Naraingunge from Chittagong.

Year.		By country boats.	By sea-going vessels.	Total.
		Mds.	Mds.	Mds.
1887-88	...	8,300	61,366	69,666
1888-89	...	1,720	30,827	32,547
1889-90	...	22,800	8,097	30,897

In addition to the quantity shown above, 3,064 maunds of raw cotton were sent to Calcutta by country boats, against 20,190 maunds in 1888-89 and 10,970 maunds in 1887-88.

7. Cotton twist and yarn.—There was a further large decrease of Rs. 42,273 in value in the imports by coasting vessels of this class of goods on the returns of 1888-89, and of Rs. 1,17,898 on those of 1887-88.

8. Cotton piece-goods, European.—The total value of European piece-goods imported by sea-going vessels was Rs. 10,35,026, showing a falling off of Rs. 3,84,697 on the trade of the previous year and of Rs. 5,32,105 as compared with 1887-88, the decline being "due to the effect of the bad harvest of 1888-89." The exports by country boats for consumption in the interior of the Chittagong district aggregated Rs. 5,74,208, against Rs. 4,09,406 and Rs. 4,47,148 in the above two years respectively.

9. Jute, raw.—There was a considerable recovery in the jute trade, the total quantity sent by coasting vessels from Naraingunge to Chittagong showing an advance of 4,85,486 maunds and 1,80,587 maunds on the returns of 1888-89 and 1887-88 respectively. The amount of jute shipped for Europe from this port during the past three years is detailed below:—

Exports to Foreign countries from Chittagong.

Last year raw jute was exported largely to the United Kingdom and New York. The Commissioner of the Chittagong Division makes the following remarks on this trade:—

"The export of jute is the highest on record, being 222,846 cwt. over last year and 89,222 cwt. higher than 1887-88, which was up to then the highest figure.

"The growth of the jute export trade is very remarkable. It began in 1877-78, when the exports amounted to 130,775 cwt. Five years after, in 1882-83, it amounted to 1,149,257 cwt., and now it has reached 1,505,703 cwt., and this large figure would speedily be doubled if a railway were consrtucted.

"I do not use the word 'doubled' unadvisedly, but deliberately and with the full conviction that I am not guilty of exaggeration."

10. Gunny-bags.—There was a large falling off in the trade in gunnies, the total imports into Chittagong by sea-going vessels amounting in value to Rs. 1,04,334, against Rs. 1,43,870 in 1888-89 and Rs. 1,74,555 in 1887-88.

11. Cocoanuts.—According to the country-boat returns, the number of cocoanuts imported into Chittagong was 1,817,800, showing a decrease of 1,059,600 as compared with 1888-89, but an increase of 66,800 as compared with 1887-88. The falling off is attributed to a smaller local demand.

12. Rice and paddy.—The amount of rice imported into Chittagong by country boats showed a heavy decline of 2,87,493 maunds and 10,31,360 maunds over the figures of 1888-89 and 1887-88 respectively. There was also a very large decrease under paddy, as will be seen from the subjoined table:—

	1887-88.	1888-89.	1889-90.
	Mds.	Mds.	Mds.
Rice	13,23,221	5,79,354	2,91,861
Paddy	7,45,148	3,61,031	2,16,838

The remarks of the Commissioner of the division regarding the falling off in the imports of rice into Chittagong are given below:—

"The decrease in the export of rice and paddy is very marked, and, with the exception of the year 1886-87, is lower than it has been any year since 1879-80. This decrease is entirely due to want of communications. There was a large surplus crop in the districts which supply the trade of this port, but there was also a demand for rice westwards, and traders would not risk their boats and cargoes coming to Chittagong when they could get remunerative prices in Dacca, Calcutta, and Moorshedabad. The rice therefore did not come here, though merchants were anxious to buy and willing to give good prices. Some were obliged even to import from Calcutta to complete contracts which they had entered into in consequence of the good crops which were expected. The supply of the merchants here depends entirely on the boat traders. The merchants do not buy in the mofussil, but purchase from boatmen, who collect the rice in the different hâts in Noakhally and Tipperah; so that if boatmen do not choose to come, merchants are left in the lurch. Only eight vessels left the port laden with rice, against 22 in the previous year."

13. Hides and skins.—The total value of the export trade carried by coasting vessels under this head showed a decrease of Rs. 14,059 on the total of 1888-89, and of Rs. 59,241 on that of 1887-88. The Collector attributes the falling off to late cattle epidemic.

14. Oils.—The total value of oils carried to Chittagong coastwise amounted to Rs. 83,584 during the past year, against Rs. 83,887 in the previous year and Rs. 78,038 in 1887-88. According to the boat traffic returns, the figures for the past year show an increase of 7,706 maunds and 36,929 maunds, on the total of 1888-89 and 1887-88 respectively, due to a larger quantity of kerosine oil imported from Calcutta.

15. Metals and manufactures of metals.—The aggregate quantity carried to Chittagong by country boats amounted to 42,600 maunds, against 37,440 maunds in 1888-89 and 22,910 maunds in 1887-88. The decrease under brass and copper was 790 maunds in comparison with the total of the year preceding, the chief sources of supply being Calcutta and Dacca. The increase under iron amounted to 2,797 maunds, and was due to the larger importation of building and bridge materials from Calcutta. Under "Other metals," which consisted of steel, lead, etc., imported from Calcutta for local use, the advance amounted to 3,153 maunds on the returns of the previous year. The coasting trade returns also show that Rs. 39,247 worth of metals were imported from Calcutta, against Rs. 46,150 in 1888-89 and Rs. 42,368 in 1887-88, the decrease being due to less local demand.

16. Salt.—The large increase noticed in 1888-89 under this head was not maintained during the year under report, the quantity imported into Chittagong from Foreign ports being 3,31,675 maunds, against 4,99,827 maunds in the year preceding and 3,48,060 maunds in 1887-88. The Commissioner of the Chittagong Division makes the following remarks regarding the salt trade:—

"The decrease in the importation of salt is due to the very large stock which was in hand at the beginning of the year, owing to which importation only began late in the year. It is noteworthy that the great bulk of the salt imported this year came in steamers, only one cargo having arrived by sailing ship. The increased facilities which the new rules afford for shipment of salt under bond to Naraingunge have resulted in a large increase in this trade, the quantity exported being 1,09,000 maunds, against 40,700 in the previous year and 7,500 in the year before."

The total exports by country boats amounted to 2,61,131 maunds during the year, against 2,12,926 maunds and 2,71,240 maunds in 1888-89 and 1887-88, respectively, and were distributed thus—

	1887-88.	1888-89.	1889-90.
	Mds.	Mds.	Mds.
To Chittagong ...	1,35,624	1,86,082	79,685

„ Other districts ...	3,520	3,320	2,500
Total ...	2,71,240	2,12,926	2,61,131

Last year the increase was mainly due to larger clearances for Naraingunge, which also received largely by coasting vessels, the total imports amounting to 1,41,210 maunds, against 1,14,679 maunds in 1888-89 and 1,21,657 maunds in 1887-88. This latter increase was caused by larger clearances of non-duty paid salt for Naraingunge, which proved convenient to salt dealers.

17. Mustard and rape seed.—The total quantity of mustard and rape seed imported into Chittagong by country boats amounted to 33,605 maunds during the past year, against 31,040 maunds in 1888-89 and 11,652 maunds in 1887-88. The increase was due to larger importation from Naraingunge, which is the chief source of supply.

18. Spices.—The imports of betelnuts into Chittagong by country boats fell off by 8,485 maunds in comparison with 1888-89, and by 3,945 maunds as compared with 1887-88, the decrease being due to smaller quantity shipped from Noakahlly. Under the head "spices, all other kinds," the figures showed an advance of 1,130 maunds on the total of 1888-89, but a decrease of 370 maunds on that of 1887-88. The increase during the past year was due to more chillies imported from the interior of the Chittagong district, chiefly for exportation to Naraingunge and Chittagong. As regards the coasting trade, the total value of the imports showed a rise of Rs. 5,147 on the returns of the previous year, chiefly in curry spices from Calcutta and Cochin, the increase being attributed to smaller importation in the previous year. Under exports, however, there was a heavy falling off, amounting to Rs. 36,546 in value, and the Collector remarks that the decrease occurred in the exports of chillies, the price of which ruled high in the Chittagong market.

19. Sugar.—There was very little change in the import sugar trade of Chittagong carried by country boats during the past year, as the following figures will show:—

	1887-88.	1888-89.	1889-90.
	Mds.	Mds.	Mds.
Sugar, refined ...	3,700	8,030	6,500
„ unrefined ...	33,925	36,640	35,043

Refined sugar was chiefly imported from Calcutta, Naraingunge, and Jessore for local consumption. Unrefined sugar came partly from the interior of the Chittagong district, and partly from Jessore and Burrisal. The imports by coasting vessels from Naraingunge and Calcutta during the past year showed a considerable increase, the total value amounting to Rs. 88,582, against Rs. 68,208 in 1888-89 and Rs. 73,086 in 1887-88. The increase was chiefly due to greater demand in the Chittagong Hill Tracts.

20. Tea (Indian).—Last year the supply of tea sent to Calcutta from Chittagong by coasting vessels was 1,163,315 lbs., and to other Indian ports 9,234 lbs., altogether 1,172,549 lbs., against 1,222,766 lbs. in 1888-89 and

1,116,116 lbs. in 1887-88, the decline being due to a short crop last year. The value of the trade was Rs. 5,99,811, against Rs. 6,28,244 in 1888-89 and Rs. 5,97,871 in 1887-88. The quantity sent to foreign ports was 19,725 lbs., against 8,988 lbs. in 1888-89 and 5,165 lbs. in 1887-88. The destination of the past year's supply was to the United Kingdom, Mauritius, Tasmania, and Victoria. The Collector of Chittagong writes that the shipments to the two last places are experimental.

21. Tobacco.—The imports of tobacco into Chittagong from Naraingunge showed a falling off of 5,069 maunds, but the figures were in excess of those of 1887-88, as shown below:—

	By country boats.	By sea-going vessels.	Total.
	Mds.	Mds.	Mds.
1887-88	6,300	7,379	13,679
1888-89	12,050	9,159	21,209
1889-90	16,140	...	16,140

The quantity of tobacco shipped for foreign ports aggregated 27,604 lbs., against 15,317 lbs. in 1888-89 and 26,573 lbs. in 1887-88. The increase was due to larger shipments for Maldives during the year under report.

2. There was a satisfactory revival in the trade during the past year, the increase in the aggregate value being 9·28 per cent. as compared with 1888-89, but the figures are still 10·03 per cent. below those of 1887-88. The import trade showed a rise of 6·65 per cent. on the returns of the year preceding, and the export trade of 11·90 per cent. The gross trade of Balasore showed an advance of 5·57 per cent. under imports, but a corresponding decrease of 5·20 per cent. under exports, which latter fluctuation the Collector of Balasore ascribes partly to the completion of the coast canal work, and partly to the poverty of the district caused by failure of crops. The Collector of Customs, Calcutta, explains the fluctuations in detail in the following extract from his report:—

"As mentioned in previous reports, Balasore has no foreign import trade; the item appearing under the year 1888-89 being due to special causes, which were explained in the report for that year. With a trifling exception, the exports of Indian produce to foreign countries are confined entirely to rice, which increased in value during the past year by over 3 lakhs, the figures being, if we except 1887-88, the highest in value since the year 1879-80. This increase during the past year, following a very bad harvest in the previous one, is attributed to a very strong demand from the Mauritius, to which port rice is chiefly exported.

"In its coasting trade Balasore has declined in total value during the past year from 95⅓ to 93 lakhs, or 2·4 per cent. Imports have, however, increased in value—those of Indian produce by nearly ¼ lakh and of foreign merchandise by 2½ lakhs. The total increase in imports being over 3 lakhs in value, or 5·6 per cent. The decrease has been in exports, the total value of which has declined by 5⅓ lakhs, or 12·8 per cent.; treasure exports have declined in value by nearly 3 lakhs, or 27 per cent.; exports of Indian produce by nearly 1⅔ lakhs, or 5·5 per cent.; and in exports of foreign merchandise the value has decreased from nearly 1 lakh to a little over ½ lakh."

The trade of the Cuttack and Pooree districts shows a very marked improvement. The advance in the case of the former is 299·48 per cent. under imports and 72·51 per cent. under exports, and in that of the latter

261·40 per cent. under exports, its import trade being very insignificant. The Commissioner of the Orissa Division makes the following remarks concerning the fluctuations in the trade of these two districts:—

"In 1888-89 the coasting trade in rice was very brisk, while there was considerable diminution in the export of grain to foreign ports. The price of grain being high everywhere in the division, the merchants did not venture to make shipments to foreign ports, but confined their exports to home ports. In 1889-90, on the contrary, the price of rice fell in Cuttack and Pooree and also in the coast ports but the rates in Balasore remained high. This caused a considerable decrease in the coasting rice trade, while the great demand for rice in Mauritius gave an unusual impetus to the foreign trade.

"Cuttack shows an increase in exports to both foreign and home ports, and this is due chiefly to the development of rice trade owing to the fall in the price of grain. The Collector, however, notes that the coast canal communication draws off a still further portion of the transactions of the False Point port in addition to the bulk of the trade already carried off by the Chandbally port in the district of Balasore. It will thus be seen that the increase noticed has been obtained in spite of the operation of the causes which contributed to the decline of the trade in the two preceding years.

"In Pooree also prices ruled low, and the increase in the trade is mainly due to the increased shipments of rice to Colombo and to Bombay and Madras ports, where there was great demand for grain."

The trade with Calcutta showed a rise of 5·82 per cent. under imports, but a falling off of 5·78 per cent. under exports in comparison with the previous year, while there was a decrease of 65·26 per cent. in the trade with other Indian ports under the former head, and an increase of 10·01 per cent. under the latter. As regards the trade with foreign ports, the figures showed a rise of 572·60 per cent. under imports, and of 80·52 per cent. under exports on the returns of 1888-89.

5. Cotton twist and yarn.—There was no change in the quantities of European twist and yarn imported during the past year as compared with 1888-89, but the figures were 20·14 per cent. in excess of the trade of 1887-88. In the case of Indian twist and yarn, however, the supplies showed an increase of 73·41 per cent. on the returns of 1888-89, and a decrease of 34·79 per cent. on those of 1887-88. European twist and yarn sent to Balasore from Calcutta was 45,212 maunds, against 45,708 maunds in 1888-89 and 37,632 maunds in 1887-88.

6. Cotton piece-goods.—The total value of European piece-goods imported into Orissa showed a decrease of Rs. 2,96,107 or 25·69 per cent. on the figures of 1888-89, and of Rs. 7,98,953 or 48·26 per cent. on those of 1887-88. On the other hand, traffic in Indian piece-goods rose from Rs. 1,950 in 1888-89 to Rs. 9,841 in 1889-90, but this latter figure was Rs. 11,847 below that of 1887-88. The following extract is taken from the report of the Customs officer of Chandbally regarding the trade in cotton goods of that port, and of Alba in Balasore:—

"As in the previous year, the major portion of these goods was of English manufacture, but the difference in quantity between them and the country goods was less than in that year, the people looking more to durability and comparative cheapness than to quality. Of twist imported, five-sixths were of country manufacture, being drawn principally from the Bowreah and Goosery Cotton Mills in the vicinity of Calcutta, and ranged from No. 10 to No. 20. The demand for country twist increased during the year, and that for the foreign twist decreased, owing to the people showing a preference for coarse and cheap cloth. The fact that the weavers of the country prefer to work with coarse twist may also account in some measure for these large importations.

"As in the previous year, the great bulk of the piece-goods and twist imported was sold in the Cuttack district. Berhampur in Ganjam and Bhadrack in Balasore also absorbed a good portion of these imports, a large number of hand-looms being worked in both places. Of the balance, the Hill States took nine-tenths, and one-tenth remained for disposal in Chandbali itself."

7. Gunnies.—The importation of gunnies showed an increase of 165,717 bags in comparison with the year preceding, but a decrease of 261,826 bags as compared with 1887-88. The increase is the direct result of the expansion of the rice trade during the year.

8. Metals.—The trade in metals showed an advance of 7,604 maunds on the returns of 1888-89, but the past year's figures were still 1,391 maunds below those of 1887-88.

9. Oils.—The total importation of oils showed a considerable increase of 13,217 maunds on the trade of 1888-89, and of 3,707 maunds on that of 1887-88, due to imports of kerosine oil from America: during the two previous years the imports from that country had ceased.

10. Ghee.—The fluctuations under this head are not important, the condition of the trade being stationary.

11. Spices and betelnuts.—A very large supply of spices was imported into Orissa during the past year, the total quantity amounting to 53,334 maunds, against 15,947 maunds and 14,733 maunds in the two years 1888-89 and 1887-88 respectively. There was, however, a contraction in the imports of betelnuts, which showed a decrease of 10,005 maunds on the returns of 1888-89, and of 3,102 maunds on those of 1887-88.

12. Salt.—Last year the increase in the imports of salt amounted to 6·87 per cent. as compared with 1888-89, and to 25·80 per cent. on the trade of 1887-88. This increase is attributed to the stopping of the manufacture of "punga" salt, which led to a greater consumption of Liverpool salt.

13. Treasure.—There has been little or no improvement under this head during the past three years.

14. The quantities and values of the important articles exported from Orissa during the past three years are given in the subjoined table:—

According to the foregoing figures, the exports of rice were 17·48 per cent. in excess of the trade of 1888-89, and 10·85 per cent. below that of 1887-88. The exports of paddy also exhibited a large advance of 51·62 per cent.

on the returns of 1888-89, but they were less than half those of 1887-88. The largest increase is observable in the exports of rice from the districts of Cuttack, which made heavier shipments during the past year, chiefly to Bombay and Cochin. The principal ports to which rice was largely shipped from Pooree were Cochin, Madras, and Bombay. As has already been explained above, prices in both these districts were low, which accounts for the increase in exports as compared with the previous year when the rice crop had failed. The case of Balasore, however, was different. In its trade with foreign ports, Balasore, in response to a very strong demand, exported largely to Mauritius, but as regards the coasting trade it showed a considerable decline, the cause being attributed by the Collector of Customs, Calcutta, to "the high prices ruling locally, the prices being higher than the selling rates in the home ports."

The following statement shows the principal ports to which rice and paddy were exported from Orissa during the past three years:—

16. Hides.—The trade under this head showed a considerable increase of 92,525 pieces and 34,175 pieces as compared with 1888-89 and 1887-88 respectively. The increase is attributed to low prices during 1889-90, which stimulated exports.

17. Lac.—The exports of lac showed a slight increase of 982 maunds as compared with 1888-89, but when compared with 1887-88 the past year's figures exhibited a decrease of 2,406 maunds, or 22·64 per cent.

18. Oilseeds.—There has been a great improvement in the exports of oilseeds from Orissa, as will be seen from the figures given below:—

		1887-88.	1888-89.	1889-90.
		Mds	Mds.	Mds.
Linseed	..	152	294	5,133

Other oilseeds	...	8,107	1,589	4,623
		17,535	23,899	65,011

Owing to an abundant crop and low prices the exports of til seed from Balasore increased considerably during the past year.

19. Timber.—The exports of timber rose from 10,282 maunds in 1887-88 and 18,099 maunds in 1888-89 to 23,360 maunds in the year under report. The Collector of Customs, Calcutta, observes that wooden sleepers have declined in value from 1 lakh to about $\frac{1}{3}$ lakh, in consequence of the high prices of timber prevailing in the Balasore district during the past year.

20. Silver.—The value of specie exported was Rs. 8,04,488, showing a decrease of Rs. 1,99,088 on the trade of 1888-89 and of Rs. 2,95,116 on that of 1887-88.
